Evaluating AIDS Prevention Programs National Research Council, Division of Behavioral and Social Sciences and Education, Commission on Behavioral and Social Sciences and

Education, Committee on AIDS Research and the Behavioral, Social, and Statistical Sciences, Panel on the Evaluation of AIDS Interventions, 1991-02-01 With insightful discussion of program evaluation and the efforts of the Centers for Disease Control this book presents a set of clear cut recommendations to help ensure that the substantial resources devoted to the fight against AIDS will be used most effectively This expanded edition of Evaluating AIDS Prevention Programs covers evaluation strategies and outcome measurements including a realistic review of the factors that make evaluation of AIDS programs particularly difficult Randomized field experiments are examined focusing on the use of alternative treatments rather than placebo controls The book also reviews nonexperimental techniques including a critical examination of evaluation methods that are observational rather than experimental a necessity when randomized experiments are infeasible Ashamed to Die Andrew J. Skerritt, 2011 By focusing on a small town in South Carolina this study of the HIV AIDS crisis in the South reveals the hard truths of an ongoing and complex issue Skerritt contends that the United States has failed to adequately address the threat of HIV and AIDS in communities of color and that taboos about love race and sexuality combined with Southern conservatism white privilege and black oppression continue to create an unacceptable death toll The heartbreak of Americas failure comes alive through case studies of individuals such as Carolyn a wild child whose rebellion coincided with the advent of AIDS and Nita a young woman searching for love and trapped in an abusive relationship The results are most visible at the towns segregated burial ground where dozens of young black men and women who have died from AIDS are laid to rest Not only a call to action and awareness this is a true story of how persons of faith enduring love and limitless forgiveness can inspire others by serving as guides for poor communities facing a public health threat burdened with conflicting moral and social conventions Preparing for the Future of HIV/AIDS in Africa Institute of Medicine, Board on Global Health, Committee on Envisioning a Strategy to Prepare for the Long-Term Burden of HIV/AIDS: African Needs and U.S. Interests, 2011-03-28 HIV AIDS is a catastrophe globally but nowhere more so than in sub Saharan Africa which in 2008 accounted for 67 percent of cases worldwide and 91 percent of new infections The Institute of Medicine recommends that the United States and African nations move toward a strategy of shared responsibility such that these nations are empowered to take ownership of their HIV AIDS problem and work to solve it Inventing the AIDS Virus Peter H. Duesberg, 1998-05-01 Investigates the political and financial forces that have shaped AIDS research including the growing dissension within scientific ranks the power politics among virologists and other controversial issues HIV and the Blood Supply Institute of Medicine, Committee to Study HIV Transmission Through Blood and Blood Products, 1995-10-05 During the early years of the AIDS epidemic thousands of Americans became infected with HIV through the nation s blood supply Because little reliable information existed at the time AIDS first began showing up in hemophiliacs and in others who had received transfusions experts disagreed about whether blood and blood products could transmit the disease During this period of great uncertainty decision making regarding the blood supply became increasingly difficult and fraught with risk This volume provides a balanced inquiry into the blood safety controversy which involves private sexual practices personal tragedy for the victims of HIV AIDS and public confidence in America s blood services system The book focuses on critical decisions as information about the danger to the blood supply emerged The committee draws conclusions about what was done and recommends what should be done to produce better outcomes in the face of future threats to blood safety The committee frames its analysis around four critical area Product treatment Could effective methods for inactivating HIV in blood have been introduced sooner Donor screening and referral including a review of screening to exlude high risk individuals Regulations and recall of contaminated blood analyzing decisions by federal agencies and the private sector Risk communication examining whether infections could have been averted by better communication of the risks Understanding AIDS Seymour Bakerman,1988
