Roderick Floud, Paul Johnson

Mauve How One Man Invented A Color That Changed The World:

Mauve Simon Garfield, 2001 Mauve is the beguiling story of a man who invented a colour and in the process transformed the world around him Before 1856 artificial colour was derived with difficulty and at enormous expense from animals minerals or plants But in 1856 a chemist called William Perkin found a way of making colour from coal Perkin found mauve by chance at the age of 18 working on a treatment for malaria Instead of artificial quinine he produced a dark oily sludge that much to his surprise turned silk a beautiful light purple The colour was unique It not only stormed the fashion houses of Paris and London it earned Perkin a fortune and generated huge industries in the new science of applied chemistry Perkin s astonishing discovery engagingly told in Mauve had fundamental effects on the development of explosives perfume photography and modern medicine effects that colour everything we see today A Perfect Red Amy Butler

Greenfield, 2009-10-06 You ll finish Greenfield s book with new respect for color especially for red With A Perfect Red she does for it what Mark Kurlansky in Salt did for that common commodity Houston Chronicle Interweaving mystery empire and adventure Amy Butler Greenfield s masterful popular history offers a window onto a world far different from our own a world in which the color red was rare and precious a source of wealth and power for those who could unlock its secrets And in this world nothing was more prized than cochineal a red dye that produced the brightest strongest red the Old World had ever seen A Perfect Red recounts the story of this legendary red dye from its cultivation by the ancient Mexicans and discovery by 16th century Spanish conquistadors to the European pirates explorers alchemists scientists and spies who joined in the chase to unlock its secrets a chase that lasted more than three centuries It evokes with style and verve this history of a grand obsession of intrigue empire and adventure in pursuit of the most desirable color on earth Bright Earth Philip

Ball, 2003-04-15 From Egyptian wall paintings to the Venetian Renaissance impressionism to digital images Philip Ball tells the fascinating story of how art chemistry and technology have interacted throughout the ages to render the gorgeous hues we admire on our walls and in our museums Finalist for the 2002 National Book Critics Circle Award Mauve Simon

Garfield, 2002 Mauve Simon Garfield, 2001-09-01 The story of a man who invented a color the beautiful light purple became the most desirable shade in fashion It led to new crimsons violets blues greens but its importance extended far beyond ballgowns After Perkin discovered mauve science created huge industries the impact of the new color had fundamental effects on the development of explosives perfume photography modern medicine Illustrations Extensive biblio An interesting volume Just Because You Know It, Doesn't Make It Right: How to Paint a Prettier Picture for Your Life and Business Kathryn L. Jackson, 2021-05-21 People do what they were taught whether it works or not Jobs relationships money and health are all a reflection of learned behaviors Most people follow the path that was laid out before them But what if that path leads to heartache hopelessness or pure hell What happens when the right thing to do no longer works It s time to paint a prettier picture This book is simply about deciding to take action Planning a better life or a successful business is no different than an artist creating a new work of art You decide how you want it to look Follow the outline and before you know it you have created a masterpiece in both your life and business The key is to get started There is no substitute for action Stepping outside of your comfort zone is scary and not for the faint of heart It is always shaky ground because what comes next is an unknown But the freedom of making your own choice is a lot more exhilarating than the stress of staying in the lines drawn by someone else
