Modellers Datafile 12 Andy Evans,2010-11-20 The McDonnell Douglas F 4 Phantom II is a tandem two seat twin engined all weather long range supersonic jet interceptor fighter fighter bomber Part one of this title provides detailed photographic coverage of the USAF F4C F 4D RF 4C F 4E F 4G QF 4E G and Thunderbird variants McDonnell Douglas F-4 Phantom II Andy Evans,2010-07 Features 128 pages Chr 45 full colour throughout Details of the Phantoms flown by the Armed Forces of Germany Japan United Kingdom Greece Turkey Australia Israel Spain South Korea Egypt and Iran Individual nation airframe anomalies and weaponry Colour side views by David Howley Modelling Export Versions in popular scales A guide to available kits decals and accessories Scale plans by David Howley F-4 Phantom II Society ,2001 USN McDonnell Douglas F-4 Phantom II Peter E. Davies,2016-03-24 Originally designed as a carrier borne long range interceptor armed with radar guided missiles and tasked with defence against missile launching bombers the Phantom II went on to establish itself as one of the most important multi role fighter attack and reconnaissance aircraft of the 20th century Arguably the United States most important aircraft in the Vietnam War where it played the role of workhorse as well as being a deadly MiG interceptor the Phantom was also a mainstay of Atlantic Fleet operations intercepting Soviet bomber and reconnaissance aircraft and turning them away from the carrier groups at the height of the Cold War This book reveals the design and development history of the naval Phantom its variants and the exported designs adopted by other NATO countries Packed with illustrations photographs and first hand accounts it provides a technical history of one of the most famous aircraft ever built USAF McDonnell Douglas F-4 Phantom II Peter E. Davies,2013-04-20 A definitive technical guide to the USAF and foreign variants of the McDonnell Douglas F4 Phantom In many respects the most successful versatile and widely used combat aircraft of the post war era the F 4 Phantom II was quickly adopted by the USAF after its spectacular US Navy introduction Its introduction to USAF squadrons happened just in time for the Vietnam conflict where USAF F 4Cs took over MiG fighting duties from the F 100 Super Sabre Although the F 4 was never intended as a dog fighter to tangle with light nimble gun armed MiGs it was responsible for destroying 109 MiGs in aerial combat At the end of their careers many of the survivors from the 3 380 land based Phantoms were converted into target drones for training purposes New aircraft were also built for West Germany Iran and Israel As Peter Davies outlines in this illustrated history the USAF s experience with the Phantom showed clearly that the air to air fighter was still a necessity Its decision to fund its successor the McDonnell Douglas F 15 Eagle as well as the F 16 Fighting Falcon and F 22A Raptor was heavily influenced by the lessons of US and other Phantom pilots in combat McDonnell-Douglas F-4 Phantom II at George Air Force Base, California Don Logan,2018-02-28 This concise illustrated history focuses on the McDonnell Douglas F 4 Phantom II aircraft and units assigned to George AFB California from 1964 92 George s association with the aircraft began with the arrival of the first F 4s in April 1964 and would last over twenty eight years The initial mission was to train F 4 aircrews and from 1964 through

1973 the majority of these graduates went directly to Southeast Asia in support of the Vietnam War As the need for newly trained aircrews decreased the 35th Tactical Fighter Wing and later the 37th TFW added an operational commitment flying F 4Es and F 4C Wild Weasels as well as F 4G Advanced Wild Weasel aircraft The training of aircrews for Germany's Air Force was added to the 35th TFW's mission in December 1972 F 4 operations continued at George under the 35th and 37th wings until inactivation of the 35th Wing in December 1992 and the closing of George AFB at the end of the Cold War USAF F-4 Phantom II MiG Killers 1965-68 Peter E. Davies,2012-11-20 The USAF introduced the F 4C Phantom II into the Vietnam war in April 1965 from Ubon RTAB Thailand The F 4C D soon became the Air Force's principal fighter over the North destroying 85 MiGs by the close of 1968 This book describes how the USAF turned a gunless naval interceptor into an opponent to the more nimble VPAF MiGs It explains how the Air Force gradually followed US Navy initiatives in the use of the F 4's missile armament but employed very different tactics and aircrew training The roles of key personalities such as Col Robin Olden are discussed together with armament and markings crews and engagements McDonnell Douglas F-4 Phantom II William R. Peake,2004 A legend in its own time over five thousand Phantoms were built in St Louis and Japan over more than twenty years This heavily tabular book gives the construction number and first flight date of each aircraft and the attrition or retirement date and disposition of those no longer in service USAF USN and USMC aircraft which have scored combat victories are also detailed McDonnell Douglas F-4 Phantom 1958 Onwards (all marks) Ian Black,2016-05-15 First entering service in 1960 with the US military the F 4 Phantom remained at the forefront of US air power throughout the 1970s and 1980s It saw extensive action during the Vietnam War as the principal air superiority fighter for both the US Navy and Air Force as well as in the ground attack and reconnaissance roles The F 4J K and M also played key roles with the RAF and Royal Navy in the same period Former RAF Phantom navigator Ian Black gives the F 4 the Haynes Manual treatment USN F-4 Phantom II vs VPAF MiG-17/19 Peter E. Davies,2009-11-17 The Vietnam War placed unexpected demands upon American military forces and equipment which had been focused on the probability of tactical nuclear warfare The principal US naval fighter the McDonnell F 4 Phantom had originally been designed to defend the Fleet from air attack at long range However its tremendous power and bomb carrying capacity made it an obvious candidate for the attack mission in Vietnam from 1965 onwards Its opponent was the MiG 17 a direct descendant of the MiG 15 which had given USAF Sabre jets a hard fight in the Korean War This book brings to life their dangerous duels and includes detailed cockpit views and other specially commissioned artwork to highlight the benefits and shortcomings of each plane type It was in the skies over Vietnam that many of the techniques of air combat evolved as pilots learned how to use and to defeat supersonic fighters for the first time RAF F-4 M Phantom FGR2 - XV408 Restoration 2019 Pete MacKean,2019-08-15 Sadly I'm not an engineer nor did I serve with the RAF unfortunately but I am an enthusiast who began working as a volunteer with a local museum after developing some health issues I joined Tangmere Military Aviation Museum near

Chichester in West Sussex England around seven years ago November 2012 I began as a guide and then turned my hand to the dark side with the engineering team something I am familiar with having restored many Land Rovers and Armoured Vehicles in previous work now I get to play with military aircraft 1 1 ScaleThis publication is my account of our F 4 M Phantom FGR2 XV408 that I began to restore back in March 2015 the book is more reference and more likely to be of use to modellers for some authentic views of the ins and outs of an RAF Phantom II and of course for any budding enthusiast also embarking on a similar road of restoration and I might suggest DON T it will hurt youI use the term restoration which of course really it is not we might normally refer to restoration as ready to use but unfortunately our air frames are too far gone cut about to be moved by road and pillaged for their instruments perhaps to fill holes in other air frames or to sit on a shelf with a collector our planes will sadly never move under their own steam let alone fly and will remain on static display onlyTo me XV408 is more preserved and should be seen by our museums visitors inside and out where possible experience what it must be like to work on such a beast back in the height of the Cold WarI have around 2500 images so this really is a shortened version thank heavens I hear you cry but the process completed over three plus years includes most of the external sanding and repaint and around thirteen months of research and re installation of both cockpits instruments and seats with some items replicatedSome items are just too difficult to get in any time period either being expensive or simply not available so some parts have been replicated as authentically as possible that s where my graphical modelling and limited engineering skills come in I have also included a few low res images found in the public domain of 408 during her service with the RAF unfortunately I have not been able to locate all the owners of their images if they still exist so first apologies if I have not credited you but do get in contact a few images have come from Google images and others from the likes of David Gledhill and Bob Daniels via FacebookAnyway please enjoy or just laugh at my efforts and if you require more images just let me know via email which is petemackean sky com you can also find me on Facebook or feel free to visit myself and the museum part with some hard earnt cash and perhaps get up close and personal with 408thanksPete MacKean F-4 E/F/Ej/Qf-4e Phantom II: Aircraft in Detail Robert Pied,Nicolas Deboeck,2021-02 Walk around and action photography of the Phantom II

McDonnell F-4 Phantom Gerard Paloque,2010-05-01 Shortly after the US Navy put the F 4H 1 Phantom II into service in 1960 the US Air Force in turn took an interest in it After a successful comparison with the best machines of the period it was decided at the beginning of 1962 to use it as the standard tactical fighter It was in May 1963 that the first USAF F 4C overall similar to the Navy version made its first flight and exceeded Mach 2 Several versions and variants of the twin engine fighter were produced over almost ten years taking advantage each time of the progress made in avionics power plants and armament with the original all missile concept being eventually put aside in the light of the fighting in South East Asia in which the aircraft took an active part in exchange for an on board weapon which turned out to be very effective both in the aerial combat and ground attack roles Apart from the USAF and the various units of the Air National Guard or the United States Reserve which used the 2 600 F 4s up to the middle of the 90s especially for recce or electronic warfare the Phantom IIs were also very successful in the export markets since more than 1 200 examples were flown by ten or so countries especially NATO ones Some like Japan even built them under license in large numbers and many like Israel and Iran often used them successfully in combat US Marine Corps F-4 Phantom II Units of the Vietnam War Peter E. Davies,2012-11-20 Although designed as a carrier borne interceptor the F 4 Phantom II was a very successful ground attack aircraft for the US Marines paving the way for it use in this capacity by the USAF and many other air forces It was closely involved in some of the toughest battles of the Vietnam War Twenty five US Marine Corps squadrons flew versions of the Phantom II and 11 of them used the aircraft in South East Asia from May 1965 through to early 1973 Rather than the air to air missiles that were the main component in the original F 4 armament these aircraft carried an ever expanding range of weaponry Some toted 24 500 lb bombs and others strafed with up to three 20 mm gun pods while most flew daily sorties delivering napalm Snakeye bombs and big Zuni rockets Many US Marines holding small outpost positions in Laos and South Vietnam against heavy Viet Cong attack owed their lives to the Phantom II pilots who repeatedly drove off the enemy Featuring stunning profile illustrations and photographs throughout this book examines these missions in the context of US Marine Corps close support doctrine using the direct experience of a selection of the aircrew who flew and organised those missions McDonnell Douglas F-4 Phantom II Andy Evans,2008-02 The McDonnell Douglas F 4 Phantom II is a tandem two seat twin engined all weather long range supersonic jet interceptor fighter fighter bomber Part two of this title provides detailed photographic coverage of the US Navy and US Marine Corps variants Palace Cobra Ed Rasimus,2007-08-28 Picking up where the acclaimed When Thunder Rolled leaves off the author pens a riveting memoir of his service as an experienced combat pilot in the waning days of the Vietnam War photos Martins Press F-4 Phantom Bill Gunston,1977 McDonnell Douglas F-4 Phantom Geoff Coughlin,2022-06-20 For military modelers and aviation buffs the history of the F 4 Phantom II along with detailed guidance for building the fighter jet The McDonnell Douglas F 4 Phantom II was the most produced American supersonic military jet with 5 195 aircraft being produced By any standards the F 4 has been incredibly successful used not only by the USAF and US Navy but many air forces around the world including Germany Israel Turkey and Japan The F 4 was designed as a long range fighter interceptor and fighter bomber excellent in all roles assigned to it The Phantom has performed leading roles in multiple conflicts around the world from the Vietnam War through to the Gulf War Although the F 4 left US service in 1996 it has continued in service with other air forces only just being retired in 2020 from the Japanese Air Self Defence Force This new title in Pen British FGR 2 and F 4J UK All the popular model scales are represented 1 72 1 48 and 1 32 This book is aimed at scale modellers of all levels interested in building the F 4 Phantom II
