Learning Theory in the Practice of Management Development Sara Grant,Aharon Kfir,Stephen A. Stumpf,Mary Anne Watson,1998-05-21 The workplace is the ideal environment for tying together management theory and practice and yet classes in many regular management development programs are conducted away from the work site and class sizes are so large that individual instruction is difficult to achieve In this book the authors seek effective ways to merge theory with workplace practice and advocate the modular preceptor method whereby participants work together in dyads and triads with a preceptor acting as advisor and instructor Unlike traditional management development programs which do not usually lead to behavior changes the modular preceptor model has behavior change as the basic aim Participants can remain at work while experiencing individualized learning developing problem solving skills and acquiring new knowledge which can be immediately applied to work situations Various ways of learning such as passive lecture case study discussion and experiential role playing games sensitivity training are examined No single mode of learning can be comprehensive and adequate for all situations The authors contend however that experiential learning is most effective for increasing the will and competence to learn and for using what is learned to change manager behavior The purpose of the modular preceptor approach is not to present answers to specific managerial or organizational problems but to help the participant acquire new problem definition and problem solving skills and the confidence to apply them on the job This book also analyzes the contribution of the behavioral sciences to the philosophies and techniques behind management instruction and examines the role of the university in management development and the future direction of MBA programs For anyone concerned with meaningful and effective management development this book is an invaluable resource The Routledge Companion to International Management Education Denise Tsang, Hamid H. Kazeroony, Guy Ellis, 2013-06-19 Crises and scandals in the world of international management have brought a new spotlight onto how the subject is taught studied and understood There has been a plethora of literature on international management but a lack of focus on how international management education IME can be shaped to respond to existing and future global business challenges The Routledge Companion to International Management Education gathers together contributors from academia industry and university administration involved in IME to introduce the domain of IME describe the emerging state in new geographical areas discuss the major issues and debates revolving around IME explore the linkage of technology and international management and shed light on the future of IME The diverse background of the contributors provides a global perspective that challenges the dominant Anglo American view with up to date specific insights originating from their indigenous view points which has often been neglected and inadequately covered The volume answers important questions such as Do we need a vision in IME What is the current state of IME How has IME grown in emerging market segments What roles does technology play in its recent development The volume provides thought provoking reading for educators administrators policy makers human resources professionals and researchers It will also give future international management students a glimpse of IME from a global inside out perspective Globalizing Management Education Parameswar Nayak, Ram Kumar Mishra, 2011-04-02 This book is a compendium of 32 papers selected through double blind review out of the papers presented for the international conference on Globalizing Management Education Issues and Challenges for Industry and Academia jointly organized by I T S Institute of Management Greater Noida India and Institute of Public Enterprise Hyderabad India at India Habitat Centre New Delhi on February 5 6 2011 While some papers are based on empirical studies others are conceptual and case based The papers focus mainly on five broad thematic areas i understanding global management education ii issues and challenges for management education iii role of regulators in management education iv role of private and government institutions in management education and v role of industry in management education The book conveys a clear message that management education has to go the global way in order to grow and survive in the globalized world It must integrate itself with global culture global polity and global socio economic dynamics in order to face the challenges posed by globalization It suggests many strategic means such as development of global faculty integrative curricula and pedagogy collaborative research industry academia partnership for making management education socially relevant and globally acceptable      Use of the Case Method in Chinese Mba Programs James E. Hatch, Fengli Mu, 2015-05-15 A case is a description of an actual business situation In the classroom students are expected to identify the problem generate alternative solutions evaluate the alternatives and make a decision that can be reasonably implemented The case method which involves active participation by students in the classroom process is particularly valuable in providing students with the skills and knowledge needed to become a superior practicing manager The case method of teaching has been in use in western business schools and management training programs for almost 100 years and has been widely adopted But the case method has only been introduced in China relatively recently In this ground breaking study Jim Hatch and Fengli Mu conducted over 100 interviews with administrators professors and students at Chinas top business schools focusing on the opportunities and challenges that this method presents This book will be valuable to a wide variety of audiences including instructors who employ the case method in university and executive development programs managers of human resource development departments and multinational companies seeking insights into working with Chinese managers      Improving Innovation Through Better Management The Expert Panel on Innovation Management Education and Training, 2018-10-18 Improving Innovation Through Better Management explores ways to provide innovation management training to a large diverse population of students throughout their careers The report identifies the competencies that are likely to enhance innovation management describes what s currently known about where and how to effectively teach these competencies and outlines the implications for academic institutions industry and government      The Best 301 Business Schools Princeton Review, Nedda Gilbert, 2009-10 Provides a detailed overview of the best business schools across North America including information on each school s academic program competitiveness financial aid admissions requirements and social scenes      Proceedings of the 2009 Academy of Marketing Science (AMS) Annual Conference Leroy Robinson, Jr., 2014-10-23 Founded in 1971 the Academy of Marketing Science is an international organization dedicated to promoting timely explorations of phenomena related to the science of marketing in theory research and practice Among its services to members and the community at large the Academy offers conferences congresses and symposia that attract delegates from around the world Presentations from these events are published in this Proceedings series which offers a comprehensive archive of volumes reflecting the evolution of the field Volumes deliver cutting edge research and insights complimenting the Academy s flagship journals the Journal of the Academy of Marketing Science JAMS and AMS Review Volumes are edited by leading scholars and practitioners across a wide range of subject areas in marketing science This volume includes the full proceedings from the 2009 Academy of Marketing Science AMS Annual Conference held in Baltimore Maryland      Frontiers of Distance Learning in Business Education Hooman Estelami, 2014-08-26 Distance education and online learning are interchangeable terms used to describe the delivery of educational content whereby the student and the instructor are separated by geography time or both Within the domain of business education approximately one third of all business schools offer online business programs and many more are expected to follow in this direction Considerable attention is therefore being given by business educators to the refinement of pedagogical approaches in their distance learning offerings The growth in attention is reflected in the rising number of academic papers related to distance learning methods which appear in leading business journals as well as the growing number of workshops research seminars and online forums on the topic The objective of this book is to consolidate state of the art knowledge on distance learning methods best practices and research findings as they relate to online business education This exposure would help inform business faculty administrators and course designers on how to optimize distance courses in the various sub disciplines of business to achieve the most beneficial results for business students
