Popular Science ,2007-05 Popular Science gives our readers the information and tools to improve their technology and their world The core belief that Popular Science and our readers share The future is going to be better and science and technology are the driving forces that will help make it better Revolutionary Time Fanny Söderbäck,2019-12-01 This book is the first to examine the relationship between time and sexual difference in the work of Julia Kristeva and Luce Irigaray Because of their association with reproduction embodiment and the survival of the species women have been confined to the cyclical time of nature a temporal model that is said to merely repeat itself Men on the other hand have been seen as bearers of linear time and as capable of change and progress Fanny S derb ck argues that both these temporal models make change impossible because they either repeat or repress the past The model of time developed here revolutionary time aims at returning to and revitalizing the past so as to make possible a dynamic embodied present and a future pregnant with change S derb ck stages an unprecedented conversation between Kristeva and Irigaray on issues of both time and difference and engages thinkers such as Simone de Beauvoir Jacques Derrida Sigmund Freud Judith Butler Hannah Arendt and Plato along the way Reevaluating NAFTA I. Hussain,2012-12-05 Depicting NAFTA to be but a stepping stone rather than final product of regional economic integrative efforts a chapter specific 15 year assessment conveys the upsides and downsides of North America s Camelot moment Climate Change and Indigenous Peoples in the United States Julie Koppel Maldonado,Benedict Colombi,Rajul Pandya,2014-04-05 With a long history and deep connection to the Earth s resources indigenous peoples have an intimate understanding and ability to observe the impacts linked to climate change Traditional ecological knowledge and tribal experience play a key role in developing future scientific solutions for adaptation to the impacts The book explores climate related issues for indigenous communities in the United States including loss of traditional knowledge forests and ecosystems food security and traditional foods as well as water Arctic sea ice loss permafrost thaw and relocation The book also highlights how tribal communities and programs are responding to the changing environments Fifty authors from tribal communities academia government agencies and NGOs contributed to the book Previously published in Climatic Change Volume 120 Issue 3 2013 Quebec Hydropolitics David Massell,2011-01-27 The construction in the 1940s of hydroelectric dams and reservoirs Lakes Manouan and Passe Dangereuse were enormous projects that had consequences not only on the environment but also on international affairs Built by the Aluminium Company of Canada Rio Tinto Alcan the project helped meet the American and Allied Forces demand for electrical power and aluminium ingot during the Second World War but also forced Innu Montagnais hunter trappers from their ancestral lands Examining sources as varied as the papers of the Franklin D Roosevelt Presidential Library and interviews with Montagnais elders Quebec Hydropolitics presents a compelling synthesis of business and social history as well as wartime politics David Massell reconstructs the story of a changing landscape through the perspectives of corporate executives government officials and Aborigines to show the effect that war had on Canadian resource extraction and energy policy as well as its indigenous peoples A narrative that flows from the Saguenay watershed to the centres of political power Quebec Hydropolitics is an informative look at the costs and benefits of large scale industrialization The Global Climate System Review ,1993
