Language, Politics, and Social Interaction in an Inuit Community Donna Patrick,2013-06-10 Since the early 1970s the Inuit of Arctic Quebec have struggled to survive economically and culturally in a rapidly changing northern environment The promotion and maintenance of Inuktitut their native language through language policy and Inuit control over institutions have played a major role in this struggle Language Politics and Social Interaction in an Inuit Community is a study of indigenous language maintenance in an Arctic Quebec community where four languages Inuktitut Cree French and English are spoken It examines the role that dominant and minority languages play in the social life of this community linking historical analysis with an ethnographic study of face to face interaction and attitudes towards learning and speaking second and third languages in everyday life

Defaults in Morphological Theory Nikolas Gisborne, Andrew Hippisley, 2017-10-13

Chapters in this volume describe morphology using four different frameworks that have an architectural property in common they all use defaults as a way of discovering and presenting systematicity in the least systematic component of grammar These frameworks Construction Morphology Network Morphology Paradigm function Morphology and Word Grammar display key differences in how they constrain the use and scope of defaults and in the morphological phenomena that they address An introductory chapter presents an overview of defaults in linguistics and specifically in morphology In subsequent chapters key proponents of the four frameworks seek to answer questions about the role of defaults in the lexicon including Does a defaults based account of language have implications for the architecture of the grammar particularly the proposal that morphology is an autonomous component How does a default differ from the canonical or prototypical in morphology Do defaults have a psychological basis And how do defaults help us understand language as a sign based system that is flawed where the one to one association of form and meaning breaks down in the morphology
