Advances in Learning Software Organizations Klaus-Dieter Althoff, Raimund L. Feldmann, Wolfgang Müller, 2003-06-30 The importance of production and use of high quality software is still growing as more and more businesses depend on information technology Well educated highly skilled and experienced employees characterize the situation in most companies in the developed countries Increasingly they work together in temporary networks with geographically distributed offices Using and developing their knowledge is a key issue in gaining competitive advantages We have learned during recent years that the exchange and development of knowledge which we call learning demands a great deal of human interaction However it is widely recognized that information systems will in many cases enable the sharing of experience across distributed organizations and act as a knowledge repository A Learning Software Organization LSO will turn Intellectual Capital into market shares and profit as it establishes the means to manage its knowledge The LSO workshop series was created in 1999 to provide a communication forum that addresses the questions of organizational learning from a software point of view and builds upon existing work on Knowledge Management and Organizational Learning It aims at bringing together practitioners and researchers for an open exchange of experience with successes and failures in organizational learning Right from the beginning fostering interdisciplinary approaches and providing an opportunity to learn about new ideas has been a central issue of the workshop series The feedback that we have obtained in recent years has encouraged us to continue our work for a better understanding of the setup and running of Learning Software Organizations New Riders' Official Internet Yellow Pages , Moving to Online Ernest W. Brewer, Jacquelyn O. DeJonge, Vickie J. Stout, 2001-03-15 Critical techniques and guidance for online instruction and Web based learning Today's Digital Generation appears to come fully plugged in and ready to interact with the amazing flow of information on the World Wide Web When it comes to utilizing all that the Web offers educators trainers and administrators often say they are running to catch up to their students Brewer DeJonge and Stout present a framework and specific techniques to help prepare instructors for teaching online at any level middle school high school college or the workplace The authors provide general guidelines conceptual analysis and practical tips about instructional practice online Whether used by neophyte or experienced Web users this book offers a big picture approach and the orientation and perspective needed for teachers trainers and instructors to make the transition to Web based instruction Highlights of this book include Historical perspective of online learning Transitioning from traditional classroom to online instruction Content delivery methods lecture demonstration and panel Interaction methods group discussion and questioning Application methods role playing case study and simulation Helpful planning and evaluation sheets are included at the end of each chapter to assist the classroom practitioner in using the techniques included in this book This is an essential resource guide for any teacher instructor or administrator who is concerned about riding the breaking wave of online instruction Special Edition Using HTML and XHTML Molly E.
