C. Harwood, 2013-05-17 Despite the development of modern educational theories and the ingenious methods devised to hold a child's attention today education and even childhood appear to be facing something of a crisis The fact that boredom or even extreme violence can be spoken of in connection with little children is a sad reflection on our times Are children in danger of losing the natural human fantasy that is the source of all creative imagination in later life Are we in danger indeed of losing childhood altogether Although first published in 1940 Cecil Harwood's little book has become a classic introduction to the perennial themes of child development and growth and to the basic principles of Rudolf Steiner Waldorf education Cecil Harwood 1898 1975 was one of the founding members of the first Waldorf school in the English speaking world and worked for many years as a Steiner teacher His sensitive awareness and respect for the innate wisdom of childhood shine through this book As he demonstrates a sympathetic and loving picture of this natural childhood wisdom is a prerequisite of any good educational endeavour

Often called Waldorf 101, this award-winning anthology of 58 essays is the first book parents and educators turn to as they explore the history, philosophy, curriculum and traditions of Waldorf Steiner education. Richly illustrated with pencil drawings. Extensive 40 page list of resources in appendix including annotated suggestions for further reading. Benjamin Franklin Award 1996. The Education of the Child Rudolf Steiner, 1996-05 18 lectures in Dornach January 9 February 22 1920 CW 196

In the vast range of Rudolf Steiner's lectures, jewels of all kinds lie hidden in plain sight, awaiting only our discovery of them. Such lectures contain a kind of wisdom not found anywhere else. And sometimes, as in What Is Necessary in These Urgent Times, they also have a translucency and conviction that makes them transformational. In early 1920, political, economic, social and spiritual chaos was everywhere. The old world had fallen apart and would need to be rebuilt. Anthroposophy too had to be remade. Recognizing this, Rudolf Steiner tirelessly worked for the threefold social order, establishing the first Waldorf school, helping to create businesses and addressing the talented, educated and idealistic young people who were beginning to turn toward Anthroposophy for answers. In these lectures, Steiner speaks in the new, direct Michaelic way, seeking the path to a new way of doing Anthroposophy. Throughout the critical situation of the time, he never lost his sense of humor or his compassion and equilibrium. His tone is warm, relaxed and intimate. Rather than following a strictly predetermined path, he speaks directly from the heart about what concerned him. He stresses that the task of spiritual science is to awaken us to reality and to a true understanding of life that sees through illusions and understands the ever-present potential of evil. Speaking both esoterically and exoterically, he returns repeatedly to the importance of community, of meeting one another face to face, heart to heart, as individuals. Thus, rather than seeking power and control, we are called to cultivate trust and receptivity. This takes a spiritual transformation. We must learn to live this present life in the context of our greater spiritual life, which extends from before birth through earthly life and into the life after death that precedes our next birth. At the same time, we must come to know the Christ who is to be met only in community. Selfishness, egotism has no part in the new way. When someone is alone, Christ is not there. You cannot find Christ without first feeling a connection to humanity as a whole. You must seek Christ on the path that connects you with all humankind. To be connected only with your own inner experiences leads you away from Christ Steiner deals with many other important themes as well including imperialism the initiate behind Shakespeare Bacon and James I makers of our modern age and well as fascinating initiatory remarks on reincarnation esoteric physiology and psychology Running throughout the talks is the earnest admonition to be true to the spirit and the call to come to our senses and not fall prey to self pity Now as it was then the world needs us to be awake spiritually and we need the world to be awake spiritually There is nowhere to hide What Is Necessary in These Urgent Times is a translation from German of Geistige und soziale Wandlungen in der Menschheitsentwicklung GA 196
