Dialogue as a Trans-disciplinary Concept Paul Mendes-Flohr, 2015-06-16 This volume of essays constitutes a critical evaluation of Martin Buber s concept of dialogue as a trans disciplinary hermeneutic method So conceived dialogue has two distinct but ultimately convergent vectors The first is directed to the subject of one s investigation one is to listen to the voice of the Other and to suspend all predetermined categories and notions that one may have of the Other dialogue is first and foremost the art of unmediated listening One must allow the voice of the Other to question one s pre established positions fortified by professional emotional intellectual and ideological commitments Dialogue is also to be conducted between various disciplinary perspectives despite the regnant tendency to academic specialization In recent decades an increasing number of scholars have come to share Buber s position to foster cross disciplinary conversation if but to garner as Max Weber aruged useful questions upon which he would not so easily hit upon from his own specialized point of view Accordingly the objective of this volume is to explore the reception of Buber s philosophy of dialogue in some of the disciplines that fell within the purview of his own writings Anthropology Hasidism Religious Studies Psychology and Psychiatry

EUROPE AND THE BLACK SEA REGION KARL KASER (EDS.) DOMINIK GUTMEYR, Perceiving God William P. Alston, 2014-01-21 In Perceiving God William P Alston offers a clear and provocative account of the epistemology of religious experience He argues that the perception of God his term for direct experiential awareness of God makes a major contribution to the grounds of religious belief Surveying the variety of reported direct experiences of God among laypersons and famous mystics Alston demonstrates that a person can be justified in holding certain beliefs about God on the basis of mystical experience Through the perception that God is sustaining one in being for example one can justifiably believe that God is indeed sustaining one in being Alston offers a detailed discussion of our grounds for taking sense perception and other sources of belief including introspection memory and mystical experience to be reliable and to confer justification He then uses this epistemic framework to explain how our perceptual beliefs about God can be justified Alston carefully addresses objections to his chief claims including problems posed by non Christian religious traditions He also examines the way in which mystical perception fits into the larger picture of grounds for religious belief Suggesting that religious experience rather than being a purely subjective phenomenon has real cognitive value Perceiving God will spark intense debate and will be indispensable reading for those interested in philosophy of religion epistemology and philosophy of mind as well as for theologians

Yahweh Versus Baal Norman C. Habel, 2018-12-04 Since 1929 scholars have been concerned with the interpretation of certain Canaanite literary materials found at Ras Shamra in North Syria known as Ugarit in ancient times Attention has been paid primarily to certain linguistic and cultural parallels between this corpus of literature and sections of the Old Testament But despite the numerous treatments of the isolated points of contact between Ugaritic and biblical thought one major question has not received an adequate answer How and to what extent are the Ugaritic texts and especially the Baal texts relevant for an appreciation of the fundamentals of the Israelite religion Professor Habel seeks to answer at least part of this question by translating pertinent segments of the Baal texts according to the sequence of G R Driver summarizing their context and considering their import thought sequence and basic ideas in relation to appropriate materials from the early faith of Israel The succinct results of this comparison are provocative to say the least The author begins by isolating the major features of an underlying conflict tradition The conflict between Israel s beliefs and the religious forces of its environment was a vital influence in the formulation of Israel s earliest religious faith and experience The content of this faith as summarized in the concise wording of Exodus 19 3 6 is shown to be virtually identical with that of Israel s earliest poetic heritage where a lively polemic against the Canaanite religious is discernible One of the highlights of Professor Habel s comparison of the Baal texts with Israel s archaic poetic traditions is his contribution to the understanding of Exodus 15 In this connection he discovers a clearly defined sequence of ideas common to certain Baal texts and Exodus 15 1 18 By skillfully utilizing the work of other scholars the author sheds additional light on the polemical and theological import of several passages depicting theophanies of Yahweh A similar evaluation of the relevance of the Ugaritic texts for the cultic practices of Israel is made possible by a sober evaluation of the pertinent texts Thoughts on Opposition ... ,1781 The Promise Hitler Kept Stefan Szende,2013-10 This is a new release of the original 1945 edition The Facts on File Dictionary of Proverbs Martin H. Manser,Rosalind Fergusson,2007 Lists the meaning and origin of more than 1 700 traditional and contemporary English proverbs A Good Life in Old Age? ,2013-01-01 Jews, Race, and Environment Maurice Fishberg,2017-07-05 Originally published in 1911 Jews Race and Environment presents the results of anthropological demographic pathological and sociological investigations of people who identify themselves as Jews At the time Fishberg wrote this book there was widespread interest in the idea of Jews as a race and in the ethnic relationship of Jews to each other The early twentieth century was a period of heavy Eastern European immigration to the United States Many questioned if it were possible for Jews to assimilate into American culture particularly into what was termed the body politic of Anglo Saxon communities Fishberg addresses these questions in this classic study The Janowska Road Leon Weliczker Wells,Steve Chadde,2014-02-15 Autobiography of a Jewish survivor of the Nazi regime in Poland
