These observations lead to the discovery and understanding of the current social structures of human existence and the investigation and vision of the possible Future of Humanity. One can find the most important issues and their possible solutions for Humanity in this publication from the investigation of the existence of higher powers and human value systems through the concept and blueprint for a future advanced society implementing the Fair Share Distribution System. This book is a very serious philosophy book defining Philosophy as the Science of the Sciences with the intention to place all previously existing Philosophies in the right place and order in history and to create The Foundation of Humanity. This book can be as much fun to read for anyone with a variety of interest areas as for the advanced readers of philosophy.
