Rule For Children And Other Writings:

A Rule for Children and Other Writings Jacqueline Pascal, 2007-11-01 Jacqueline Pascal 1625 1661 was the sister of Blaise Pascal and a nun at the Jansenist Port Royal convent in France She was also a prolific writer who argued for the spiritual rights of women and the right of conscientious objection to royal ecclesiastic and family authority This book presents selections from the whole of Pascal s career as a writer including her witty adolescent poetry and her pioneering treatise on the education of women A Rule for Children which drew on her experiences as schoolmistress at Port Royal Readers will also find Pascal s devotional treatise which matched each moment in Christ s Passion with a corresponding virtue that his female disciples should cultivate a transcript of her interrogation by church authorities in which she defended the controversial theological doctrines taught at Port Royal a biographical sketch of her abbess which presented Pascal s conception of the ideal nun and a selection of letters offering spirited defenses of Pascal s right to practice her vocation regardless of patriarchal objections Rules and Responsibilities Louise Spilsbury, 2020-09-08 The Asperkid's Secret Book of Social Rules Jennifer Cook O'Toole, 2013 The Asperkid s Secret Book of Social Rules offers witty insights into baffling social codes such as making and keeping friends and common conversation pitfalls Ideal for all 10 17 year olds with Asperger syndrome this book provides inside information on over thirty social rules helping Asperkids to navigate the mysterious world around them Rules of Estrangement Joshua Coleman, PhD, 2024-09-03 A guide for parents whose adult children have cut off contact that reveals the hidden logic of estrangement explores its cultural causes and offers practical advice for parents trying to reestablish contact with their adult children Finally here s a hopeful comprehensive and compassionate guide to navigating one of the most painful experiences for parents and their adult children alike Lori Gottlieb psychotherapist and New York Times bestselling author of Maybe You Should Talk to Someone Labeled a silent epidemic by a growing number of therapists and researchers estrangement is one of the most disorienting and painful experiences of a parent s life Popular opinion typically tells a one sided story of parents who got what they deserved or overly entitled adult children who wrongly blame their parents However the reasons for estrangement are far more complex and varied As a result of rising rates of individualism an increasing cultural emphasis on happiness growing economic insecurity and a historically recent perception that parents are obstacles to personal growth many parents find themselves forever shut out of the lives of their adult children and grandchildren As a trusted psychologist whose own daughter cut off contact for several years and eventually reconciled Dr Joshua Coleman is uniquely qualified to guide parents in navigating these fraught interactions He helps to alleviate the ongoing feelings of shame hurt guilt and sorrow that commonly attend these dynamics By placing estrangement into a cultural context Dr Coleman helps parents better understand the mindset of their adult children and teaches them how to implement the strategies for reconciliation and healing that he has seen work in his forty years of practice Rules of Estrangement gives parents the language and the emotional tools to engage in meaningful conversation with their child the framework to cultivate a healthy relationship moving forward and the ability to move on if reconciliation is no longer possible While estrangement is a complex and tender topic Dr Coleman s insightful approach is based on empathy and understanding for both the parent and the adult child School Rules!
