The School in a Garden Gordon T. Millichap, J. Gordon Millichap, 2000      The Age of Villages Alfredo Toro Hardy, 2002 There are few dates in history that stand out so clearly as a turning point for mankind as September 11 2001 The terrorist attacks produced an earthshaking impact on world affairs which resulted in a radical disruption of international order Although deeply significant September 11 nevertheless represented only one chapter in the story of the great conflict of our time the confrontation between the global village and the small village between the forces of uniformity and of diversity between the homogenizing trends that seek to subdue everything that lies in their path and the currents of thought that value local identities particularities and traditions In The Age of Villages Venezuelan scholar and diplomat Alfredo Toro Hardy sets out to explore the era of globalization in which we all for better or for worse live in He provides ample evidence of the transfer of national sovereignty upwards to regional or supra national bodies of the growth of giant companies whose operations straddle the globe and whose senior management are citizens of the world of the migrations from state to state and continent to continent that are leading to the globalization of the labor market for skilled workers such as software engineers and the clamor for greater freedom of movement for the less skilled However Toro Hardy recognizes the different reactions to globalization in different parts of the world He draws our attention to the appeal of right wing politicians in Europe to the rise of Islamic fundamentalism and to the psychological needs of so many for a local identity Toro Hardy provides a entirelyly original timely and necessary understanding of the forces that are shaping our world He offers a global regional national and sub national analysis of the nature of the great confrontation that grips the world today and its alarming ramifications
