Questions Of Identity Exploring The Character Of Europe:

We Europeans? Tony Kushner, 2017-03-02 We Europeans is the first book length study of the original mass observation project. It is also the first detailed historical study of the formation of ordinary people's racial attitudes in Britain. Drawing upon historical literary cultural and anthropological approaches, this book examines the sources of cultural identity in Britain in the twentieth century and how these were shaped through the influences of family education and everyday high and low culture. The examination focuses on the archives of the British social anthropological organization Mass Observation and is the first detailed history of it to be published. Founded in the 1930s by poets, psychoanalysts, surrealists and sociologists, among others, the purpose of the organization was to create an anthropology of the British people by the natives themselves through the use of diaries, directives and special surveys. The organization was active from 1937 to 1951, then revived in the 1980s when a new group of Mass Observers were recruited to keep diaries and respond to directives. Both the historical archive of Mass Observation and the more recent material provide fascinating insight into the everyday lives and formation of identities of ordinary people in Britain. Kushner places the material from these archives in the context of other contemporary writings; through them, he explores grassroots identities in Britain in relation to the outside world, especially Europe, but also the former Empire and the USA. This study will be of interest to scholars of sociology, cultural studies, literary studies and history who are particularly interested in race, race relations, immigration and cultural difference.

Literature for Europe? , 2009-01-01 In Literature for Europe, leading scholars from around Europe reflect on the role played by literature and by the study of literature in the constant re-negotiation and re-construction of cultural identities in Europe implied by the accession to the European Union in the early years of the twenty-first century of fifteen new member states with the accession of a number of Balkan states impending and Turkey waiting in the wings while at the same time transatlantic relations of the EU to the USA are hotly debated in politics as in culture. China and India awake as economic giants and globalization is upon us. At the same time, two of the earliest signatories to the treaties eventually leading to the European Union rejected a proposal for a European Constitution and linguistic, religious and ethnic dividing lines show even in some of Europe's oldest nation states. How do literary texts, genres and forms, thinking about them and teaching them, respond to and shape ongoing processes of European self-understanding in our era of globalization? The volume seeks to answer these questions by charting key developments in a number of fields crucial to the emergence of a European common literary space: literature and cultural value systems, literature and cultural memory, literary history, translation, the impact of the new media and the information age on matters of literature and identity, and the impact of the postcolonial. Literature for Europe is a thought-provoking tour d'horizon of cutting-edge developments in the relationship between literary studies and the matter of Europe and suggesting an exciting agenda for literary studies in Europe. It will be of interest to everyone working in European studies and/or European literature.

Questions of Identity Christopher Joyce, 2002-06-28 The book

also concentrates on the vital issues surrounding European identity does a European identity actually exist and what would be the real consequences of further integration It covers a broad range of subjects from cultural exchange to monetary union from trading arrangements to geo political projections from nationality to East West rapprochement in the post Cold War era It identifies and addresses the crucial questions that need to be openly discussed if tomorrow's Europe is to be securely founded

Racialization Karim Murji, John Solomos, 2005 Racialization has become one of the central concepts in the study of race and racism This volume brings together international scholars to address key facets of the concept in a wide range of social and political arenas including gender relations policing urban communities youth cultures immigration and political life

Nation-Building and Identity in Europe R. Tzanelli, 2008-10-24 This book offers a provocative theorization of nationhood focusing on the key role played by dialogic relations of hegemony resistance and reciprocity in the birth of the modern European nation The relationship between Greece and Britain at the end of the nineteenth century uncovers the linguistic construction of nationalism

The Geopolitics of Europe's Identity N. Parker, 2008-02-04 This book pursues an original perspective on Europe's shifting extent and geopolitical standing how countries and spaces marginal to it impact on Europe as a center A theoretical discussion of borders and margins is developed and set against nine studies of countries regions and identities seen as marginal to Europe

How To Lose A Referendum Jason Farrell, Paul Goldsmith, 2017-06-26 Did David Cameron have to call a referendum Did history put a gun to his head And was Britain's departure from the EU destined from the moment he called it Was it a lost cause or did the Prime Minister lose it Sky News senior political correspondent Jason Farrell teams up with political blogger and economics and politics teacher Paul Goldsmith to provide the definitive story of one of the biggest shocks in British political history Probing into the social fabric of the UK the psyche of the electorate and seventy years of European history Farrell and Goldsmith identify eighteen key reasons why the UK made its choice from Britain's absence at the birth of the European project to the inflammatory rhetoric of one Nigel Farage and everything in between How to Lose a Referendum is the product of extensive and refreshingly frank interviews with the key players from both campaigns coupled with a wide ranging exploration of the historical context around Britain's departure Why was a project designed for common peace and prosperity ultimately so hard to defend Whether you're a Leaver or a Remainer a newcomer to the debate or a battle hardened politico this nuanced and thoughtful analysis will change the way you look at Britain's vote for Brexit

We Europeans? Antony Robin Jeremy Kushner, 2004 Drawing upon historical literary cultural and anthropological approaches this book examines the sources of cultural identity in Britain in the twentieth century and how these were shaped through the influences of family education and everyday high and low culture The examination focuses on the archives of the British social anthropological organization Mass Observation and is the first detailed history of it to be published Founded in the 1930s by poets psychoanalysts surrealists and sociologists among others the purpose of the organization was to create an anthropology of the British people by the natives themselves through the use of diaries directives and special surveys      A Pair of Cranks Leopold Kohr, Ernst Friedrich Schumacher, 2003 These were the early articles of E F Schumacher and Leopold Kohr which were published in Resurgence and Fourth World Review during the editorship of John Papworth The two men were profound friends and were united in their belief about the size of societies being too big

The Discursive Construction of European Identities Michał Krzyżanowski, 2010 This book looks at the discursive construction of European identities in a variety of institutional and non institutional contexts and through a variety of social and political actors Its multilevel and interdisciplinary approach rooted in the Discourse Historical tradition of Critical Discourse Analysis allows for a comparison of identity constructions at different levels of Europe s social and political organisation and in different modes of communication The book analyses discourses as diverse as those of the EU politicians of Europe s national media as well as of migrants living in Europe It offers a set of integrated models and analytical procedures which bring to the fore the inherent dynamism and complexity of both bottom up and top down European identity constructions      Thinking Europe MATS ANDRÉN, 2022-10-14 List of figures and tables Acknowledgements Preface Introduction Part I Unity and Borders 1800 1914 Chapter 1 Dreaming of unity Chapter 2 Longing for borders Chapter 3 Looking for common ground Chapter 4 Performing communality Part II Crisis and Decline 1914 1945 Chapter 5 Passage to a new Europe the First World War Chapter 6 Fearing crisis Chapter 7 Organising for Europe Part III Integration and identity 1945 Chapter 8 Claiming European unity and a Europe of nations Chapter 9 Elevating European awareness Conclusion Bibliography Index

European Identity Ireneusz Pawel Karolewski, Viktoria Kaina, 2006 Despite its unequalled history of success the European Union is still far from its citizens In the aftermath of the failed referenda on the European constitutional treaty in France and the Netherlands in the early summer of 2005 the EU is facing a severe crisis of trust Hence the questions arise how much pressure can the community tolerate in order to persist and what does hold it together in times of scarcity conflict danger and threat The contributions of this volume do not only provide a variety of conceptualizations of European identity in the broad field of social sciences such as sociology political theory and international relations but first and foremost intend to enrich the present research by offering new theoretical perspectives and recent empirical findings

European Affairs , 2004      Political Identification in Europe Amanda Machin, Nadine Meidert, 2021-03-15 In recent years Europe has been buffeted by a series of contested crises that seemingly undermine and overwhelm its institutions and ideals the economic shocks of 2008 the open disputes over migration the political uncertainty generated by Brexit and the inroads made by various populist and nationalist parties into government      The roots of nationalism Lotte Jensen, 2016-04-15 This collection brings together scholars from a wide range of disciplines to offer perspectives on national identity formation in various European contexts between 1600 and 1815 Contributors challenge the dichotomy between modernists and traditionalists in nationalism studies through an emphasis on continuity rather than ruptures in the shaping of European nations in the period while also offering an overview of current debates in the field and case studies on a number of topics including literature historiography and cartography

European Identities During Wars and Revolutions Salome Minesashvili, 2022-05-07 This book provides an up to date discussion of the effect of crises on European identities in the post Soviet states In doing so the book presents an original study on dynamics of European identities during four crises in Georgia and Ukraine More specifically it considers the comparative impact of two colour revolutions and wars involving Russia on European identity constructions in Georgian and Ukrainian public identity discourses studied through national mass media It compares outcomes of change and continuity during such big bang events in identity discourses and establishes scope conditions that allow or inhibit change The major finding of the study is that the selected events can indeed instigate sudden shifts in European identity discourses but only when the elite power structure also changes in such hybrid regimes as Ukraine and Georgia These changes include shifts in elite groups and in the relative power they hold in the overall power structure

The Nineteenth-Century Novel: Identities Dennis Walder, 2013-05-13 The Nineteenth Century Novel Identities provides an ideal starting point for understanding gender in the novels of this period It explores the place of fiction in constructing gender identity within society at large considering Madame Bovary Portrait of a Lady and The Woman in White The book continues with a consideration of the novel at the fin de siecle examining Dracula The Awakening and Heart of Darkness These fascinating essays illuminate the ways in which the conventions of realism were disrupted as much by anxieties surrounding colonialism decadence degeneration and the New Woman as by those new ideas about human psychology which heralded the advent of psychoanalysis The concepts which are crucial to the understanding of the literature and society of the nineteenth century are brilliantly explained and discussed in this essential volume

Who are 'the Europeans'? David Michael Green, 1999

European Identity through Space Christophe Venet, Blandina Baranes, 2012-11-28 Space activities are one particularly visible area where Europe can shape its identity This publication investigates the effect space activities have already had on building a European spirit e g through European missions or European astronauts It also looks into the effects that activities labelled national have on the emergence of a European identity Based on this analysis the book s intention is to identify creative ways and means for how to further use space for shaping the European identity For this purpose the focus is not only on policy analysis but also on expertise from the fields of cultural science and the arts in order to tap their creative potential and also their theoretical approaches to the topic Selecting this theme provides ESPI with another opportunity to develop its trans disciplinary approach

The Nineteenth-century Novel Dennis Walder, 2001 The essays in this collection show how the conventions of realism were transformed by new ideas about gender and race
