Question Of Consent:

Discursive Constructions of Consent in the Legal Process Susan Ehrlich, Diana Eades, Janet Ainsworth, 2016-01-04 As a linguistically grounded critical examination of consent this volume views consent not as an individual mental state or act but as a process that is interactionally and discursively situated It highlights the ways in which legal consent is often fictional at best due to the impoverished view of meaning and the linguistic ideologies that typically inform interpretations and representations in the legal system The authors are experts in linguistics and law who use diverse theoretical and analytical approaches to examine the complex ways in which language is used to seek negotiate give or withhold consent in a range of legal contexts Authors draw on case studies or larger research corpora or a wider sociolegal approach in investigations of police citizen interactions in the street police interviews with suspects police call handlers rape and abduction trials interactions with lay litigants in a multilingual small claims court a restorative justice sentencing scheme for young offenders biomedical research and legal disputes over contracts

The Question of Previous Consent Discussed Gentleman of the Bar, 1756 Concerned with the national debt bill controversy Date Rape and Consent Mark Cowling, 2018-12-17 First published in 1998 this book Mark Cowling attempts to make sense of this massive discrepancy much of which is now based on how date rape is understood After a review of the way rape is dealt with in Britain he examines the survey evidence One major issue he identifies is that of the boundary between rape and normal sex Arguing this cannot be sharply defined he uses philosophical techniques to look at the issues involved particularly those of communicative sexuality and of the imbalance of power between men and women The implications for philosophy the law and psychological research are considered 100
