India's Fragile Borderlands Archana Upadhyay, 2009-05-30 There is a danger in the West of viewing terrorism exclusively through the prism of 9 11 This ground breaking examination of terrorism in North East India demonstrates how grave a mistake this is The nature of terrorism is the subject of ever increasing scrutiny and there are many lessons to be learned from India's borderlands Terrorism fostered at first by post colonial resentments took root in the region because of an increased sense of cultural identity and perceived discrimination and exclusion by the Indian state This book examines the long term effects of terrorism on the population of North East India where the best known conflict is the Naga tribe's ongoing campaign for a greater Nagaland as well as its international consequences India's Fragile Borderlands offers a comprehensive study of the nature origins and history of terrorism in India's North East within an international perspective Sharing borders with China Bangladesh Nepal Myanmar Burma and Bhutan the region abounds in nationalist separatist and even religious organizations that have used terrorism as a strategy to achieve their aims Archana Upadhyay explores the complex and specific ideologies of these groups while highlighting the

Cultural Anthropology Richard H. Robbins, Rachel A. Dowty Beech, 2020-07-16 In a first of its kind format Cultural Anthropology A Problem Based Approach is organized by problems and questions rather than topics creating a natural discussion of traditional anthropological concerns such as kinship caste gender roles and religion      Human Rights, Education & Global Responsibilities James Lynch, Celia Modgil, Sohan Modgil, 2014-07-10 First published in 1992 This is Volume 4 of a series of four on Cultural Diversity and the Schools and focusses on Human Rights Education and Global Responsibilities One of the major problems facing societies in almost all parts of the world is the inadequate accommodation of social equity with cultural diversity The crisis emanating from neglect of this issue can be seen in societies as different and wide apart as the Soviet Union India Pakistan the United States and the United Kingdom This series seeks to contribute through joint publication and the stimulation of greater discourse to identify the pathways to a less selfish and parochial response to the continuing dilemma of equity and diversity not solely within the nation state but also internationally      The Quest for Peace Raimo Väyrynen, 1987-08-01 Unfailingly thorough The Quest for Peace provides a lucid analysis of the nature of war and peace It offers a sober account of the possibilities of transcending collective violence to achieve a peace based on liberty and justice The interdisciplinary and international collection of contributions provide a broad perspective covering psychological anthropological political economic and sociological aspects of warfare They look at the dynamic structural cultural and ecological causes of collective violence      Security and South Asia Swarna Rajagopalan, 2014-03-21 Stephen Philip Cohen can rightly be called the doyen of South Asian security analysis especially traditional security concerns in the region and advocacy on US foreign policy The contributors to the volume have all at different at different points in time been Cohen s students and are now well known scholars in their own right Broadly dividing Cohen s work into categories the contributors deal with the following issues how security is understood and how important strategic relationships are framed approaches to and choices made in the areas of military structure arms production and investment in science and technology how and why civil society groups are mobilized towards political ends specifically looking at ethnic mobilization in diaspora communities non official initiatives for peace in South Asia and the role of state and non state actors in disaster management the role of the army The essays reflect a view of security as something people choose to make for themselves through an exercise of agency that is rooted in the realm of ideas      Hearing Peace Dieter Senghaas, 2025-05-23 Listening to peace When social scientists publicists and teachers approach the problem of peace they pay special attention to the causes of violence and war Recently however insights into the causes of peace have gained broad resonance The question is which factors individually and in their interaction are sustainably conducive to peace Aesthetic dimensions of a peace order however usually remain underexposed although the problem of peace can be impressively conveyed through images of peace The fact that the essays in this book explain that access to various dimensions of peace through musical and compositional contributions can also be illuminating Which peace relevant problems have composers addressed in their works Striking examples are explained They are all to be found in the offerings of classical i e value retaining music of the past five centuries A unique book on peace education For teachers and students in peace research and in music studies Written by one of the co founders of peace research in Germany A key background book for peace concerts A musical appeal for peace      Ecology and Development in Conflict Gunanidhi Parida, 2000      Ethnicity without Groups Rogers Brubaker, 2006-09-01 Despite a quarter century of constructivist theorizing in the social sciences and humanities ethnic groups continue to be conceived as entities and cast as actors In this timely and provocative volume Brubaker challenges this pervasive and commonsense groupism and shows that ethnicity race and nation are not things in the world but perspectives on the world ways of seeing interpreting and representing the social world      European Security Bjørn Møller, 2016-04-22 Europe has undergone quite profound changes since the end of the Cold War Having been a highly militarised conflict ridden and war ridden region the core of Europe today constitutes a security community where armed conflicts among the constituent states has become inconceivable This comprehensive book offers a theoretically founded and thoroughly documented analysis of European security with a special emphasis on the role played by the United Nations and the various regional and sub regional organisations especially the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation the Organisation for Security and Cooperation in Europe the Council of Europe and the European Union When it comes to explaining peace in Europe opinions differ widely Some argue that it was only because the West refused to give in to Soviet threats that the latter eventually gave up or that the long peace in Europe was due to the combination of a bipolar alliance structure pitting the North Atlantic Treaty Organisation NATO against the Warsaw Pact with the presence of nuclear weapons on both sides Others point instead to the extraordinarily dense network of international institutions and organisations in Europe offering a wide panoply of fora in which to handle disputes peacefully or to the web of interdependence in economic and other affairs tying together all states in Europe in relations which militate strongly against war Still others believe that the external peace between the states in Europe is simply a reflection of a convergence of cultures democracies with marked economies that are open towards the world market These questions are the focal point of this book which concentrates on security albeit not in the sense of being a treatise on military matters but security obtainable by much more indirect and non military means It will be required reading for all students and scholars of European security and the organisations which underpin it      Recovery from Armed Conflict in Developing Countries Geoff Harris, 2002-02-07 This comprehensive work examines ways in which developing countries may achieve economic political and social reconstruction in the wake of armed conflict International researchers discuss such issues as women and children in the recovery process refugees and the role of aid the reintegration of ex combatants and community led recovery Case studies focus upon Afghanistan Angola Cambodia Mozambique South Africa and Sri Lanka
