The Ethics of Human Cloning Leon Kass,James Q. Wilson,1998

Today biological science is rising on a wall of worry No other science has advanced more dramatically during the past several decades or yielded so many palpable improvements in human welfare Yet none except nuclear physics has aroused greater apprehensions among the general public and leaders in such diverse fields as religion the humanities and government In this engaging book Leon R Kass the noted teacher scientist humanist and chairman of the President s Council on Bioethics and James Q Wilson the preeminent political scientist to whom four United States presidents have turned for advice on crime drug abuse education and other crises in American life explore the ethics of human cloning reproductive technology and the teleology of human sexuality Although in their lively dialgue both authors share a fundamental distrust of the notion of human cloning they base their resistance on different views of the role of sexual reproduction and the role of the family Professor Kass contends that in vitro fertilization and other assisted reproduction technologies that place the origin of human life in human hands have eroded the respect for the mystery of sexuality and human renewal Professor Wilson in contrast asserts that whether a human life is created naturally or artificially is immaterial as long as the child is raised by loving parents in a two parent family and is not harmed by the means of its conception This accessible volume promises to inform the public policy debate over the permissible conduct of genetic research and the permissible uses of its discoveries

than three quarters of the sermon Edwards lays down a relentless stream of the most vivid and horrifying descriptions of the danger facing unregenerate men While it is difficult to read such graphic language there is abundant hope in the sermon s conclusion Edwards puts it this way And now you have an extraordinary opportunity a day wherein Christ has thrown the door of mercy wide open and stands calling and crying with a loud voice to poor sinners While those who would rather ignore God s justice in favor of His mercy condemn Edwards and his sermon those who were present and actually heard him preach that day reacted in a decidedly different manner According to the diary of Reverend Stephen Williams who attended the sermon Before the sermon was done there was a great moaning and crying through the whole House what shall I do to be saved oh I am going to hell etc The diary goes on to indicate that Edwards had to interrupt his sermon and come down to minister to those who were under such awful conviction And so in spite of what the scoffers might think or say the amazing and astonishing power of God was manifested among the people that day with many falling not into the hands of an angry God but into the arms of a mighty Savior     Narrative of the Incas Juan de Betanzos,Roland Hamilton,Dana Buchanan,1996 A chronicle that has been judged the single most authentic document of its kind Based on testimonies from descendants of Inca kings who in the 1540s 50s still remembered the oral history and traditions of their ancestors Beginning in 1551 Betanzost
