Maybecks Landscapes Drawing In Nature:

Maybeck's Landscapes Dianne Suzette Harris, Bernard R. Maybeck, 2004 While Maybeck's architectural career has been firmly established little writing has discussed and analyzed his ideas about landscape here taken to include his garden designs by which he integrated house and land as well as his grand landscape schemes for sites such as Twin Peaks in San Francisco Maybeck produced stunning and at times gigantic pastel drawings many of which are reproduced here in color

Landscape Theory Rachel DeLue, James Elkins, 2010-10-28 Artistic representations of landscape are studied widely in areas ranging from art history to geography to sociology This book brings together more than fifty scholars from many disciplines to establish new ways of thinking about landscape in art

Sites Unseen Dianne Harris, D. Fairchild Ruggles, 2007-05-27 Sites Unseen challenges conventions for viewing and interpreting the landscape using visual theory to move beyond traditional practices of describing and classifying objects to explore notions of audience and context While other fields such as art history and geography have engaged poststructuralist theory to consider vision and representation the application of such inquiry to the natural or built environment has lagged behind This book by treating landscape as a spatial psychological and sensory encounter aims to bridge this gap opening a new dialogue for discussing the landscape outside the boundaries of current art criticism and theory As the contributors reveal the landscape is a widely adaptable medium that can be employed literally or metaphorically to convey personal or institutional ideologies Walls gates churchyards and arches become framing devices for a staged aesthetic experience or to suit a sociopolitical agenda The optic stimulation of signs symbols bodies and objects combines with physical acts of climbing and walking and sensory acts of touching smelling and hearing to evoke an overall vision of landscape Sites Unseen considers a variety of different perspectives including ancient Roman visions of landscape the framing techniques of a Moghul palace and a contemporary case study of Christo's The Gates as examples of human attempts to shape our sensory cognitive and emotional experiences in the landscape

Landscape and Race in the United States Richard Schein, 2012-11-12 Landscape and Race in the United States is the definitive volume on racialized landscapes in the United States Edited by Richard Schein each essay is grounded in a particular location but all of the essays are informed by the theoretical vision that the cultural landscapes of America are infused with race and America's racial divide While featuring the black white divide the book also investigates other social landscapes including Chinatowns Latino landscapes in the Southwest and white suburban landscapes The essays are accessible and readable providing historical and contemporary coverage

Landscape Architecture, 2006 Inherit the Holy Mountain Mark Stoll, 2015 Inherit the Holy Mountain puts religion at the center of the history of American environmentalism rather than at its margins demonstrating how religion provided environmentalists with content direction and tone for the environmental causes they espoused

Blooming in Winter Pamela Valois, 2021-06-29 When Pam Valois a young photographer met Jacomina Maybeck in 1979 she saw the woman she wanted to be in her own later years Tarring roofs and splitting logs into her eighties Jackie presided over the legacy of Bernard Maybeck and his clan on Berkeley's legendary Nut Hill The friendship between the two women led to a best selling book Gifts of Age a treasury of stories about successful aging Blooming in Winter is an intimate portrait of Jackie that gives us a paradigm for living exuberantly until the very end Hawaiian Modern Vladimir Ossipoff, Marc Treib, 2007-01-01 At the forefront of the postwar phenomenon known as tropical modernism Vladimir Ossipoff 1907-1998 won recognition as the master of Hawaiian architecture Although he practiced at a time of rapid growth and social change in Hawaii Ossipoff criticized large scale development and advocated environmentally sensitive designs developing a distinctive form of architecture appropriate to the lush topography light and microclimates of the Hawaiian islands This book is the first to focus on Ossipoff's career presenting significant new material on the architect and situating him within the tropical modernist movement and the cultural context of the Pacific region The authors discuss how Ossipoff synthesized Eastern and Western influences including Japanese building techniques and modern architectural principles In particular they demonstrate that he drew inspiration from the interplay of indoor and outdoor space as advocated by such architects as Frank Lloyd Wright applying these to the concerns and vernacular traditions of the tropics The result was a vibrant and glamorous architectural style captured vividly in archival images and new photography As the corporate projects and private residences that Ossipoff created for such clients as IBM Punahou School Linus Pauling Jr and Clare Boothe Luce surpass their fiftieth anniversaries critical assessment of these structures offered here by distinguished scholars in the field will illuminate Ossipoff's contribution to the universal challenge of making architecture that is delightfully particular to its place and durable over time Second Suburb Dianne Harris, 2013-11-06 Carved from eight square miles of Bucks County farmland northeast of Philadelphia Levittown Pennsylvania is a symbol of postwar suburbia and the fulfillment of the American Dream Begun in 1952 after the completion of an identically named community on Long Island the second Levittown soon eclipsed its New York counterpart in scale and ambition yet it continues to live in the shadow of its better known sister and has received limited scholarly attention Second Suburb uncovers the unique story of Levittown Pennsylvania and its significance to American social architectural environmental and political history The volume offers a fascinating profile of this planned community in two parts The first examines Levittown from the inside including oral histories of residents recalling how Levittown shaped their lives One such reminiscence is by Daisy Myers part of the first African American family to move to the community only to become the targets of a race riot that would receive international publicity The book also includes selections from the syndicated comic strip Zippy the Pinhead in which Bill Griffith reflects on the angst ridden trials of growing up in a Levittown and an extensive photo essay of neighborhood homes schools churches parks and swimming pools collected by Dianne Harris The second part of the book views Levittown from the outside Contributors consider the community's place in planning and architectural history and the Levitts strategies for the mass production of housing Other chapters address the class stratification of neighborhood sections through price structuring individual attempts to personalize a home's form and space as a representation of class and identity the builders focus on the kitchen as the centerpiece of the home and its greatest selling point the community's environmental and ecological legacy racist and exclusionary sales policies resident activism during the gas riots of 1979 and America's lost Eden Bringing together some of the top scholars in architectural history American studies and landscape studies Second Suburb explores the surprisingly rich interplay of design technology and social response that marks the emergence and maturation of an exceptionally potent rendition of the American Dream Dwell, 2006-02 At Dwell we're staging a minor revolution We think that it's possible to live in a house or apartment by a bold modern architect to own furniture and products that are exceptionally well designed and still be a regular human being We think that good design is an integral part of real life And that real life has been conspicuous by its absence in most design and architecture magazines
