Good Things to Eat, as Suggested by Rufus Rufus Estes, 1911 Good Things to Eat as Suggested by Rufus A Collection of Practical Recipes For Preparing meats game fowl fish Puddings pastries etc That the average parent is blind to the faults of its offspring is a fact so obvious that in attempting to prove or controvert it time and logic are both wasted Ill temper in a child is alas too often mistaken for an indication of genius and impudence is sometimes regarded as a sign of precocity The author however has honestly striven to avoid this common prejudice This book the child of his brain and experience extending over a long period of time and varying environment he frankly admits is not without its faults is far from perfect but he is satisfied that notwithstanding its apparent shortcomings it will serve in a humble way some useful purpose The recipes given in the following pages represent the labor of years Their worth has been demonstrated not experimentally but by actual tests day by day and month by month under dissimilar and in many instances not too favorable conditions One of the pleasures in life to the normal man is good eating and if it be true that real happiness consists in making others happy the author can at least feel a sense of gratification in the thought that his attempts to satisfy the cravings of the inner man have not been wholly unappreciated by the many that he has had the pleasure of serving some of whom are now his staunchest friends In fact it was in response to the insistence and encouragement of these friends that he embarked in the rather hazardous undertaking of offering this collection to a discriminating public To snatch from his daily toil a few moments here and there in order to arrange with some degree of symmetry not the delicacies that would awaken the jaded appetite of the gourmet but to prepare an ensemble that might with equal grace adorn the home table or banquet board has proven a task of no mean proportions Encouraged by his friends however he persevered and this volume is the results of his effort

SKETCH OF MY LIFE I was born in Murray County Tennessee in 1857 a slave I was given the name of my master D J Estes who owned my mother's family consisting of seven boys and two girls I being the youngest of the family After the war broke out all the male slaves in the neighborhood for miles around ran off and joined the Yankees This left us little folks to bear the burdens At the age of five I had to carry water from the spring about a quarter of a mile from the house drive the cows to and from the pastures mind the calves gather chips etc In 1867 my mother moved to Nashville Tennessee my grandmother's home where I attended one term of school Two of my brothers were lost in the war a fact that wrecked my mother's health somewhat and I thought I could be of better service to her and prolong her life by getting work When summer came I got work milking cows for some neighbors for which I got two dollars a month I also carried hot dinners for the laborers in the fields for which each one paid me twenty five cents per month All of this of course went to my mother I worked at different places until I was sixteen years old but long before that time I was taking care of my mother We are delighted to publish this classic book as part of our extensive Classic Library collection Many of the books in our collection have been out of print for decades and therefore have not been accessible to the general public The aim of our publishing program is to facilitate rapid access to this vast reservoir of literature and our view is that this is a significant literary work which deserves to be brought back into print after many decades The contents of the vast majority of titles in the Classic Library have been scanned from the original works To ensure a high quality product each title has been meticulously hand curated by our staff Our philosophy has been guided by a desire to provide the reader with a book that is as close as possible to ownership of the original work We hope that you will enjoy this wonderful classic work and that for you it becomes an enriching experience

George Washington Carver Elizabeth MacLeod,2007-01-01 This title in the Snapshots Images of People and Places in History series introduces readers to the scientist inventor and professor who became a symbol of African American success and interracial harmony George Washington Carver was the orphan son of slaves but he went on to become the world famous Peanut Scientist George invented more than 325 products from peanuts including gasoline shampoo ice cream and chili sauce Even when George was a child he was known as the Plant Doctor because he could make almost any plant grow It was through his groundbreaking research in agriculture that George radically improved the lives of countless African American farmers in the southern United States
