Pedagogy and Language Learning Gabriela C. Zapata, Manel Lacorte, 2017-09-01 This book is the first volume to be devoted to the examination of the application of the multiliteracies pedagogical framework to the teaching of Spanish to heritage language learners in higher education institutions in the United States The Hispanic population is a growing minority and the presence of heritage speakers can be observed in second language Spanish classes in all levels of education which presents unique challenges for practitioners This collection focuses on differing populations of learners in educational settings in a variety of geographical areas such as Arizona California Maryland Massachusetts Ohio Tennessee and Texas The studies included in the volume offer invaluable data and methodological insights into the instructional advantages of multiliteracies pedagogies in heritage language classrooms and they will appeal to Spanish practitioners and researchers as well as those interested in the education and practice of heritage languages      Effective Programs for Latino Students Robert E.

Slavin, Margarita Calderon, Margarita Calderon, 2012-11-12 Latino or Hispanic children are one of the fastest growing groups in U S schools today On average these students perform worse than Anglo students on measures of academic achievement and other measures of academic success and their drop out rate is high There are schools of excellence among those serving Latino children but the majority of these children are placed at risk by schools and community institutions unable to build on the cultural personal and linguistic strengths these children are likely to bring with them to school Schools serving Latino students need programs based on high quality research capable of being replicated and adapted to local circumstances and needs The purpose of this book is to present the current state of the art with respect to research on effective instructional programs for Latino students in elementary and secondary grades Surprisingly this has not been done before there are many books on the situation of Latino students in U S schools but none so far have reviewed research on the outcomes of programs designed to enhance the academic achievement of these students The chapters represent a broad range of methodologies from experimental to correlational to descriptive and the solutions they propose are extremely diverse Each examines in its own way programs and practices that are showing success Together they present a rich array of research based effective programs that are practical widely available and likely to make a profound difference What binds the chapters together is a shared belief that Latino students can succeed at the highest levels if they receive the quality of instruction they deserve and a shared belief that reform of schools serving many Latino students is both possible and essential This is a book filled with statistics description and reviews of research but even more it is filled with optimism about what schools for Latino students can be and what these students will achieve It is a highly relevant and useful resource for educators policymakers and researchers who want to use research to inform the decisions they make about how to help Latino students succeed in elementary and secondary schools and beyond Children's Books in Print, 2007 ,2006 Reading for Understanding Catherine Snow,2002-04-18 In fall 1999 the Department of Education s Office of Educational Researchand Improvement OERI asked RAND to examine how OERI might improve thequality and relevance of the education research it funds The RAND ReadingStudy Group RRSg was charged with developing a research framework toaddress the most pressing issues in literacy RRSg focused on readingcomprehension wherein the highest priorities for research are 1 Instruction Statistical Methods for Psychology David C. Howell,2013 STATISTICAL METHODS FOR PSYCHOLOGY 8E International Edition surveys the statistical techniques commonly used in the behavioral and social sciences particularly psychology and education To help students gain a better understanding of the specific statistical hypothesis tests that are covered throughout the text author David Howell emphasizes conceptual understanding This Eighth Edition continues to focus students on two key themes that are the cornerstones of this book s success the importance of looking at the data before beginning a hypothesis test and the importance of knowing the relationship between the statistical test in use and the theoretical questions being asked by the experiment New and expanded topics reflecting the evolving realm of statistical methods include effect size meta analysis and treatment of missing data Reading Wonders Reading/Writing Workshop Start Smart Grade K McGraw-Hill Education,2012-04-03 Early Literacy Constance Kamii,Maryann Murphy Manning,Gary L. Manning,1991 The purpose of this book is to consider early literacy education and whole language from the perspective of constructivist theory which states that human beings acquire knowledge by building it from the inside in interaction with the environment and research More specifically the book intends to show that the whole language movement is part of a larger revolution in thinking about learning and teaching and to enable whole language advocates to explain evaluate and improve upon their beliefs and practices on the basis of a scientific explanatory theory about how children acquire knowledge The first four chapters of the book describe constructivism and the research supporting it while the rest of the book deals with classroom practices and related issues such as assessment The book s nine chapters and their authors are as follows 1 What is Constructivism Constance Kamii 2 Literacy Acquisition and the Representation of Language Emilia Ferreiro 3 Principles of Spelling Found in the First Two Grades Francois Siegrist and Hermina Sinclair 4 Spelling in Kindergarten A Constructivist Analysis Comparing Spanish Speaking and English Speaking Children Constance Kamii and others 5 Learning to Read in New Zealand Brian Cutting and Jerry L Milligan 6 Shared Book Experience Teaching Reading Using Favorite Books Don Holdaway 7 Modeled Writing Reflections on the Constructive Process Maryann Manning and Gary Manning 8 Reading to Know Barbara A Lewis
