Rubinstein's Chess Masterpieces 1:

Rubinstein's Chess Masterpieces Hans Kmoch, Jacques Hannak, Bernie F. Winkelman, 2012-12 This is not merely a great book It is an important piece of chess history because the author Hans Kmoch visited the Rubinstein Family Home in 1933 in an effort to get the great grandmaster of chess to return to active play When Rubinstein could not be induced to return his family who was living in dire poverty asked Kmoch for help in raising funds The result was an ad placed asking to finance this book on a subscription basis The result was a book entitled Rubinstein gewinnt Hundert Glanzpartien des gro en Schachk nstlers Erl utert von Hans Kmoch Biographische Einleitung von Jacques Hannak Verlag der Wiener Schachzeitung Wien 1933 That book was then translated into this book It was a direct translation All the games are the same I have not been able to find any changes at all although there are no doubt a few I have just purchased the only original copy of the 1933 book Rubinstein gewinnt left that I have been able to find after months of searching I am reprinting it as ISBN 4871875806 Akiba Rubinstein was born on 12 December 1882 in Poland He has long been regarded as the strongest chess player in history who never became world champion A recent trivia quiz appeared in Chess Life Magazine Who is the player who defeated Lasker Capablanca and Alekhine the first time he played each of them The answer was of course Akiba Rubinstein Rubinstein won five tournaments in a row during the period 1912-1914 There is little doubt that he was the strongest player in the world at that time Rubinstein's contribution to chess opening theory has been enormous Almost every major chess opening has a Rubinstein Variation or a Rubinstein Defense Think about it There is no Fischer Defense no Capablanca Defense But there are many variations called the Rubinstein Defense or Variation Only Steinitz has as many openings named after him but the Steinitz Defenses are no longer played Rubinstein far outlived all of his contemporaries His family all survived the war Rubinstein died on 5 March 1961 in Antwerp Belgium at age 83 He was in good physical health until just before he died So perhaps there was a method to his madness Rubinstein's Chess Masterpieces Akiba Rubinstein, 1960-01-01 Here are 100 of Rubinstein's best games against such opponents as Euwe Janowski Kashdan Marshall Tarrasch and many others His highly original contributions to chess theory cannot be overlooked by any serious player Chess Lessons from a Champion Coach Thomas Engqvist, 2023-04-13 Lessons motivation and coaching to make you a better chess player In an ideal world any aspiring chess player at almost any level would get better with a coach If that's not possible having chess champion coach Thomas Engqvist's book at your side is the next best thing In his series of lessons Engqvist guides you through not only the most important elements of chess to master but also the psychology how to marry knowledge with imagination and how to stay motivated Suitable for older children through to adults the lessons are drawn from chess games through history from the 16th century to Magnus Carlsen and latest Alpha Zero computer chess It features a range of key players including Steinitz Lasker Nimzowitsch Botvinnik Soviet chess school and Fischer With clear and accessible annotations to give clarity the games highlight the most important lessons to learn and just as importantly how to practise
