Ruling Passions Sex Race

David J. Mattingly

Ruling Passions Sex Race:

Ruling Passions Anton Gill, 1995 Based on eye witness accounts and personal memories of colonials and native people and focusing mainly on India and Africa this is a sexual and racial history of the British Empire a history of mixed marriages and mistresses of brothels and missionaries and of memsahibs and concubines Anton Gill argues that sex and race in the context of the Empire reveal much about the true nature of British imperialist ambitions and that from the first colonial outpost to the mid 20th century sexual attitudes at home influenced the behaviour of the colonials abroad Whether they were taking advantage of greater sexual freedom or trying to prevent any interaction with the local population sex was according to the author a major issue for those who ruled the Empire

Race War! Gerald Horne, 2005-11-01 Japan's lightning march across Asia during World War II was swift and brutal Nation after nation fell to Japanese soldiers How were the Japanese able to justify their occupation of so many Asian nations And how did they find supporters in countries they subdued and exploited Race War delves into submerged and forgotten history to reveal how European racism and colonialism were deftly exploited by the Japanese to create allies among formerly colonized people of color Through interviews and original archival research on five continents Gerald Horne shows how race played a key and hitherto ignored role in each phase of the war During the conflict the Japanese turned white racism on its head portraying the war as a defense against white domination in the Pacific We learn about the reverse racial hierarchy practiced by the Japanese internment camps in which whites were placed at the bottom of the totem pole under the supervision of Chinese Korean and Indian guards an embarrassing example of racial payback that was downplayed by the defeated Japanese and the humiliated Europeans and Euro Americans Focusing on the microcosmic example of Hong Kong but ranging from colonial India to New Zealand and the shores of the U S Gerald Horne radically retells the story of the war From racist U S propaganda to Black Nationalist open support of Imperial Japan information about the effect of race on U S and British policy is revealed for the first time This revisionist account of the war draws connections between General Tojo Malaysian freedom fighters and Elijah Muhammed of the Nation of Islam and shows how white racism encouraged and enabled Japanese imperialism In sum Horne demonstrates that the retreat of white supremacy was not only driven by the impact of the Cold War and the energized militancy of Africans and African Americans but by the impact of the Pacific War as well as a chastened U S and U K moved vigorously after this conflict to remove the conditions that made Japan's success possible

Irregular Connections Andrew P. Lyons, Harriet Lyons, 2004-12-01 Irregular Connections traces the anthropological study of sex from the eighteenth century to the present focusing primarily on social and cultural anthropology and the work done by researchers in North America and Great Britain Andrew P and Harriet D Lyons argue that the sexuality of those whom anthropologists studied has been conscripted into Western discourses about sex including debates about prostitution homosexuality divorce premarital relations and hierarchies of gender class and race Because sex is the most private of activities and often carries a high emotional charge it is peculiarly difficult to investigate At times such as the late 1920s and the last decade of the twentieth century sexuality has been a central concern of anthropologists and focal in their theoretical formulations At other times the study of sexuality has been marginalized The anthropology of sex has sometimes been one of the main faces that anthropology presented to the public often causing resentment within the discipline Andrew P Lyons is an associate professor of anthropology at Wilfrid Laurier University Harriet D Lyons is an associate professor of anthropology at the University of Waterloo

Jinnah, Pakistan and Islamic Identity Akbar Ahmed, 2005-08-12 Every generation needs to reinterpret its great men of the past Akbar Ahmed by revealing Jinnah's human face alongside his heroic achievement both makes this statesman accessible to the current age and renders his greatness even clearer than before Four men shaped the end of British rule in India Nehru Gandhi Mountbatten and Jinnah We know a great deal about the first three but Mohammed Ali Jinnah the founder of Pakistan has mostly either been ignored or in the case of Richard Attenborough's hugely successful film about Gandhi portrayed as a cold megalomaniac bent on the bloody partition of India Akbar Ahmed's major study redresses the balance Drawing on history semiotics and cultural anthropology as well as more conventional biographical techniques Akbar S Ahmad presents a rounded picture of the man and shows his relevance as contemporary Islam debates alternative forms of political leadership in a world dominated at least in the Western media by figures like Colonel Gadaffi and Saddam Hussein

Nemesis Adrian G. Marshall, 2015-10-23 The Nemesis was the first of a generation of iron clad steam powered naval vessels that established British dominance in Asian waters in the nineteenth century The world's first iron warship the first vessel with truly watertight compartments and the first iron vessel to round the Cape of Good Hope Nemesis represented a staggering superiority over the oar and sail powered naval forces of Britain's Asian rivals Yet strangely her story has never been told to modern audiences and her origins and actions have until now been shrouded in mystery This lively narrative places her in the historical context of the last years of the East India Company and in the history of steam power and iron ships It tells of her exploits in the First Opium War in pirate suppression and naval actions across Asia from Bombay to Burma to the Yangtze River and beyond

Houses Far From Home Margaret Rodman Critchlow, 2001-02-01 The houses far from home featured in this book are located in Vanuatu a chain of islands between Fiji and Australia in the southwest Pacific Once known as the Anglo French Condominium of the New Hebrides the islands were jointly administered by the British and French from 1906 to 1980 In this innovative and revealing study of a unique colonial project Margaret Rodman tells the stories of these houses exploring the profound differences of perspective experience and power that domestic spaces reveal and offering a novel look at the history of British colonialism in the Pacific Each chapter has at its heart a house where readers can explore dimensions of race gender and power that domestic spaces reveal Moving across time between different islands and actors between oral memories and archival documents Margaret Rodman provides a richly documented multi sited ethnography of the social history of the New Hebrides

been trying to answer the question how was colonial Burma perceived in and by the Western world and how did people in countries like the United Kingdom and United States form their views This book explores how Western perceptions of Burma were influenced by the popular music of the day From the First Anglo Burmese War of 1824-6 until Burma regained its independence in 1948 more than 180 musical works with Burma related themes were written in English speaking countries in addition to the many hymns composed in and about Burma by Christian missionaries Servicemen posted to Burma added to the lexicon with marches and ditties and after 1913 most movies about Burma had their own distinctive scores Taking Rudyard Kipling's 1890 ballad Mandalay as a critical turning point this book surveys all these works with emphasis on popular songs and show tunes also looking at classical works ballet scores hymns soldiers songs sea shanties and film soundtracks It examines how they influenced Western perceptions of Burma and in turn reflected those views back to Western audiences The book sheds new light not only on the West's historical relationship with Burma and the colonial music scene but also Burma's place in the development of popular music and the rise of the global music industry In doing so it makes an original contribution to the fields of musicology and Asian Studies Cultural Geography Mike

Crang, 2013-08-21 First Published in 1998 The so called cultural turn in contemporary geography has brought new ways of thinking about geography and culture taking cultural geography into exciting new terrain to produce new maps of space and place Cultural Geography introduces culture from a geographical perspective focusing on how cultures work in practice and looking at cultures embedded in real life situations as locatable specific phenomena Definitions of culture are diverse and complex and Crang examines a wealth of different cases and approaches to explore the experience of place the relationships of local and global culture and economy and the dilemmas of knowledge Considering the role of states empires and nations corporations shops and goods literature music and film Crang examines the cultures of consumption and production how places develop meaning for people and struggles over defining who belongs in a place Cultural Geography presents a concise up to date interdisciplinary introduction to this lively and complex field Exploring the diversity and plurality of life in all its variegated richness drawing on examples from around the world Crang highlights changes in current societies and the development of a pick and mix relationship to culture Political Geography Joe Painter, Alex Jeffrey, 2009-02-06 A very good overview Covers the key topics well and in an accessible and engaging style Dr Daniel Hammett Department of Geography Sheffield University This is a revised and updated edition of a core undergraduate resource for political geography Focusing on the social and cultural while systematically overviewing the entire discipline Joe Painter and Alex Jeffrey explain Politics geography and political geography power resources institutions and the history of the field State formation classical views alongside recent work on governance and governmentality Welfare to workfare state the restructuring of present state strategies Democracy citizenship and law different models of democracy in European and global contexts Identity and social movements the relation between identity and political action Nationalism and regionalism ethnicity national identity and otherness Imperialism and post colonialism from world systems theory to post structuralist accounts Geopolitics the political economic and strategic significance of geography Comprehensive accessible and illustrated with real world examples Political Geography provides undergraduates with a thorough understanding of the relationship between geography and politics The Splendor of Silence Indu Sundaresan, 2007-09-18 Internationally bestselling author Sundaresan pens her first novel set in the 20th century merging her Indian and American inspirations into a heartrending tale of tragic love and clashing cultures in a time of war Imperialism, Power, and Identity David J. Mattingly, 2013-12-08 Despite what history has taught us about imperialism's destructive effects on colonial societies many classicists continue to emphasize disproportionately the civilizing and assimilative nature of the Roman Empire and to hold a generally favorable view of Rome's impact on its subject peoples Imperialism Power and Identity boldly challenges this view using insights from postcolonial studies of modern empires to offer a more nuanced understanding of Roman imperialism Rejecting outdated notions about Romanization David Mattingly focuses instead on the concept of identity to reveal a Roman society made up of far flung populations whose experience of empire varied enormously He examines the nature of power in Rome and the means by which the Roman state exploited the natural mercantile and human resources within its frontiers Mattingly draws on his own archaeological work in Britain Jordan and North Africa and covers a broad range of topics including sexual relations and violence census taking and taxation mining and pollution land and labor and art and iconography He shows how the lives of those under Rome's dominion were challenged enhanced or destroyed by the empire's power and in doing so he redefines the meaning and significance of Rome in today's debates about globalization power and empire Imperialism Power and Identity advances a new agenda for classical studies one that views Roman rule from the perspective of the ruled and not just the rulers In a new preface Mattingly reflects on some of the reactions prompted by the initial publication of the book

Mapping Men and Empire Richard Phillips, 2013-10-28 First published in 1996 Adventure stories produced and consumed in vast quantities in eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth century Europe narrate encounters between Europeans and the non European world They map both European and non European people and places In the exotic uncomplicated and malleable settings of stories like Robinson Crusoe they make it possible to imagine and to naturalise and normalise identities that might seem implausible closer to home This book discusses the geography of literature and looking at where adventure stories chart colonies and empires projecting European geographical fantasies onto non European real geographies including the Americas Africa and Australasia Contesting Islam, Constructing Race and Sexuality Sunera Thobani, 2020-12-10 The current political standoffs of the War on Terror illustrate that the interaction within and between the so called Western and Middle Eastern civilizations is constantly in flux A recurring theme however is how Islam and Muslims signify the Enemy in the Western socio cultural imagination and have become the Other against which the West identifies itself In a unique and insightful blend of critical race feminist and post colonial theory Sunera Thobani examines how Islam is foundational to the formation of Western identity at critical points in its history including the Crusades the Reconquista and the colonial period More specifically she explores how masculinity and femininity are formed at such pivotal junctures and what role feminism has played in the wars against radical Islam Exposing these symbiotic relationships Thobani explores how the return of religion is reworking the racial gender and sexual politics by which Western society defines itself and more specifically defines itself against Islam Contesting Islam Constructing Race and Sexuality unpacks conventional as well as unconventional orthodoxies to open up new spaces in how we think about sexual and racial identity in the West and the crucial role that Islam has had and continues to have in its development

The Lion and the Tiger Denis Judd, 2004 An authoritative and lively account of the long and controversial history of the British in India from the foundation of the East India Company in 1600 to Ghandi s innovative leadership of the increasingly militant Indian Nationalist movement and finally to Lord Mountbatten s swift surgery of partition leaving behind the Independent states of India and Pakistan Against this epic backdrop Judd explores the consequences of British control for both Indians and the British in India What was the effect on their daily lives and on the lives they were effectively controlling Were the British intent on development or exploitation Were they a civilizing force Easy answers are avoided and difficult questions provoked in this fascinating book

Thamyris Mythmaking from the Past to Present Nanny M. W. de Vries, Jan Best, Sex, politics and empire Richard Phillips, 2018-02-01 Colonial governments institutions and companies recognised that in many ways the effective operation of the Empire depended upon sexual arrangements For example nuclear families serving agricultural colonization and prostitutes working for single men who powered armies and plantations mines and bureaucracies For this reason they devised elaborate systems of sexual governance such as attending to marriage and the family However they also devoted disproportionate energy to marking and policing the sexual margins In Sex Politics and Empire Richard Phillips investigates controversies surrounding prostitution homosexuality and the age of consent in the British Empire and revolutionises our notions about the importance of sex as a nexus of imperial power relations

Sexuality and Society Gargi Bhattacharyya, 2005-07-08 In this broad ranging introduction to the study of sexuality Gargi Bhattacharyya guides students through the key theoretical debates in the area from the early history of sexology through Foucault s technologies of self to Judith Butler on the performance of identity Bhattacharyya shows how these theoretical positions apply to sexuality as it is experienced in contemporary society and covers key topics such as the ideology of heterosexuality sex and the state sex race and the exotic age and sexuality sex education and pornography The book argues that the study of sexuality is an essential part of broader debates on gender race citizenship and community Topical and original it provides a systematic overview of theory combined with up to the minute discussion of social and race issues It gives students a lucid map of the terrain and an exciting starting point for their own investigations

Racism, Diplomacy, and International Relations Ko Unoki, 2022-02-21 Unoki addresses the significance of racism in international relations by focusing on its conception as a doctrine and its interrelationship with imperialism its doctrinal role in the development of the discipline of International Relations IR and various episodes from Western and Asian history in which racism had affected state behavior and the practice of diplomacy The creation of empires that oppressed indigenous peoples the two World Wars and the campaigns of ethnic cleansing and genocide that accompanied these wars and other conflicts and international movements calling for the elimination of racial discrimination attest to the impact racial prejudice or racism has had on international relations Despite this history racism s relevance is seldom mentioned in IR courses offered in universities or IR textbooks Instead IR scholars have often explained the behavior of states using the framework of theories that highlight variables and themes such as power fear and the search for security in an anarchic world Unoki demonstrates that racism has not only substantially influenced the course of international relations but that it continues to do so in the 21st century making it imperative that policymakers are aware of racism s deleterious legacy A vital resource for students policymakers and those who are interested in building a more tolerant and just world Empire Made Me Robert A. Bickers,2003 This riveting biography of a nobody offers a rare view of empire from the bottom up and a glimpse of the making of modern China Robert Bickers mines the letters of Richard Tinkler along with archival files to create a fascinating and much needed narrative of everyday life in the colonial world and an unvarnished portrait of the colonial experience that will permanently affect our view of it Families, Children, and Memories Elizabeth Ann Buettner,1998
