David Martin, Lee A. Jacobus, 1978

Humanities through the Arts is intended for introductory level interdisciplinary courses offered across the curriculum in the Humanities Philosophy Art English Music and Education departments Arranged topically by art form from painting sculpture photography and architecture to literature music theater film and dance This beautifully illustrated text helps students learn how to actively engage a work of art The new sixth edition retains the popular focus on the arts as an expression of cultural and personal values     How to Read a Person Like a Book Gerard I. Nierenberg, Henry H. Calero, 1994 This unique program teaches listeners how to decode and reply to non verbal signals from friends and business associates when those signals are often vague and thus frequently ignored     Theater as Data Miguel Escobar Varela, 2021-08-02 In Theater as Data Miguel Escobar Varela explores the use of computational methods and digital data in theater research He considers the implications of these new approaches and explains the roles that statistics and visualizations play Reflecting on recent debates in the humanities the author suggests that there are two ways of using data both of which have a place in theater research Data driven methods are closer to the pursuit of verifiable results common in the sciences and data assisted methods are closer to the interpretive traditions of the humanities The book surveys four major areas within theater scholarship texts not only playscripts but also theater reviews and program booklets relationships both the links between fictional characters and the collaborative networks of artists and producers motion the movement of performers and objects on stage and locations the coordinates of performance events venues and touring circuits Theater as Data examines important contributions to theater studies from similar computational research including in classical French drama collaboration networks in Australian theater contemporary Portuguese choreography and global productions of Ibsen This overview is complemented by short descriptions of the author s own work in the computational analysis of theater practices in Singapore and Indonesia The author ends by considering the future of computational theater research underlining the importance of open data and digital sustainability practices and encouraging readers to consider the benefits of learning to code A web companion offers illustrative data programming tutorials and videos     The Theater Experience Edwin Wilson, 2001 The ideal theater appreciation text for courses focusing on theater elements The Theater Experience encourages students to be active theater goers as they learn about the fundamentals of a production By addressing the importance of the audience Wilson brings the art of performance to life for students who may have little experience with the medium     Applied Mass Communication Theory Jack Rosenberry, Lauren A. Vicker, 2021-09-30 Now in its third edition this dynamic textbook blends coverage of the major theories and research methods in mass communication to enable students to apply their knowledge in today s media and communication careers Maintaining a focus on modern professional application throughout this text provides chronological coverage of the development and use of major theories an overview of both quantitative and qualitative research methods and a step by step guide to conducting a research project informed by this knowledge It helps students bridge their academic coursework with professional contexts including public relations advertising and digital media contexts

It provides breakout boxes with definitions of key terms and theories extended applied examples and graphical models of key theories to offer a visualization of how the various concepts in the theory fit together Applied Mass Communication Theory's hybrid and flexible nature make it a useful textbook for both introductory and capstone courses on mass communication and media theory and research methods as well as courses focused on media industries and professional skills Instructors can access an online instructor's manual including sample exercises test questions and a syllabus at www.routledge.com/9780367630362

Art Worlds Howard Saul Becker, 1982-01-01      The Cigarette Century Allan M. Brandt, 2009-01-06 The invention of mass marketing led to cigarettes being emblazoned in advertising and film deeply tied to modern notions of glamour and sex appeal It is hard to find a photo of Humphrey Bogart or Lauren Bacall without a cigarette No product has been so heavily promoted or has become so deeply entrenched in American consciousness And no product has received such sustained scientific scrutiny The development of new medical knowledge demonstrating the dire harms of smoking ultimately shaped the evolution of evidence based medicine In response the tobacco industry engineered a campaign of scientific disinformation seeking to delay disrupt and suppress these studies Using a massive archive of previously secret documents historian Allan Brandt shows how the industry pioneered these campaigns particularly using special interest lobbying and largesse to elude regulation But even as the cultural dominance of the cigarette has waned and consumption has fallen dramatically in the U S Big Tobacco remains securely positioned to expand into new global markets The implications for the future are vast 100 million people died of smoking related diseases in the 20th century in the next 100 years we expect 1 billion deaths worldwide      Theater Alvin Goldfarb, Edwin Wilson, 1994 Created for Theater Appreciation courses that cover both history and elements Theater The Lively Art 6 e remains a comprehensive introductory theater text an introduction to the audience's experience of theater an investigation of the elements of theater and a study of the important developments in the history of theater      Fashion, Costume, and Culture Sara Pendergast, 2004      Designing the User Interface Ben Shneiderman, Catherine Plaisant, 2010      Online Statistics Education David M Lane, 2014-12-02 Online Statistics An Interactive Multimedia Course of Study is a resource for learning and teaching introductory statistics It contains material presented in textbook format and as video presentations This resource features interactive demonstrations and simulations case studies and an analysis lab This print edition of the public domain textbook gives the student an opportunity to own a physical copy to help enhance their educational experience This part I features the book Front Matter Chapters 1-10 and the full Glossary Chapters Include I Introduction II Graphing Distributions III Summarizing Distributions IV Describing Bivariate Data V Probability VI Research Design VII Normal Distributions VIII Advanced Graphs IX Sampling Distributions and X Estimation Online Statistics Education A Multimedia Course of Study <http://onlinestatbook.com> Project Leader David M Lane Rice University
