Queensland House:

The Queensland House Ian Evans, 2000 Broad verandahs tall stumps lattice and ornate sheetmetal roof ventilators combine to give the Queensland house its own special qualities and visual character Heritage writer Ian Evans has unravelled a complex story and traced the origins of some fascinating aspects of the traditional houses of Queensland

Contemporary Architects Muriel Emanuel, 2016-01-23 150 Geoffrey London, Philip Goad, Conrad Hamann, 2017 Architect designed houses of the period 1950-65 proposed an innovative response to the social economic and climatic conditions of post war Australia At the same time they embraced the aesthetic technological and egalitarian aspirations of modern architecture An Unfinished Experiment in Living traces the emergence of this architectural phenomenon in Australia documenting the full range of its expression from the postwar optimism of the early 1950s through to the affluence of the 1960s It is a catalogue of the most significant houses of the period It includes comprehensive plans and period photographs of 150 houses from around Australia dating from a time when the great Australian dream was the single family house This book puts forward new research founded on the premise that the most significant houses of the 1950s and 60s represent an unfinished and undervalued experiment in modern living Issues such as the open plan the changing nature of the family the embrace of advances in technology the use of the courtyard and the orientation of the house to capture sun and privacy were valuable and critical lessons This is a compelling reminder of their continuing relevance Subject Architecture Design

Australian History Sociology Housing and Home Unbound Nicole Cook, Aidan Davison, Louise Crabtree, 2016-05-05 Housing and Home Unbound pioneers understandings of housing and home as a meeting ground in which intensive practices materials and meanings tangle with extensive economic environmental and political worlds Cutting across disciplines the book opens up the conceptual and empirical study of housing and home by exploring the coproduction of the concrete and the abstract the intimate and the institutional the experiential and the collective Exploring diverse examples in Australia and New Zealand contributors address the interleaving of money and materials in the digital commodity of real estate the neoliberal invention of housing as a liquid asset and source of welfare provision and the bundling of car and home in housing markets The more than human relations of housing and home are articulated through the role of suburban nature in the making of Australian modernity the marketing of nature in waterfront urban renewal the role of domestic territory in subversive social movements such as Seasteading and Tiny Houses and the search for home comfort through low cost energy efficiency practices The transformative politics of housing and home are explored through the decolonizing of housing tenure the shaping of housing policy by urban social movements the lived importance of marginal spaces in Indigenous and other housing and the affective lessons of the ruin Beginning with the diverse elements gathered together in housing and home the text opens up the complex realities and possibilities of human dwelling The Directory of Museums & Living Displays

John Dalton Elizabeth Musgrave, 2023-08-10 This book addresses the work of architect John Dalton 1927-2007 an important voice in mid-century modernism in Australia whose work despite his being exhibited and published internationally and also winning several awards for his designs is woefully little known. Published as part of the Bloomsbury Studies in Modern Architecture series which brings to light the work of significant yet overlooked modernist architects, the book draws on previously unpublished archival documents including Dalton's drawings and paintings, transcripts of lectures, letters, and articles, plans, and photographic images of built works to characterize the architect not only as a very talented designer but also as a pioneer of environmentalist thinking in Australia. The book reveals how Dalton's architectural preoccupations parallel a transition in mid-century modern architecture globally from functional efficiency and material rationalism to a concern with being in dialogue with the environment, confirming a wider environmental turn that involved the integration of environmental with cultural considerations through relational thinking and which preceded and transcends the discipline's fascination with theoretical paradigms such as Critical Regionalism. John Dalton: Subtropical Modernism and the Turn to Environment in Australian Architecture is thus not only an important contribution to the existing scholarship on 20th-century modernism but also to the current renewed interest in environmental design across the globe.

Design and the Vernacular Paul Memmott, John Ting, Tim O'Rourke, Marcel Vellinga, 2023-11-16 Design and the Vernacular explores the intersection between vernacular architecture, local cultures, and modernity and globalization, focussing on the vast and diverse global region of Australasia and Oceania. The relevance and role of vernacular architecture in contemporary urban planning and architectural design are examined in the context of rapid political, economic, technological, social, and environmental changes, including globalization, exchanges of people, finance, material culture, and digital technologies. Sixteen chapters by architects, designers, and theorists, including Indigenous writers, explore key questions about the agency of vernacular architecture in shaping contemporary building and design practice. These questions include: How have Indigenous building traditions shaped modern building practices? What can the study of vernacular architecture contribute to debates about sustainable development? And how has vernacular architecture been used to argue for postcolonial modernisation and nation building, and what has been the effect on heritage and conservation? Such questions provide valuable case studies and lessons for architecture in other global regions and challenge assumptions about vernacular architecture being anachronistic and static, instead demonstrating how it can shape contemporary architecture, nation building, and cultural identities.

On Discomfort David Ellison, Andrew Leach, 2016-10-14 Examining discomfort's physical, emotional, conceptual, psychological, and aesthetic dimensions, the contributors to this volume offer an alternate cultural approach to the study of architecture and the built environment. By attending to a series of disparate instances in which architecture and discomfort intersect, On Discomfort offers a fresh reading of the negotiations that define architecture's position in modern culture. The essays do not chart comfort's triumph, so much as discomfort's curious dispersal into practices that form modern life and what that dispersion reveals of both architecture and culture. The essays presented in this volume illuminate the material culture of discomfort as it accrues to architecture and its history. This episodic analysis speaks to a range of disciplinary fields and interdisciplinary subjects extending our understanding of the domestication of interiors and objects, cities and ideas, and the conditions under which by intention or accident they discomfort.

Historic Brisbane Susanna De Vries, Jake De Vries, 2013. Susanna de Vries, award-winning author and Jake de Vries, former City Architect of Brisbane, have pooled their talents to compile a joint book on the building of Brisbane which transports us back to the first years of Brisbane's bleak existence. The book shows the Convict and Officers Barracks and convicts digging roads along what became Queen Street and North Quay. Professional artist Conrad Martens paints the Customs House and Kangaroo Point. The book recounts the effects of Brisbane's building boom of the 1880s when everyone borrowed money and major buildings like the Mansions, the old Museum, the second wing of the Post Office, and the Treasury are completed. In the depression years of the 1890s, some Queensland banks and architects go broke. A visiting Canadian artist named Lefvre Cranstone draws rural Toowong, the Regatta Hotel, and the Toowong Rowing Club. River Road, later Coronation Drive, once used for droving cattle from Brookfield, becomes a thoroughfare for the carriages of the wealthy from Indooroopilly and Milton.

Walks, Tracks and Trails of Queensland's Tropics Derrick Stone, 2016-03. Queensland's tropics provide numerous environments for enjoyable walking: lush rainforests, cloud-shrouded mountains, extinct volcanoes, savanna woodlands, and magnificent beaches on the coast and Great Barrier Reef islands. This book brings together more than 150 of the best walks, tracks, or trails in Queensland's tropics, located within the coastal strip between Rockhampton and Cooktown. Walks vary from short boardwalk strolls in the lowland rainforests of Daintree National Park to 4-6 day hiking and camping trips on Hinchinbrook Island. Other routes follow old gold miners and forestry tracks or coaching routes or feature historical sites, rivers, lagoons, geological and geographical formations, or much earlier Aboriginal communication tracks where Dreamtime stories add a further dimension. Man-made environments of abandoned gold towns, heritage riverfronts, Art Deco streetscapes, and Second World War installations also feature. Most routes are best completed during the Dry season, May to October, and walked by moderately fit individuals. Most do not require specialist navigation or bushcraft skills. Walks, Tracks and Trails of Queensland's Tropics highlights the best the region has to offer. Easy-to-interpret maps are included to help you navigate, and the book's size makes it convenient to carry in the backpack.

Learning Law Anthony Marinac, Caroline Hart, Rhianna Chisholm, Jennifer Nielsen, Asmi Wood, Adrian Evans, Sarah McKibbin, 2020-10-07. Learning Law is an accessible and engaging introduction to Australian law for students considering a career in the legal profession. Shadow Simon Unwin, 2020-02-18 Each of these Analysing Architecture Notebooks is devoted to a particular theme in understanding the rich and varied workings of architecture They can be thought of as addenda to the foundation volume Analysing Architecture which first appeared in 1997 and has subsequently been enlarged in three further editions Examining these extra themes as a series of Notebooks rather than as additional chapters in future editions allows greater space for more detailed exploration of a wider variety of examples whilst avoiding the risk of the original book becoming unwieldy Shadows may be insubstantial but they are nevertheless an important element in architecture In prehistoric times we sought shade as a refuge from the hot sun and chilling rain Through history architects have used shadows to draw to mould form to paint pictures to orchestrate atmosphere to indicate the passing of time as well as to identify place Sometimes shadow can be the substance of architecture
