Points of Resistance Lauren Rabinovitz, 2003 In detailing the relationship of three women filmmakers lives and films to the changing institutions of the post World War II era Lauren Rabinovitz has created the first feminist social history of the North American avant garde cinema At a time when there were few women directors in commercial films the postwar avant garde movement offered an opportunity Rabinovitz argues that avant garde cinema open to women because of its marginal status in the art world included women as filmmakers organizers and critics Focusing on Maya Deren Shirley Clarke and Joyce Wieland Rabinovitz illustrates how women used bold physical images to enhance their work and how each provided entrance to her subversive art while remaining culturally acceptable She combines archival materials with her own interviews to show how the women's labor and films even their identities as women filmmakers were produced disseminated and understood With a new preface and an updated bibliography Points of Resistance simultaneously demonstrates the avant garde's importance as an organizational network for women filmmakers and the processes by which women remained marginal figures within that network perception synesthesia hallucination and dreaming have long been objects of fascination for cognitive psychologists They have also been among the most potent sources of creative inspiration for experimental filmmakers Lessons in Perception melds film theory and cognitive science in a stimulating investigation of the work of iconic experimental artists such as Stan Brakhage Robert Breer Maya Deren and Jordan Belson In illustrating how avant garde filmmakers draw from their own mental and perceptual capacities author Paul Taberham offers a compelling account of how their works expand the spectator's range of aesthetic sensitivities and open creative vistas uncharted by commercial cinema The Most Typical Avant-Garde David James, 2005-05-30 Los Angeles has nourished a dazzling array of independent cinemas avant garde and art cinema ethnic and industrial films pornography documentaries and many other far flung corners of film culture This glorious panoramic history of film production outside the commercial studio system reconfigures Los Angeles rather than New York as the true center of avant garde cinema in the United States As he brilliantly delineates the cultural perimeter of the film business from the earliest days of cinema to the contemporary scene David James argues that avant garde and minority filmmaking in Los Angeles has in fact been the prototypical attempt to create emancipatory and progressive culture Drawing from urban history and geography local news reporting and a wide range of film criticism James gives astute analyses of scores of films many of which are to found only in archives He also looks at some of the most innovative moments in Hollywood revealing the full extent of the cross fertilization that occurred between the studio system and films created outside it Throughout he demonstrates that Los Angeles has been in the aesthetic and social vanguard in all cinematic periods from the Socialist cinemas of the early teens and 1930s to the personal cinemas of psychic self investigation in the 1940s to attempts in the 1960s to revitalize the industry with the counterculture's utopian visions and to the 1970s when African Americans Asian Americans Latinos women gays and lesbians worked to create cinemas of their own James takes us up to the 1990s and beyond to explore new forms of art cinema that are now transforming the representation of Southern California's geography Film at Wit's End Stan Brakhage, 1989 Based on lectures that Brakhage gave at the school of the Art Institute of Chicago this volume portrays eight artists who have electrified American independent cinema across four decades With characteristic directness anecdotal style and wry humor Brakhage himself an influential American independent filmmaker brings into sharp focus the life and work of Jerome Hill Marie Menken James Brouhgtton Maya Deren Ken Jacobs Sidney Peterson Bruce Conner and Christopher MacLaine He also portrays the art scenes of New York and San Francisco during times of ferment and controversy ISBN 0 914232 99 1 20 00 Art in Cinema Frank Stauffacher, 2006 Fascinating documentation of one of the most important film societies in American history Rites of Realism Ivone Margulies, 2003-03-27 Rites of Realism shifts the discussion of cinematic realism away from the usual focus on verisimilitude and faithfulness of record toward a notion of performative realism a realism that does not simply represent a given reality but enacts actual social tensions These essays by a range of film scholars propose stimulating new approaches to the critical evaluation of modern realist films and such referential genres as reenactment historical film adaptation portrait film and documentary By providing close readings of classic and contemporary works Rites of Realism signals the need to return to a focus on films as the main innovators of realist representation The collection is inspired by Andr Bazin s theories on film s inherent heterogeneity and unique ability to register contingency the singular one time event This volume features two new translations of Bazin s seminal essay Death Every Afternoon and Serge Daney s essay reinterpreting Bazin s defense of the long shot as a way to set the stage for a clash or risky confrontation between man and animal These pieces evince key concerns particularly the link between cinematic realism and contingency that the other essays explore further Among the topics addressed are the provocative mimesis of Luis Bu uel s Land Without Bread the adaptation of trial documents in Carl Dreyer s Passion of Joan of Arc the use of the tableaux vivant by Wim Wenders and Peter Greenaway and Pier Paolo Pasolini s strategies of analogy in his transposition of The Gospel According to St Matthew from Palestine to southern Italy Essays consider the work of filmmakers including Michelangelo Antonioni Maya Deren Mike Leigh Cesare Zavattini Zhang Yuan and Abbas Kiarostami Contributors Paul Arthur Andr Bazin Mark A Cohen Serge Daney Mary Ann Doane James F Lastra Ivone Margulies Ab Mark Normes Brigitte Peucker Richard Porton Philip Rosen Catherine Russell James Schamus Noa Steimatsky Xiaobing Tang
