Quest For Therapy In Lower Zaire:

The quest for therapy in Lower Zaire John M. Janzen, 1978 Principles of Multicultural Counseling and Therapy Uwe P. Gielen, Juris G. Draguns, Jefferson M. Fish, 2008-06-19 In an era of globalization characterized by widespread migration and cultural contacts psychologists counselors and other mental health professionals face a unique challenge how does one practice successfully when working with clients from so many different backgrounds Gielen Draguns and Fish argue that an understanding of the general principles of multicultural counseling is of great importance to all practitioners The lack of this knowledge can have several negative consequences during therapy including differences in expectations between counselor and client misdiagnosis of the client's concerns missed non verbal cues and the client feeling that she has been misunderstood This volume focuses on the general nature of cultural influences in counseling rather than on counseling specific ethnic groups Counseling practices from all over the world not just those of Western society are explored Bringing together the work of a diverse group of international experts the editors have compiled a volume that is not only concise and teachable but also an essential guidebook for all mental health professionals

The Quest for Therapy John M. Janzen, 1978 The Social Basis of Health and Healing in Africa Steven Feierman, John M. Janzen, 1992-09-22 These essays are an account of disease health and healing practices on the African continent The contributors all emphasize the social conditions linked to ill health and the development of local healing traditions from Morocco to South Africa and from the precolonial era to the present

The Art of Medical Anthropology Sjaak van der Geest, Adri Rienks, 1998 The Postcolonial Turn Rene Devisch, B. Nyamnjoh, 2011-11-04 This innovative book is a forward looking reflection on mental decolonisation and the postcolonial turn in Africanist scholarship As a whole it provides five decennia long lucid and empathetic research involvements by seasoned scholars who came to live in local peoples own ways significant daily events experienced by communities professional networks and local experts in various African contexts The book covers materials drawn from Botswana Cameroon the Democratic Republic of Congo Mozambique Nigeria South Africa and Tanzania Themes include the Whelan Research Academy rap musicians political leaders wise men and women healers Sacred Spirit churches diviners bards and weavers who are deemed proficient in the classical African geometrical knowledge As a tribute to late Archie Mafeje who showed real commitment to decolonise social sciences from western centred modernist development theories commentators of his work pinpoint how these theories sought to dismiss the active role played by African people in their quest for self emancipation One of the central questions addressed by the book concerns the role of an anthropologist and this issue is debated against the background of the academic lecture delivered by Ren Devisch when receiving an honorary doctoral degree at the University of Kinshasa The lecture triggered critical but constructive comments from such seasoned experts as Valentin Mudimbe and Wim van Binsbergen They excoriate anthropological knowledge on account that the anthropologist notwithstanding his or her social and cognitive empathy and intense communication with the host community too often fails to also question her own world and intellectual habitus from the standpoint of her hosts Leading anthropologists carry further into great depth the bifocal anthropological endeavour focussing on local peoples re imagining and re connecting the local and global The book is of interest to a wide readership in the humanities social sciences philosophy and the history of the African continent and its relation with the North

Seekers and Things Peter Lambertz,2017-12-29 Focusing on the intricate presence of a Japanese new religion Sekai Ky seiky in the densely populated and primarily Christian environment of Kinshasa DR Congo this ethnographic study offers a practitioner orientated perspective to create a localized picture of religious globalization Guided by an aesthetic approach to religion the study moves beyond a focus limited to text and offers insights into the role of religious objects spiritual technologies and aesthetic repertoires in the production and politics of difference The boundaries between non Christian religious minorities and the largely Christian public sphere involve fears and suspicion of magic and occult sciences

Improvising Medicine Julie Livingston,2012-08-29 Focused on Botswana s only dedicated oncology ward Improvising Medicine renders the experiences of patients their relatives and clinical staff during a cancer epidemic

The Context of Medicines in Developing Countries Sjaak van der Geest,Susan Reynolds Whyte,2012-12-06 Western pharmaceuticals are flooding the Third World Injections capsules and tablets are available in city markets and village shops from traditional practitioners and street vendors as well as from more orthodox sources like hospitals Although many are aware of this pharmaceutical invasion little has been written about how local people perceive and use these products This book is a first attempt to remedy that situation It presents studies of the ways Western medicines are circulated and understood in the cities and rural areas of Africa Asia and Latin America We feel that such a collection is long overdue for two reasons The first is a practical one people dealing with health problems in developing countries need information about local situations and they need examples of methods they can use to examine the particular contexts in which they are working We hope that this book will be useful for pharmacists doctors nurses health planners policy makers and concerned citizens who are interested in the realities of drug use Why do people want various kinds of medicine How do they evaluate and choose them and how do they obtain them The second reason for these studies of medicines is to fill a need in medical anthropology as a field of study Here we address our colleagues in anthropology medical sociology and related disciplines

Suspect Others Stuart Earle Strange,2021-07-22 This ethnography considers how spirit mediums interactively create self knowledge out of interpersonal suspicion in the racially and religiously diverse Caribbean country of Suriname

The Problem of Money Bernhard Bierlich,2007 Based on long term medical anthropological research in northern Ghana the author analyses issues of health and healing of gender and of the control and use of money in a changing rural African setting He describes the culture of medical pluralism so typical for neo colonial states and people s choices of traditional local medicine plants and sacrifices Islamic medicine charms and various written solutions and modern therapy biomedicine in particular western pharmaceuticals He concludes that the rural urban divide is a fiction that demarcations between these areas are frequently blurred linked by a postcolonial capitalist discourse of local markets regional economies and national structures which frequently emerge in local African settings but often originate in global and multinational markets      Health and disease in tropical Africa Akhtar R,1987-01-31      Morality, Hope and Grief Hansjörg Dilger,Ute Luig,2010-05-01 The HIV AIDS epidemic in sub Saharan Africa has been addressed and perceived predominantly through the broad perspectives of social and economic theories as well as public health and development discourses This volume however focuses on the micro politics of illness treatment and death in order to offer innovative insights into the complex processes that shape individual and community responses to AIDS The contributions describe the dilemmas that families communities and health professionals face and shed new light on the transformation of social and moral orders in African societies which have been increasingly marginalised in the context of global modernity

Culture and Sexual Risk Hans ten Brummelhuis,Gilbert Herdt,2004-08-02 Brummelhuis and Herdt provide an intense examination of sexual risk and its cultural configurations heretofore missing from the AIDS literature The chapters on Western gay men speak to the pressing methodological conceptual and theoretical needs in HIV AIDS research while providing an understanding and documentation of gay men s lives within the emerging corpus of lesbian and gay studies Chapters on the Philippines Brazil Haiti and Africa explore the cultural political and economic contexts surrounding the transmission and prevention of HIV AIDS in these cultures      Health System, Sickness and Social Suffering in Mekelle (Tigray - Ethiopia) Pino Schirripa,2010 In medical anthropology medical system refers to all the healing practices therapeutic knowledge and traditions that in a specific social context people can use in order to cope with health problems It refers as well to all the social actors involved policy makers health professionals healers priests patients and their family Starting from this perspective this book presents the first results of an ethnographic research which was carried out in Tigray the northernmost of the nine ethnic regions of Ethiopia between 2007 and 2008 It analyzes in the social context of Mekelle the capital of Tigray the different healing practices and therapeutic traditions as well as the strategies of the actors acting in the social arena It also explores the health care seeking behaviors of the patients in a context characterized by social suffering and inequalities Series Mekelle University Social Science Series Vol 1      A Companion to African History William H. Worger,Charles Ambler,Nwando Achebe,2018-09-17 Covers the history of the entire African continent from prehistory to the present day A Companion to African History embraces the diverse regions subject matter and disciplines of the African continent while also providing chronological and geographical coverage of basic historical developments Two dozen essays by leading international scholars explore the challenges facing this relatively new field of historical enquiry and present the dynamic ways in which historians and scholars from other fields such as archaeology anthropology political science and economics are forging new directions in thinking and research Comprised of six parts the book begins with thematic approaches to African history exploring the environment gender and family medical practices and more Section two covers

Africa's early history and its pre colonial past early human adaptation the emergence of kingdoms royal power and warring states The third section looks at the era of the slave trade and European expansion Part four examines the process of conquest the discovery of diamonds and gold military and social response and more Colonialism is discussed in the sixth section with chapters on the economy transformed due to the development of agriculture and mining industries The last section studies the continent from post World War II all the way up to modern times Aims at capturing the enthusiasms of practicing historians and encouraging similar passion in a new generation of scholars Emphasizes linkages within Africa as well as between the continent and other parts of the world All chapters include significant historiographical content and suggestions for further reading Written by a global team of writers with unique backgrounds and views Features case studies with illustrative examples In a field traditionally marked by narrow specialisms A Companion to African History is an ideal book for advanced students researchers historians and scholars looking for a broad yet unique overview of African history as a whole

The Moral Discourse of Health in Modern Cairo Mohammed Tabishat, 2014-03-21 In The Moral Discourse of Health in Modern Cairo Persons Bodies and Organs Mohammed Tabishat uses anthropological descriptive methods and discourse analytic perspectives to focus on health care practices in a holistic fashion aimed at preserving and improving life in contemporary Cairo Tabishat employs therapeutic data as a complex index mirroring the existing relations of power and the various ways they are involved in maintaining and challenging the social order

Pastoral Counseling Across Cultures David W. Augsburger, 1986-01-01 In this book David Augsburger discusses the dynamics of pastoral care and counseling across cultural lines Augsburger combines theology with global perspective and cultural sensitivity to posit an inclusive understanding of pastoral care This book will be of great interest to pastoral counselors in both academic and practical contexts

A Bed Called Home Mamphela Ramphele, 1993 In the last three years the migrant labor hostels of South Africa particularly those in the Transvaal have gained international notoriety as theaters of violence For many years they were hidden from public view and neglected by the white authorities Now it seems hostel dwellers may have chosen physical violence to draw attention to the structural violence of their appalling conditions of life Yet we should not lose sight of the fact that the majority of hostel dwellers are peace loving people who have over the years developed creative strategies to cope with their impoverished and degrading environment In this challenging study Dr Mamphela Ramphele documents the life of the hostel dwellers of Cape Town for whom a bed is literally a home for both themselves and their families Elaborating the concept of space in its many dimensions not just physical but political ideological social and economic as well she emphasizes the constraints exerted on hostel dwellers by the limited spaces they inhabit At the same time she argues that within these constraints people have managed to find room for manoeuvre and in her book explores the emancipatory possibilities of their environment The text is illustrated with a number of black and white photographs taken by Roger Meintjes in the townships and hostels

volume draws from Ren Devisch's encounters with groups in southsaharan Africa primarily The author had the privilege to immerse himself around the clock in the Yakaphones activities and thoughts in southwest DR Congo from 1972 to 1974 and intermittently in Kinshasa's shanty towns from 1986 to 2003 The author first examines what sparked his choice to come to Congo and then to pursue research among the Yakaphones in the borderland with Angola He then invites us to follow the trajectory of his plural anthropological view on today's multicentric world It leads us to his praise for honorary doctor Jean Marc Ela's work He then examines the proletarian outbursts of violence that rocked Congo's major cities in 1991 and 1993 These can be read as a settling of scores with the disillusioning colonial and missionary modernisation along with president Mobutu's millenarian Popular Movement of the Revolution Furthermore after considering the morose reduction of a major Yaka dancing mask into a mere museum bound curio in Antwerp the book unravels the Yakaphones perspectives on spirits and sorcery's threat It also analyses their commitment to classical Bantu African healing cults along with their parallel consulting physicians and healers By sharing the Yakaphones life world the analysis highlights their body group world weave interlaced by the principle of co resonance A phenomenological and perspectivist look unfolds the local actors views thereby disclosing the Bantu African genius and setting for a major reversal of perspectives Indeed seeing here from there allows the author to uncover some alienating dynamics at work in his native Belgian Flemish speaking culture To better grasp the realm of life beyond the speakable and factual reasoning the approach occasionally turns to the later Lacan's focus on the unconscious desire the body and its affects The book addresses students and researchers in the humanities and more broadly all those immersed in the heat of the encounter with the culturally different
