Testimony Victor Montejo, 1987 A former rural schoolteacher gives an account of a village fictitious name and villagers destroyed by elements of the Guatemalan army in search of revolutionaries and guerrillas The Cambridge World History of Violence: Volume 2, AD 500–AD 1500

 Matthew Gordon, Richard Kaeuper, Harriet Zurndorfer, 2020-03-31 Violence permeated much of social life across the vast geographical space of the European Asian and Islamic worlds and through the broad sweep of what is often termed the Middle Millennium roughly 500 to 1500 Focusing on four contexts in which violence occurred across this huge area the contributors to this volume explore the formation of centralized polities through war and conquest institution building and ideological expression by these same polities control of extensive trade networks and the emergence and dominance of religious ecumenes Attention is also given to the idea of how theories of violence are relevant to the specific historical circumstances discussed in the volume s chapters A final section on the depiction of violence both visual and literary demonstrates the ubiquity of societal efforts to confront meanings of violence during this longue dur e Piedras Labradas
 Victor Montejo, 1995 The poems in Montejo s SCULPTED STONES give lyric expression to the feelings of exile and to the sometimes comic difficulties of living in a foreign culture Throughout this book Montejo extols the values of the Maya culture and denounces the Guatemalan government s attempts to destroy the Indian society At times with tenderness at times with humor at times with scathing irony Montejo examines nature politics and recorded history to get at the truths of the present and the past The Mixtec Pictorial Manuscripts Maarten Jansen, Gabina Aurora Pérez Jiménez, 2010-10-15 This handbook surveys and describes the illustrated Mixtec manuscripts that survive in Europe the United States and Mexico Religion and Power
 Nicole Maria Brisch, 2008 This volume represents a collection of contributions presented during the Third Annual University of Chicago Oriental Institute Seminar Religion and Power Divine Kingship in the Ancient World and Beyond held at the Oriental Institute February 23 24 2007 The purpose of this conference was to examine more closely concepts of kingship in various regions of the world and in different time periods The study of kingship goes back to the roots of fields such as anthropology and religious studies as well as Assyriology and Near Eastern archaeology More recently several conferences have been held on kingship drawing on cross cultural comparisons Yet the question of the divinity of the king as god has never before been examined within the framework of a cross cultural and multi disciplinary conference Some of the recent anthropological literature on kingship relegates this question of kings who deified themselves to the background or voices serious misgivings about the usefulness of the distinction between divine and sacred kings Several contributors to this volume have pointed out the Western Judeo Christian background of our categories of the human and the divine However rather than abandoning the term divine kingship because of its loaded history it is more productive to examine the concept of divine kingship more closely from a new perspective in order to modify our understanding of this term and the phenomena associated with it Reconsidering Olmec Visual Culture
 Carolyn E. Tate, 2012-01-18 Recently scholars of Olmec visual culture have identified symbols for umbilical cords bundles and cave wombs as well as a significant number of women portrayed on monuments and as figurines In this groundbreaking study Carolyn Tate demonstrates that these subjects were part of a major emphasis on gestational imagery in Formative Period Mesoamerica In Reconsidering Olmec Visual Culture she identifies the presence of women human embryos and fetuses in monuments and portable objects dating from 1400 to 400 BC and originating throughout much of Mesoamerica This highly original study sheds new light on the prominent roles that women and gestational beings played in Early Formative societies revealing female shamanic practices the generative concepts that motivated caching and bundling and the expression of feminine knowledge in the 260 day cycle and related divinatory and ritual activities Reconsidering Olmec Visual Culture is the first study that situates the unique hollow babies of Formative Mesoamerica within the context of prominent females and the prevalent imagery of gestation and birth It is also the first major art historical study of La Venta and the first to identify Mesoamerica s earliest creation narrative It provides a more nuanced understanding of how later societies including Teotihuacan and West Mexico as well as the Maya either rejected certain Formative Period visual forms rituals social roles and concepts or adopted and transformed them into the enduring themes of Mesoamerican symbol systems "The Only True People" Bethany J. Beyette, Lisa J. LeCount, 2017-03 A timely and rigorous examination of ethnicity among the ancient Maya focusing on ethnogenesis and exploring the complexities of Maya identity how it developed how it emerged and how it continues to change Challenges the notion of ethnically homogenous Maya peoples for their region and chronology Provided by publisher Handbook to Life in the Aztec World Manuel Aguilar-Moreno, 2006 Describes daily life in the Aztec world including coverage of geography foods trades arts games wars political systems class structure religious practices trading networks writings architecture and science Fifth Sun Camilla Townsend, 2019 Fifth Sun offers a comprehensive history of the Aztecs spanning the period before conquest to a century after the conquest based on rarely used Nahuatl language sources written by the indigenous people Politics of Liberation Enrique D. Dussel, 2011 Offers a reading of the political history of the world as an against story a story of an anti traditional tradition This text presents an alternative reading of the history of the political world and the ideas that have inspired their political philosophy Twin Tollans Cynthia Kristan-Graham, 2007 This volume had its beginnings in the two day colloquium Rethinking Chich n Itz Tula and Tollan that was held at Dumbarton Oaks The selected essays revisit long standing questions regarding the nature of the relationship between Chichen Itza and Tula Rather than approaching these questions through the notions of migrations and conquests these essays place the cities in the context of the emerging social political and economic relationships that took shape during the transition from the Epiclassic period in Central Mexico the Terminal Classic period in the Maya region and the succeeding Early Postclassic period Mathematics Across Cultures Helaine Selin, 2012-12-06 Mathematics Across Cultures A History of Non Western Mathematics consists of essays dealing with the mathematical knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Inca Egyptian and African mathematics among others the book includes essays on Rationality Logic and Mathematics and the transfer of knowledge from East to West The essays address the connections between science and culture and relate the mathematical practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay is well illustrated and contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both the history of science and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups The Cambridge World History Jerry H. Bentley, Sanjay Subrahmanyam, Merry E. Wiesner-Hanks, 2015-04-09 The era from 1400 to 1800 saw intense biological commercial and cultural exchanges and the creation of global connections on an unprecedented scale Divided into two books Volume 6 of the Cambridge World History series considers these critical transformations The first book examines the material and political foundations of the era including global considerations of the environment disease technology and cities along with regional studies of empires in the eastern and western hemispheres crossroads areas such as the Indian Ocean Central Asia and the Caribbean and sites of competition and conflict including Southeast Asia Africa and the Mediterranean The second book focuses on patterns of change examining the expansion of Christianity and Islam migrations warfare and other topics on a global scale and offering insightful detailed analyses of the Columbian exchange slavery silver trade entrepreneurs Asian religions legal encounters plantation economies early industrialism and the writing of history Central America Steve C. Ropp, James A. Morris, 1984 Palaces of the Ancient New World Susan Toby Evans, Joanne Pillsbury, 2004 Among the most sumptuous buildings of antiquity were royal palaces As in the Old World kings and nobles of ancient Mexico and Peru had luxurious administrative quarters in cities and exquisite pleasure palaces in the countryside This volume explores the great houses of the ancient New World from palaces of the Aztecs and Incas looted by the Spanish conquistadors to those lost high in the Andes and deep in the jungle This volume the first scholarly compendium of elite residences of the high cultures of the New World presents definitive descriptions and interpretations by leading scholars in the field Authoritative yet accessible this extensively illustrated book will serve as an important resource for anthropologists archaeologists and historians of art architecture and related disciplines Dress and Identity Mary Harlow, 2012 IAA Interdisciplinary Series Studies in Archaeology History Literature and Art Volume II Series Editor Gillian Shepherd University of Birmingham
