Sherwood, 2013-09-04 The title and subtitle say a great deal about the character of this book These are stories about people who inevitably stand out in a crowd for their personal attributes their ethical standards the ways in which they have coped with great problems and their remarkable achievements Significantly fourteen of the sixteen stories in this book are about people who have in some way contributed to better government Several have worked directly in government others have been teachers and still others have found ways to make contributions Not all the stories are about people in the U S The two stories from Brazil involve people who stayed at home and did their good work there in the other two instances already blossoming careers at home were ended by extreme governmental changes In all cases however these are people who must be admired for their extreme dedication to the highest ideals of service In effect this book can be considered a primer on government that works The two whose stories did not directly concern government contributed mightily to a better society One was a highly productive author who in later years concentrated on children's books and wrote more than 50 of them The other pioneered a wholly different journalistic undertaking the city regional magazine Today these publications are found throughout the country and are distinguished by their design quality and their commitment to the communities they serve McBroom Tells the Truth Sid Fleischman, 1998 After leaving their rocky Connecticut farm to seek their fortunes in the West Josh McBroom his wife Melissa and their eleven redheaded children stop in Iowa where they become the owners of a small but very unusual piece of property The Best in Children's Books Zena Sutherland, 1973 Reviews 1 400 books for children chosen as the best published during the years 1966 1972 The New Politics of the Textbook Heather Hickman, Brad J. Porfilio, 2012-10-13 In an age of unprecedented corporate and political control over life inside of educational institutions this book provides a needed intervention to investigate how the economic and political elite use traditional artifacts in K 16 schools to perpetuate their interests at the expense of minoritized social groups The contributors provide a comprehensive examination of how textbooks the most dominant cultural force in which corporations and political leaders impact the schooling curricula shape students thoughts and behavior perpetuate power in dominant groups and trivialize social groups who are oppressed on the structural axes of race class gender sexuality and disability

Several contributors also generate critical insight in how power shapes the production of textbooks and evaluate whether textbooks still perpetuate dominant Western narratives that normalize and privilege patriotism militarism consumerism White supremacy heterosexism rugged individualism technology and a positivistic conception of the world Finally the book highlights several textbooks that challenge readers to rethink their stereotypical views of the Other to reflect upon the constitutive forces causing oppression in schools and in the wider society and to reflect upon how to challenge corporate and political dominance over knowledge production
