analysis of the data identifies doctor patient communication as a micro performance of broader socio cultural realities in which social status power knowledge and personal beliefs and values all find expression in the consultative setting. Importantly while both doctor and patient voices are shown to contribute to an essentially asymmetrical exchange the study also identifies the holistic and empathic Fellow Human voice which places doctors and patients on a more equal footing. In connection with this voice the Spanish concept of simpatía is also discussed. While the model in this study was developed within a specific socio cultural framework it is hoped that it will be adapted and modified more widely and contribute to a better understanding between doctors and their patients. Winifred Bryan Horner Outstanding Book Award Winner Occupying Our Space sheds new light on the contributions of Mexican women journalists and writers during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries marked as the zenith of Mexican journalism. Journalists played a significant role in transforming Mexican social and political life before and after the Revolution 1910 1920 and women were a part of this movement as publishers writers public speakers and political activists. However their contributions to the broad historical changes associated with the Revolution as well as the pre and post revolutionary eras are often excluded or overlooked. This book fills a gap in feminine rhetorical history by providing an in depth look at several important journalists who claimed rhetorical puestos or public speaking spaces. The book closely examines the writings of Laureana Wright de Kleinhans 1842 1896 Juana Beltrán Gutiérrez de Mendoza 1875 1942 the political group Las mujeres de Zitacuaro 1900 Hermila Galindo 1896 1954 and others. Grounded in the overarching theoretical lens of mestiza rhetoric Occupying Our Space considers the ways in which Mexican women journalists negotiated shifting feminine identities and the emerging national politics of the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries. With full length Spanish primary documents along with their translations this scholarship reframes the conversation about the rhetorical and intellectual role women played in the ever changing political and identity culture in Mexico. Traces the history of female aviation milestones from the early part of the 20th Century to the current space programme. Time and Space, 2000-04-28 Written while in exile in the United States. Time and Space were originally intended to appear together in a single volume. Not until 1986 however did they appear so in Spanish and not until 1988 were they published together in English. By presenting them together Jiménez had wanted them to convey the same continuity of emotion the same philosophical intensity that he had experienced while writing them. All My Life he wrote in his introduction I have toyed with the idea of writing a continuous poem with no concrete theme sustained only by its own surprise its rhythm its discoveries its light its successive joys that is its intrinsic elements its essence. That continuous poem is Time and Space the last book Jimnez wrote Presented here in a bilingual edition Time and Space will take readers of both English and Spanish on the longest and most sustained ride on the crest of poetry they will ever enjoy The greatest poem in this Century Octavio Paz Antonio T de Nicols translator and editor of Time and Space is also widely known for his highly acclaimed translation of the Juan Ramn Jimnez classic Platero and I as well as many other works in Spanish His first book of poetry Remembering the God to Come is also being published by iUniverse com
