Quarterly Review Of Literature:

Quarterly Review of Literature Theodore Russell Weiss, Renée Karol Weiss, 1946 Quarterly Review of Literature M. Moore, 1940-01-01 The King's Touch Tom Sleigh, 2022-02-01 A profound encounter with the hyperreality of our time of global upheaval violence and pandemic Tom Sleigh's poems are skeptical of the inevitability of our fate but in this brilliant new collection they are charged with a powerful sense of premonition as if the future is unfolding before us demanding something greater than the self Justice is a prevailing force even while the poems are fully cognizant of the refugee crisis war famine and the brutal reality of a crowded hospital morgue The King's Touch collides the world of fact and the world of mystery with a resolutely secular register The title poem refers to the once held belief that the king as a divine representative is imbued with the power of healing touch Sleigh turns this encounter between illness and human contact toward his own chronic blood disease and the ongoing COVID 19 pandemic and its mounting death tolls One poem asks isn't it true that no matter how long you wear them masks don't grieve only faces do In this essential new work Sleigh shows how the language of poetry itself can revive and recuperate a sense of a future under the conditions of violence social unrest and global anxiety about the fate of the planet The Quarterly Review William Gifford, Sir John Taylor Coleridge, John Gibson Lockhart, Whitwell Elwin, William Macpherson, William Smith, Sir John Murray (IV), Rowland Edmund Prothero (Baron Ernle), George Walter Prothero, 1892 Bone Map Sara Eliza Johnson, 2014-09-09 These poems like light clarify even as they pierce PUBLISHERS WEEKLY Selected for the National Poetry Series by Martha Collins Sara Eliza Johnson's stunning deeply visceral first collection pulls shards of tenderness from a world on the verge of collapse Here violence and terror infuse the body the landscape and dreams a handful of blackberries offered from bloodied arms bee stings likened to pulses of sunlight a honeycomb of marrow exposed All moments will shine if you cut them open Will glisten like entrails in the sun With figurative language that makes long associative leaps and with metaphors and images that continually resurrect themselves across poems Bone Map builds and transforms its world through a locomotive echo a regenerative force that comes to parallel the psychic quest for redemption that unfolds in its second half The result is a deeply affecting composition that establishes Sara Eliza Johnson as a vital new voice in American poetry Contemporary Poetry Theodore Russell Weiss, René Weiss, 2015-03-08 Here in one volume is some of the most exciting poetry written during the last thirty years culled from the pages of one of America's foremost literary magazines The Quarterly Review of Literature has been among the first to present many significant poets of our time In addition to publishing the work of new poets it has made available little known work of writers of established reputation It has brought to the reading public both experimental and traditional verse and foreign poetry in distinguished translations as well as poetry originally written in English Its pages have been open in the words of its editors to any work that reflects a dedication to ultimately painstaking art This volume contains the work of 146 foreign and American poets It is thus not only a remarkable anthology but a valuable retrospective of the literary
