characters or contexts Racial Asymmetries specifically examines the importance of first person narration in Asian American fiction published in the postrace era focusing on those cultural productions in which the author's ethnoracial makeup does not directly overlap with that of the storytelling perspective Through rigorous analysis of novels and short fiction such as Sesshu Foster's Atomik Aztex Sabina Murray's A Carnivore's Inquiry and Sigrid Nunez's The Last of Her Kind Sohn reveals how the construction of narrative perspective allows the Asian American writer a flexible aesthetic canvas upon which to engage issues of oppression and inequity power and subjectivity and the complicated construction of racial identity Speaking to concerns running through postcolonial studies and American literature at large Racial Asymmetries employs an interdisciplinary approach to reveal the unbounded nature of fictional worlds

Latino-Anglo Bargaining Christine

Rack,2006-02-02 This book shows the mechanisms by which cultural differences reinforce structural privilege and disadvantage in the informal process of mediated negotiation Are all people equally likely to pursue their own material self interest in the negotiation process used in small claims mediation Did Latinos and Anglos bargain more generously with members of their own group The central questions derived from theories of ethnic and gender differences concerned how and to what degree culture structure and individual choice operated to alter the goals bargaining process and outcomes expressed motivations and outcome evaluations for outsider groups This book demonstrates how there are real cultural differences in the way that Latinos and Anglos pursue monetary justice that defy dominant assumptions that all culture groups are equally likely to maximize their own outcomes at the expense of others
