African Film and Literature Lindiwe Dovey, 2009 Analyzing a range of South African and West African films inspired by African and non African literature Lindiwe Dovey identifies a specific trend in contemporary African filmmaking one in which filmmakers are using the embodied audiovisual medium of film to offer a critique of physical and psychological violence Against a detailed history of the medium s savage introduction and exploitation by colonial powers in two very different African contexts Dovey examines the complex ways in which African filmmakers are preserving mediating and critiquing their own cultures while seeking a united vision of the future More than merely representing socio cultural realities in Africa these films engage with issues of colonialism and postcolonialism updating both the history and the literature they adapt to address contemporary audiences in Africa and elsewhere Through this deliberate and radical re historicization of texts and realities Dovey argues that African filmmakers have developed a method of filmmaking that is altogether distinct from European and American forms of adaptation     African Cinema Kenneth W. Harrow, 1999 This collection of essays deals directly and compellingly with contemporary issues in African cinema In particular they address key aspects of post colonialism and feminism the two major topics of interest in current criticism of African films but coverage is also given to spectatorship national identity ethnography patriarchy and the creation of key film industries in developing countries

African Filmmaking Roy Armes, 2006-08-07 Armes offers a wealth of information and a unique perspective on the history and future of African filmmaking     A Companion to African Cinema Kenneth W. Harrow, Carmela Garritano, 2018-12-27 An authoritative guide to African cinema with contributions from a team of experts on the topic A Companion to African Cinema offers an overview of critical approaches to African cinema With contributions from an international panel of experts the Companion approaches the topic through the lens of cultural studies contemporary transformations in the world order the rise of globalization film production distribution and exhibition This volume represents a new approach to African cinema criticism that once stressed the sociological and sociopolitical aspects of a film The text explores a wide range of broad topics including cinematic economics video movies life in cinematic urban Africa reframing human rights as well as more targeted topics such as the linguistic domestication of Indian films in the Hausa language and the importance of female African filmmakers and their successes in overcoming limitations caused by gender inequality The book also highlights a comparative perspective of African videoscapes of Southern Nigeria Ethiopia and C te d Ivoire and explores the rise of Nairobi based Female Filmmakers This important resource Puts the focus on critical analyses that take into account manifestations of the political changes brought by neocolonialism and the waning of the cold war Explores Examines the urgent questions raised by commercial video about globalization Addresses issues such as funding the acquisition of adequate production technologies and apparatuses and the development of adequately trained actors Written for film students and scholars A Companion to African Cinema offers a look at new critical approaches to African cinema

Unthinking Eurocentrism Ella Shohat, Robert Stam, 2013-09-27 This excellent book corrects eurocentric criticism from media studies in the past by examining Hollywood movie genres such as the western and the musical from a multicultural perspective

Questioning African Cinema Nwachukwu Frank Ukaide, 2002 Postcolonial African cinema David Murphy, Patrick Williams, 2019-01-04 This is the first introduction of its kind to an important cross section of postcolonial African filmmakers from the 1950s to the present Building on previous critical work in the field this volume will bring together ideas from a range of disciplines film studies African cultural studies and in particular postcolonial studies in order to combine the in depth analysis of individual films and bodies of work by individual directors with a sustained interrogation of these films in relation to important theoretical concepts Structurally the book is straightforward though the aim is to incorporate diversity and complexity of approach within the overall simplicity of format Chapters provide both an overview of the director's output to date and the necessary background personal or national cultural or political to enable readers to achieve a better understanding of the director's choice of subject matter aesthetic or formal strategies or ideological stance They also offer a particular reading of one or more films in which the authors aim to situate African cinema in relation to important critical and theoretical debates This book thus constitutes a new departure in African film studies recognising the maturity of the field and the need for complex yet accessible approaches to it which move beyond the purely descriptive while refusing to get bogged down in theoretical jargon Consequently the volume should be of interest not only to specialists but also to the general reader

Dictionary of African Filmmakers Roy Armes, 2008-07-11 Chiefly short biographies and filmographies

Men in African Film & Fiction Lahoucine Ouzgane, 2011 Fills a gap in the international literature by offering new insights into the heterogeneous ways in which African men are performing negotiating and experiencing masculinity Through their analysis of the depictions in film and literature of masculinities in colonial independent and post independent Africa the contributors open some key African texts to a more obviously politicized set of meanings Collectively the essays provide space for rethinking current theory on gender and masculinity how only some of the most popular theories in masculinity studies in the West hold true in African contexts how Western masculinities react with indigenous masculinities on the continent how masculinity and femininity in Africa seem to reside more on a continuum of cultural practices than on absolutely opposite planes and how generation often functions as a more potent metaphor than gender Lahoucine Ouzgane is Associate Professor of English Film Studies University of Alberta Canada

Postcolonial Automobility Lindsey B. Green-Simms, 2017-10-24 For more than a century cars have symbolized autonomous unfettered mobility and an increasingly global experience And yet they are often used differently outside the centers of global capitalism This pioneering book considers how through the lens of the automobile we can assess the pleasures dangers and limits of global modernity in West Africa Through new and provocative readings of famous plays novels and films as well as recent popular videos Postcolonial Automobility reveals the surprising ways in which automobility in the region is at once an everyday practice an ethos a fantasy of autonomy and an affective activity intimately tied to modern social life Lindsey B Green Simms begins with the history of motorization in West Africa from the colonial era to the decolonizing decades after World War II and addresses the tragedy of car accidents through a close reading of Wole Soyinka's 1965 postindependence play The Road Shifting to screen media she discusses Ousmane Sembene's Xala and Jean Pierre Bekolo's Quartier Mozart and reviews popular low budget Nollywood films Finally Green Simms considers how feminist texts rewrite and work in dialogue with the male centered films and novels where the car stands in for patriarchal power and capitalist achievement Providing a unique perspective on technology in Africa one refusing to be confined to narratives of either underdevelopment or inevitable progress and covering a broad range of interdisciplinary material Postcolonial Automobility will appeal not only to scholars and students of African literature and cinema but also to those in postcolonial and globalization studies    Indiscretions ,2015-06-29

In the West once apparently progressive causes such as sexual equality and lesbian and gay emancipation are increasingly redeployed in order to discipline and ostracize immigrant underclass subjects primarily Muslims Gender and sexuality on the one hand and race culture and or ethnicity on the other are more and more forced into separate mutually exclusive realms That development cannot but bear on the establishment of queer and postcolonial studies as separate academic specializations among whom relations usually are as cordial as they are indifferent This volume inquires into the possibilities and limitations of a parcelling out of objects alternative to the common scheme crude but often apposite in which Western sexual subjectivity is analyzed and criticized by queer theory while postcolonial studies takes care of non Western racial subjectivity Sex race always already distinguished yet never quite apart Roderick A Ferguson has described liberal pluralism as an ideology of discreteness in that it disavows race gender and sexuality's mutually formative role in political social and economic relations It is in that spirit that this volume advocates the discreet hence judicious and circumspect reconsideration of the in discrete realities of race and sex Contributors Jeffrey Geiger Merrill Cole Jonathan Mitchell and Michael O Rourke Jaap Kooijman Beth Kramer Maaike Bleeker Rebecca Fine Romanow Anik Imre Lindsey Green Simms Nishant Shahani Ryan D Fong and Murat Aydemir

When the World Laughs William V. Costanzo,2020 When the World Laughs is a book about the intersection of humor history and culture It explores how film comedy one of the world's most popular movie genres reflects the values and beliefs of those who enjoy its many forms its most enduring characters and stories its most entertaining routines and funniest jokes What people laugh at in Europe Africa or the Far East reveals important truths about their differences and common bonds By investigating their traditions of humor by paying close attention to what kinds of comedy cross national boundaries or what gets lost in translation this study leads us to a deeper understanding of each other and ourselves Section One begins with a survey of the theories and research that best explain how humor works It clarifies the varieties of comic forms and styles identifies the world's most archetypal figures of fun and traces the history of the world's traditions of humor from earliest times to today It also examines the techniques and aesthetics of film comedy how movies use the world's rich repertoire of amusing stories gags and wit to make us laugh and think Section Two offers a close look at national and regional trends It applies the concepts set forth earlier to specific films across a broad spectrum of sub genres historical eras and cultural contexts providing an insightful comparative study of the world's great traditions of film comedy

Postcolonial Artists and Global Aesthetics Akinwumi Adesokan,2011-10-21 What happens when social and political processes such as globalization shape cultural production Drawing on a range of writers and filmmakers from Africa and elsewhere Akin Adesokan explores the forces at work in the production and circulation of culture in a globalized world He tackles problems such as artistic representation in the era of decolonization the uneven development of aesthetics across the world and the impact of location and commodity culture on genres with a distinctive approach that exposes the global processes transforming cultural forms

Afropolis Rautenstrauch-Joest-Museum,2012 Metropolises often evoke images of flashy high rise buildings permanent background noise backed up cars and people moving quickly in all directions in their masses New York Tokyo London Sao Paulo But what about Cairo Facts, Fiction, and African Creative Imaginations Toyin Falola,Fallou Ngom,2009-09-11 This volume brings together insights from distinguished scholars from around the world to address the facts fiction and creative imaginations in the pervasive portrayals of Africa its people societies and cultures in the literature and the media The fictionalization of Africa and African issues in the media and the popular literature that blends facts and fiction has rendered perceptions of Africa its cultures societies customs and conflicts often superficial and deficient in the popular Western consciousness The book brings eminent scholars from a variety of disciplines to sort out the persistent fictionalization of Africa from facts pertaining to the genesis of powerful cultural political or religious icons the historical and cultural significance of intriguing customs such as tribal marks gender relations causes of conflicts and African responses and creative imaginations in contemporary African films fiction and literature among others

Encountering Modernity Keyan G. Tomaselli,2006 Africa Shoots Back Melissa Thackway,2003 Filmmakers in sub Saharan francophone Africa have been using cinema since independence in the 1960s to challenge Western stereotypes This text shows how directors have produced alternatives focusing on issues of memory and history Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse Nwachukwu Frank Ukadike,2014-02-27 This book emphasizes the plurality of African cinema through a variety of themes and critical approaches that illuminate the scope of the mobilizing techniques for its proliferation as well as its deep concern for methods of production film aesthetics theory and criticism Critical Approaches to African Cinema Discourse will offer scholars and students in film media and cultural studies as well as in history and Black and African studies a broader understanding of African cinema as a cultural art The contributors show that it is informed not only by ideological determinants but also by the concern to boost perspectives for reading African film images that may or may not belong to the conventional interpretations proffered in Euro American critical paradigms Trash Kenneth W. Harrow,2013-04-09 An engaging study of trash as a metaphor in contemporary African cinema African Studies Review Highlighting what is melodramatic flashy low and gritty in the characters images and plots of African cinema Kenneth W Harrow uses trash as the unlikely metaphor to show how these films have depicted the globalized world Rather than focusing on topics such as national liberation and postcolonialism he employs the disruptive notion of trash to propose a destabilizing aesthetics of African cinema Harrow argues that the spread of commodity capitalism has bred a culture of materiality and waste that now pervades African film He posits that a view from below permits a way to understand the tropes of trash present in African cinematic imagery

African Cinema: Manifesto and Practice for Cultural Decolonization Michael T. Martin, Gaston Jean-Marie Kaboré, 2023-08-08 Challenging established views and assumptions about traditions and practices of filmmaking in the African diaspora this three volume set offers readers a researched critique on black film Volume One of this landmark series on African cinema draws together foundational scholarship on its history and evolution Beginning with the ideological project of colonial film to legitimize the economic exploitation and cultural hegemony of the African continent during imperial rule to its counter historical formation and theorization It comprises essays by film scholars and filmmakers alike among them Roy Armes Med Hondo F rid Boughedir Haile Gerima Oliver Barlet Teshome Gabriel and David Murphy including three distinct dossiers a timeline of key dates in the history of African cinema a comprehensive chronicle and account of the contributions by African women in cinema and a homage and overview of Ousmane Semb ne the Father of African cinema
