De George-Walker, Janice K. Jones, Karl J. Matthews, Warren Midgley, Catherine H. Arden, Linda De George-Walker, 2014-02-26 Through ten research projects this book explores the topic of educational learning and development in order to examine issues that are impacting either positively or negatively on current research in this area The authors explore the capacity building potential of the projects and what factors impacted on or assisted their development     Mainstreams, Margins and the Spaces In-between Karen Trimmer, Ali Black, Stewart Riddle, 2014-11-20 This book explores the complexities of investigating minorities majorities boundaries and borders and the experiences of researchers who choose to work in these spaces It engages with issues of ethics disclosure and representation and contends with and seeks to contribute to emerging debates around power and the positioning of researchers and participants Chapters examine epistemologies that shape researchers beliefs about the forms of research that are valued in educational research and theory and consider the importance of research that genuinely seeks to explore voice culture story authenticity and identity Resisting the backdrop of standardisation performativity and accountability agendas pervading governments and organisations the book attends to the stories of real people to understand regional and rural landscapes to examine culture and the human condition and to give voice to those at the fringes of society who remain largely neglected and unheard Drawing largely on studies from Australia the book provides an overview of the many types of research being engaged in revealing the value of different kinds of research and gaining insight into how meaning and findings are disseminated in research and educational sectors and back into the contexts where research takes place Mainstreams Margins and the Spaces In between will be of key interest to early career researchers and academics internationally as well as postgraduate students completing research methods courses in the field of education and the wider social sciences Journal of Education and School World ,1903 The Making of Australia's Gold Coast Alan J.

Blackman,2024-08-01 Blackman draws on original material and the work of many earlier researchers to paint a verbal picture of the evolution of a remarkable city In an easy to read style he highlights some of the conditions key events and individuals that have led to the development of Australia s Gold Coast The story of the City of Gold Coast is more than just any story It describes the growth of Australia s sixth largest city the nation s most populous city that is not a state capital A city of more than 600 000 it has grown at a rate of four per cent yearly since the 1950s It sustains a growth rate well ahead of its infrastructure and its economy s capacity to provide full time employment to the many new arrivals A city heavily reliant on tourism and construction it is regularly subjected to the boom and bust of a fickle world economy But it continues to expand and evolve And like so many coastal towns worldwide this Gold Coast may soon be threatened by the tides This book is essential for students researchers anyone interested in industry and urban development and those seeking to understand the city where they live work and play Children and the Environment in an Australian Indigenous

Community Angela Kreutz,2014-11-20 Aboriginal children represent one of the fastest growing population segments in Australia yet the lives of Aboriginal children in their environment has rarely been subjected to systematic and in depth study In this book Angela Kreutz considers the relationship between the environment attachment and development in indigenous children examining theoretical constructs and conceptual models by empirically road testing these ideas within a distinct cultural community The book presents the first empirical study on Australian Aboriginal children s lives from within the field of child environment studies employing an environmental psychology perspective combined with architectural and anthropological understandings Chapters offer valuable insights into participatory planning and design solutions concerning Aboriginal children in their distinct community environment and the cross cultural character of the case study illuminates the commonalities of child development as well as recognising the uniqueness that stems from specific histories in specific places Children and the Environment in an Australian Indigenous Community makes significant theoretical methodological and practical contributions to the international cross disciplinary field of child environment studies It will be of key interest to researchers from the fields of environmental ecological developmental and social psychology as well as anthropologists sociologists and those studying the environment and planning The Scottish Educational Journal ,1919 A Reader on

Audience Development and Cultural Policy Steven Hadley,2024-02-22 This book brings together for the first time twenty two chapters on arts marketing and audience development Edited and curated to be accessible to both academics and those working in the cultural sector the book provides an invaluable resource for anyone interested in the traditions philosophies and approaches which underpin our ideas about increasing audiences for the arts Covering a range of topics and international perspectives it tells the story of how arts marketing and audience development came to be such an important management practice in the cultural sector This edited volume discusses the relationship of audience development to arts management and cultural policy and outlines the foundational arguments which have led to contemporary debates around everyday creativity and cultural democracy By providing vital insights from both the theory and practice of arts marketing and audience development the book will serve as an excellent reference work for researchers Simultaneously this book will also be an invaluable read for those working in cultural leadership and arts management roles The chapters in this book were originally published in various Routledge journals APAIS 1999: Australian public affairs information service , Data

Culture and the Organisation of Teachers' Work Nerida Spina,2020-05-31 Data Culture and the Organisation of Teachers Work provides an in depth look at how the political and media scrutiny of teachers pupils and schools now organises teaching and learning Spina also examines how educational data is used in schools and where it fails to take account of the everyday experiences of school leaders teachers and students Drawing on primary research and discussing practice in relation to the National Assessment Programme Literacy and Numeracy NAPLAN this book discusses the strengths and weaknesses of a data driven approach the restrictions this can impose and how to navigate them as a teacher Ideal for scholars and postgraduate students of education this book provides a comprehensive institutional ethnographic look into the daily lived experiences of teachers and the effects of standardised testing Educating Students with Disabilities in Queensland Independent Christian Schools Dr. David Mercer,2018-08-27 In recent decades in Australia as elsewhere students with disabilities SWD have been increasingly introduced to mainstream schools This reflects both changes in social attitudes towards young people with a disability and changes in the policy environment for disability and education At the same time independent schools in Australia have been growing both in number and rate but as Prasser 2009a has indicated the numbers of SWD in independent schools are not growing at a proportional rate In Christian independent schools policy issues with regard to SWD collide with central tenets of the Christian faith and the business models in which these schools operate and these may generate tensions and problems with regard to educating these students This study sought to explore the issues surrounding educating SWD in a number of regional independent schools in the state of Queensland Australia It sought to uncover uniquely Christian approaches to educating SWD by exploring a the perspectives of principals of these independent Christian schools b tensions between faith and policy and c issues surrounding the mainstreaming of SWD The research used methods of qualitative data collection and analysis In depth interviews with ten principals of regional independent schools in Queensland RICSQ provided the primary form of data collection complemented by data gained from studies of relevant documents Data analysis involved two stages i thematic analysis and ii discourse analysis Surprisingly the findings from these analyses showed that the enrolment of students with disabilities in the RICSQ privileged a secular business discourse above Christian concerns With regard to the education of

SWD these principals were clearly facing a dichotomous tension between the expectations of their faith and those of having to lead sizeable business organisations In particular the critical policy moment for educating SWD in RICSQ came at the point of enrolment The outcomes of the study have highlighted the tensions facing principals in these schools in educating SWD and may provide evidence for principals school boards and others in the development of policy for SWD in independent schools They also highlight a need for more widespread perhaps quantitative research around the education of SWD in such schools and this may also have implications for the education of such students in other schools and systems A New Way to Think About Teacher Professional Learning: Tina Doe,2013 In 2005 Tina Doe set out to change the way teachers learn She has pioneered what is today known as the Teacher Professional Learning Initiative an exciting and meaningful way through which teachers collaborate to learn In this book Tina Doe tells the story of how schools and teachers are coming under increasing pressure to meet the new expectations that a fast changing technologically based and global world is demanding She argues teachers have to now meet the learning needs of all students not just those who can do schooling But as Doe outlines the teacher education literature and anecdotes from teachers and education systems across Australia and elsewhere about teacher professional learning suggests there must be a better way This book is a case study of one such approach to teacher professional learning that works
