The Maverick Guide to New Zealand Robert W. Bone,1989-03 Maverick Guide to New Zealand Robert W. Bone,1991 The Maverick Guide to New Zealand, 1987-88 Robert W. Bone,1986-12 Subject Guide to Books in Print ,1993 Paperbound Books in Print ,1991 The Publishers Weekly ,1988 Books in Print ,1987 Who's who in the West ,1999 Ethics, Moral Life and the Body Rhonda M. Shaw,2016-04-29 Shaw addresses the ethical turn in contemporary sociological thinking by exploring the contribution of sociology and the social sciences to bioethical debates about morality and tissue exchange practices Who's who in America ,2003 Defending The Little Desert Libby Robin,2015-09-08 In 1968 Sir William McDonald Victoria s Minister of Lands announced a rural settlement scheme for the Little Desert in Victoria s far north west The conservation campaign that ensued was one of unprecedented vehemence and sophistication It cost McDonald his parliamentary seat and consigned the Little Desert Settlement Scheme to oblivion The Little Desert dispute was a watershed in Australian environmental politics Suburban activists scientists amateur naturalists economists and bureaucrats banded together to oppose McDonald s ill conceived scheme It marked the beginning of a new consciousness of nature and the concept of biological diversity was voiced in the halls of parliament for the first time In Defending the Little Desert Libby Robin offers a sensitive account of the unlikely coalition of forces that assembled to save the Little Desert This beautifully written account of the campaign perhaps the earliest expression of ecological consciousness in Australia will be read by all Australians interested in conservation and the environment in participatory political processes and in public science The Green Web Martin Holdgate,2014-04-08 This text is a history of the world s oldest global conservation body the World Conservation Union established in 1948 as a forum for governments non governmental organizations and individual conservationists The author draws on unpublished archives to reveal the often turbulent story of the IUCN and its achievements in and influence on conservation and environmental policy worldwide establishing national parks and protected areas and defending threatened species The Evolution of International Security Studies Barry Buzan,Lene Hansen,2009-08-27 International Security Studies ISS has changed and diversified in many ways since 1945 This book provides the first intellectual history of the development of the subject in that period It explains how ISS evolved from an initial concern with the strategic consequences of superpower rivalry and nuclear weapons to its current diversity in which environmental economic human and other securities sit alongside military security and in which approaches ranging from traditional Realist analysis to Feminism and Post colonialism are in play It sets out the driving forces that shaped debates in ISS shows what makes ISS a single conversation across its diversity and gives an authoritative account of debates on all the main topics within ISS This is an unparalleled survey of the literature and institutions of ISS that will be an invaluable guide for all students and scholars of ISS whether traditionalist new agenda or critical Dynamics in Action Alicia Juarrero,2002-01-25 What is the difference between a wink and a blink The answer is important not only to philosophers of mind for significant moral and legal consequences rest on the distinction between voluntary and involuntary behavior. However, action theory, the branch of philosophy that has traditionally articulated the boundaries between action and non-action and between voluntary and involuntary behavior, has been unable to account for the difference. Alicia Juarrero argues that a mistaken 350-year-old model of cause and explanation, one that takes all causes to be of the push-pull efficient cause sort and all explanation to be proof-like, underlies contemporary theories of action. Juarrero then proposes a new framework for conceptualizing causes based on complex adaptive systems. Thinking of causes as dynamical constraints makes bottom-up and top-down causal relations, including those involving intentional causes, suddenly tractable. A different logic for explaining actions as historical narrative, not inference, follows if one adopts this novel approach to long-standing questions of action and responsibility.

Strategic Stability in the Post-Cold War World and the Future of Nuclear Disarmament Melvin L. Best, Jr., John Hughes-Wilson, Andrei A. Piontkowsky, 2013-04-17. This Report contains a Consensus Report and the papers submitted to the April 6-10, 1995 NATO Advanced Research Workshop on Strategic Stability In The Post Cold War World And The Future Of Nuclear Disarmament held in Washington D C United States Of America at The Airlie Conference Center. The workshop was sponsored by the NATO Division Scientific and Environmental Affairs as part of its ongoing outreach programme to widen and deepen scientific contacts between NATO member countries and the Cooperation Partner countries of the former Warsaw Treaty Organization. The participants recognize that the collapse of the former Soviet Union has left a conceptual vacuum in the definition of a new world order. Never before have the components of world order all changed so rapidly, so deeply, or so globally. As Henry Kissinger points out, the emergence of the new world order will have answered three fundamental questions: What are the basic units of the international order? What are their means of interacting? and What are the goals on behalf of which they interact? The main question is whether the establishment and maintenance of an international system will turn out to be a conscious design or the outgrowth of a test of strength. The concept of a planning framework that could shape or govern these interactions is emerging and may now be at hand. Capturing this emerging framework is the thrust of this NATO-sponsored Advanced Research Workshop.

Sidelined Chuck Pagano, 2014. Follows the head coach of the Indianapolis Colts who was diagnosed with leukemia three weeks into the 2012 football season as he continued to coach from his bedside and got back into the game with the help of his team and thousands of Colts fans.

Australian national bibliography, 1961. Removing the Emperor's Clothes Simon Chapman, Becky Freeman, 2014-11-11. In December 2012, Australia became the first nation in the world to require all tobacco products to be sold in standard plain packs under the leadership of the then Health Minister Nicola Roxon. Tobacco companies have had global apoplexy about the law. Humiliated in the Australian High Court with a six-one defeat, their hopes now rest with deterring other nations from following suit by pursuing international trade law action. With a combined 50 years of research and advocacy experience in tobacco control, Simon Chapman and Becky Freeman set out the evidence for the importance of plain packaging in striking at the heart of what remains of tobacco advertising They examine the history of the idea the tobacco industry s frantic efforts to derail it and the early evidence for its impact Most importantly they give tools to policy makers in other countries wanting to make the best case for plain packaging and to defend it from the inevitable attacks that will follow Protesting America Katharine H. S. Moon,2013 When the U S Korea military alliance began to deteriorate in the 2000s many commentators blamed anti Americanism and nationalism especially among younger South Koreans Challenging these assumptions this book argues that Korean activism around U S relations owes more to transformations in domestic politics including the decentralization of government the diversification and politics of civil society organizations and the transnationalization of social movements Small Press Record of Books in Print ,1987
