No Strings Attached Maris Soule, 1993-09 South St. Paul Lois A. Glewwe, 2015-12-07 Incorporated in 1887 South St Paul grew rapidly as the blue collar counterpart to the bright lights and sophistication of its cosmopolitan neighbors Minneapolis and St Paul Its prosperous stockyards and slaughterhouses ranked the city among America s largest meatpacking centers The proud city fell on hard economic times in the second half of the twentieth century Broad swaths of empty buildings were razed as an enticement to promised redevelopment programs that never happened In 1990 South St Paul began to chart out its own successful path to renewal with a pristine riverfront park a trail system and a business park where the stockyards once stood Author and historian Lois A Glewwe brings the story of the city s revival to life in this history of a remarkable community Spontaneous Shrines and the Public Memorialization of Death J. Santino, 2016-04-30 This is an edited volume of approximately 17 essays that deal with various types of spontaneous shrines and other related public memorializations of death The articles address events such as New York after 9 11 roadside crosses and the use of Day of the Dead altars to bring attention to deceased undocumented immigrants Land of Hope Wilfred M. McClay, 2020-09-22 A wonderfully written sweeping narrative history of the United States that will help Americans discover the land they call home High School and College Age Students The Original Land of Hope Narrative in E book Edition We have a glut of text and trade books on American history But what we don t have is a compact inexpensive authoritative and compulsively readable book that will offer to intelligent young Americans a coherent persuasive and inspiring narrative of their own country Such an account will shape and deepen their sense of the land they inhabit and by making them understand that land s roots will equip them for the privileges and responsibilities of citizenship in American society and provide them with a vivid and enduring sense of membership in one of the greatest enterprises in human history the exciting perilous and immensely consequential story of their own country The existing texts simply fail to tell that story with energy and conviction They are more likely to reflect the skeptical outlook of specialized professional academic historians an outlook that supports a fragmented and fractured view of modern American society and that fails to convey to young people the greater arc of that history Or they reflect the outlook of radical critics of American society who seek to debunk the standard American narrative and has an enormous and largely negative effect upon the teaching of American history in American high schools and colleges This state of affairs cannot continue for long without producing serious consequences A great nation needs and deserves a great and coherent narrative as an expression of its own self understanding and it needs to convey that narrative to its young effectively It perhaps goes without saying that such a narrative cannot be a fairy tale or a whitewash of the past it will not be convincing if it is not truthful But there is no necessary contradiction between an honest account and an inspiring one This account seeks to provide both Mammographies Mary K. Shadows Bright as Glass Amy Ellis Nutt,2011-04-05 On a sunny fall afternoon in 1988 Jon Sarkin was playing golf when without a whisper of warning his life changed forever As he bent down to pick up his golf ball something strange and massive happened inside his head part of his brain seemed to unhinge to split apart and float away For an utterly inexplicable reason a tiny blood vessel thin as a thread deep inside the folds of his gray matter had suddenly shifted ever so slightly rubbing up against his acoustic nerve Any noise now caused him excruciating pain After months of seeking treatment to no avail in desperation Sarkin resorted to radical deep brain surgery which seemed to go well until during recovery his brain began to bleed and he suffered a major stroke When he awoke he was a different man Before the stroke he was a calm disciplined chiropractor a happily married husband and father of a newborn son Now he was transformed into a volatile and wildly exuberant obsessive seized by a manic desire to create art devoting virtually all his waking hours to furiously drawing painting and writing poems and letters to himself strangely detached from his wife and child and unable to return to his normal working life His sense of self had been shattered his intellect intact but his way of being drastically altered His art became a relentless quest for the right words and pictures to unlock the secrets of how to live this strange new life And what was even stranger was that he remembered his former self In a beautifully crafted narrative award winning journalist and Pulitzer Prize finalist Amy Ellis Nutt interweaves Sarkin's remarkable story with a fascinating tour of the history of and latest findings in neuroscience and evolution that illuminate how the brain produces from its web of billions of neurons and chaos of liquid electrical pulses the richness of human experience that makes us who we are Nutt brings vividly to life pivotal moments of discovery in neuroscience from the shocking rebirth of a young girl hanged in 1650 to the first autopsy of an autistic savant's brain and the extraordinary true stories of people whose personalities and cognitive abilities were dramatically altered by brain trauma often in shocking ways Probing recent revelations about the workings of creativity in the brain and the role of art in the evolution of human intelligence she reveals how Jon Sarkin's obsessive need to create mirrors the earliest function of art in the brain Introducing major findings about how our sense of self transcends the bounds of our own bodies she explores how it is that the brain generates an individual self and how if damage to our brains can so alter who we are we can nonetheless be said to have a soul For Jon Sarkin with his personality and sense of self permanently altered making art became his bridge back to life a means of reassembling from the shards of his former self a new man who could rejoin his family and fashion a viable life He is now an acclaimed artist who exhibits at some of the country's most prestigious venues as well as a devoted husband to his wife Kim and father to their three children At once wrenching and inspiring this is a story of the remarkable human capacity to overcome the most daunting obstacles and of the extraordinary workings of the human mind Senate Joint Resolutions Ohio.
