Manual for Activities Directed at Underwater Cultural Heritage Thijs J. Maarleveld, Ulrike Guérin, Barbara Egger, 2013 El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2005, 2005 Mathematics Education and Language Diversity Richard Barwell, Philip Clarkson, Anjum Halai, Mercy Kazima, Judit Moschkovich, Núria Planas, Mamokgethi Setati-Phakeng, Paola Valero, Martha Villavicencio Ubillús, 2015-11-25 THIS BOOK IS AVAILABLE AS OPEN ACCESS BOOK ON SPRINGERLINK This book examines multiple facets of language diversity and mathematics education It features renowned authors from around the world and explores the learning and teaching of mathematics in contexts that include multilingual classrooms indigenous education teacher education blind and deaf learners new media and tertiary education Each chapter draws on research from two or more countries to illustrate important research findings theoretical developments and practical strategies This open access book examines multiple facets of language diversity The Paleoanthropology and Archaeology of Big-Game Hunting John D. Speth, 2010-09-17 Since its inception paleoanthropology has been closely wedded to the idea that big game hunting by our hominin ancestors arose first and foremost as a means for acquiring energy and vital nutrients This assumption has rarely been questioned and seems intuitively obvious meat is a nutrient rich food with the ideal array of amino acids and big animals provide meat in large convenient packages Through new research the author of this volume provides a strong argument that the primary goals of big game hunting were actually social and political increasing hunter's prestige and standing and that the nutritional component was just an added bonus Through a comprehensive interdisciplinary research approach the author examines the historical and current perceptions of protein as an important nutrient source the biological impact of a high protein diet and the evidence of this in the archaeological record and provides a compelling reexamination of this long held conclusion This volume will be of interest to researchers in Archaeology Evolutionary Biology and Paleoanthropology particularly those studying diet and nutrition

Early Literacy Constance Kamii, Maryann Murphy Manning, Gary L. Manning, 1991 The purpose of this book is to consider early literacy education and whole language from the perspective of constructivist theory which states that human beings acquire knowledge by building it from the inside in interaction with the environment and research More specifically the book intends to show that the whole language movement is part of a larger revolution in thinking about learning and teaching and to enable whole language advocates to explain evaluate and improve upon their beliefs and practices on the basis of a scientific explanatory theory about how children acquire knowledge The first four chapters of the book describe constructivism and the research supporting it while the rest of the book deals with classroom practices and related issues such as assessment The book s nine chapters and their authors are as follows 1 What is Constructivism Constance Kamii 2 Literacy Acquisition and the Representation of Language Emilia Ferreiro 3 Principles of Spelling Found in the First Two Grades Francois Siegrist and Hermina Sinclair 4 Spelling in Kindergarten A Constructivist Analysis Comparing Spanish Speaking and English Speaking Children Constance Kamii and others 5 Learning to Read in New Zealand Brian Cutting and Jerry L Milligan 6 Shared Book Experience Teaching Reading Using Favorite Books Don Holdaway 7 Modeled Writing Reflections on the Constructive Process Maryann Manning and Gary Manning 8 Reading to Know Barbara A Lewis and Roberta Long and 9 An Approach to Assessment in Early Literacy Brenda S Engel Six pages of chapter notes and references and 80 general references are attached SR

De los recursos naturales a la economía del conocimiento David M. De Ferranti, 2002 The study questions whether after a decade of remarkable progress in trade reform Latin America and the Caribbean really integrates into the global market offering a promising rapid growth and good jobs for its workers For despite the incidence of the loosely called knowledge economy the concern prevails that most countries rich natural resources still are the determining factor for exports Policy recommendations include fostering openness to trade market access and foreign direct investment flows in addition to building human capital institutions and public infrastructure without disregarding the natural advantages To this end policymakers should aim at developing educational systems that provide quality education focused on lifelong learning and training activities to build human capital Emphasis should follow on research and development R D incentives and innovations systems arguing that countries should experiment with taxation incentives and subsidies to promote both private and public investments in R D dependent on the institutional capacity of governments to enforce tax laws and monitor the quality of investments Moreover evidence in this report suggests that information and communications technology ICT can reduce coordination costs enabling an effective industrialization and market access Privatization in Latin America Manuel Sánchez, 1993 Inter and Intra Government Arrangements for Productivity Arie Halachmi, Peter B. Boorsma, 1998 Papers originally presented at a 1995 conference concentrate on academic thinking about the applicability of PA concepts to administrative theory building Emphasizing that Principal Agent PA theory is a powerful conceptual framework because of the economic focus on transactions between principals and agents they discuss issues such as information asymmetry across government constituents political diplomatic considerations and the narrow focus of PA problems Attention is also given to citizen
