Rumours of Rain André Philippus Brink, 1978 Martin Mynhardt seems invincible Violence surrounds him yet he remains unscathed a woman asks him the time then leaps in front of a train after a mine riot he watches hoses sweep scattered body parts off the floor Just before the shocking violence that brings South African apartheid to an end Martin decides to return to the family farm for a weekend A highly successful businessman and Afrikaans Nationalist he hopes to sell the property to the government in a deal both highly profitable and corrupt The moment he steps onto the farm his plans are derailed The repercussions of a society's endemic violence catch up to him and shake the relationships that frame his life His closest friend a brilliant idealistic lawyer is sentenced to prison for his anti apartheid terrorist activities in part because Martin refused to help him His son recently returned from the Angolan war is in silent revolt against the values of his father and his nation His mistress Bea an intelligent strong willed woman who offers Martin the hope of redemption through her own capacity for empathy is also caught up in the gathering political storm This is Andre Brink's story of a society on the edge of collapse spurred to profound self realization

Pula , 2002 A Dry White Season Andre Brink, 2013-04-30 New York Times Notable Book This story of life and death in apartheid era South Africa is a powerful novel that you will not easily put down or forget Los Angeles Times Winner of a Martin Luther King Memorial Prize As startling and powerful as when it was first published more than forty years ago Andr Brink's classic novel A Dry White Season is an unflinching and unforgettable look at racial intolerance the human condition and the heavy price of morality Ben Du Toit is a white schoolteacher in suburban Johannesburg in a dark time of intolerance and state sanctioned apartheid A simple apolitical man he believes in the essential fairness of the South African government and its policies until the sudden arrest and subsequent suicide of a black janitor from Du Toit's school Haunted by new questions and desperate to believe that the man's death was a tragic accident Du Toit undertakes an investigation into the terrible affair a quest for the truth that will have devastating consequences for the teacher and his family as it draws him into a lethal morass of lies corruption and murder His most impressive novel thus far a compelling angle from which to view apartheid and its corrosive effect on all of South African society The New York Times Excellent a harrowing and surprising story Scotsman Andre Brink's writing is built on conviction A Dry White Season describes the triumph of tyranny The Times Powerful and provocative exciting well written and a literary achievement of the first rank Houston Chronicle Impossible to recommend too highly Time Out

How To Fish Chris Yates, 2012-04-03 The legendary British fisherman reflects on a year of contemplative observation stirring memory and good fishing in this delightful memoir British journalist Chris Yates became an angling legend when he caught what was in 1980 the biggest fish in English fishing history How to Fish is Yate's unabashed unashamed celebration of the joys of fishing an activity he believes mankind was born to pursue Written in prose that is both lyrical and accessible the book is about contentment calm and solitude rivers and riverbanks losing track of time and of course the fish themselves For those who already enjoy fishing it is a love letter to their art and for those who don't yet it is an insight into a life spent getting up at the crack of dawn and armed with rod and line heading for water Land and Nationalism in Fictions from Southern Africa James Graham, 2011-01-13 In this volume Graham investigates the relation between land and nationalism in South African and Zimbabwean fiction from the 1960s to the present This comparative study the first of its kind discusses a wide range of writing against a backdrop of regional decolonization including novels by the prize winning authors J M Coetzee Nadine Gordimer Bessie Head Chenjerai Hove and Yvonne Vera By employing a range of critical perspectives cultural materialist feminist and ecocritical this book offers new ways of thinking about the relationship between literature politics and the environment in Southern Africa The return of land has been central to the material and cultural struggles for decolonization in Southern Africa yet between the advent of democracy in Zimbabwe 1980 and South Africa 1994 and Zimbabwe's decision to fast track land redistribution in 2000 it has been limited land reform rather than widespread land redistribution that has prevailed During this period nationalist discourses of reconciliation and economic development replaced those of revolution and decolonization This book develops a critique of both forms of nationalistic narrative by focusing on how different and often opposing idea of land and nation are reflected refracted and even refused in the fictions

The Politics and New Humanism of André Brink Isidore Diala, 2018-11-08 This book appraises Andr Brink's reputation as an internationally acclaimed commentator on the enormities of the apartheid state and one of South Africa's foremost novelists Highlighting Brink's enduring meditation on the writer's responsibility to a society in a state of moral and political siege and his exemplary position in the interrogation of the subtle discursive strategies of the apartheid establishment it refers extensively to Brink's oeuvre but focuses mainly on his first seven novels in English The Ambassadors

Looking on Darkness An Instant in the Wind Rumours of Rain A Dry White Season A Chain of Voices and The Wall of the Plague Aimed primarily at students of South Africa it draws on postcolonial theory to examine the ideological implications of the Western aesthetic and intellectual background that nurtured Brink's imagination his fixation with the tragic vision Christian theology and existentialism in the context of his professed political affiliations Rumours Of Glory Bruce Cockburn,2014-11-04 Award winning songwriter and pioneering guitarist Bruce Cockburn has been shaped by politics protest romance and spiritual discovery He has toured the globe visiting far flung places such as Guatemala Mali Mozambique Afghanistan and Nepal performing and speaking out on important issues from native rights and land mines to the environment and Third World debt His journeys have been reflected in his music and evolving styles folk jazz blues rock and world beat Drawing from his experiences he continues to create memorable songs about his ever expanding universe of wonders As an artist with thirty one albums Cockburn has won numerous awards and the devotion of legions of fans across Canada and around the world Yet the man himself has remained a mystery In this memoir Cockburn invites us into his private world and takes us on a lively cultural and musical tour through the late twentieth century sharing his Christian convictions his personal relationships and the social and political activism that has defined him and has both invigorated and incited his fans The Diary of William Pynchon of Salem William Pynchon,1890 Philida André Brink,2012-07-31 The year is 1832 and the Cape is rife with rumours about the liberation of slaves Philida is the mother of four children by Francois Brink the son of her master Francois has reneged on his promise to set her free and his father has ordered him to marry a white woman from a prominent family selling Philida on to owners in the harsh country in the north Unwilling to accept this fate Philida tests the limits of her freedom by setting off on a journey She travels across the great wilderness to the far north of Cape Town determined to survive and be free LONGLISTED FOR THE MAN BOOKER PRIZE 2012 All Our Fault Daniel Mornin,1991 Instant In The Wind André Brink,2011-11-30 In early 1749 a white woman and a black man are stranded in the wilderness of the South African interior She is an educated woman totally helpless in the wilds He is a runaway slave They know only each other At first their relationship is guarded poisoned by the black and white in them both But hesitantly there emerges between them a fellowship that engulfs their most private selves as they face the long trek back to civilisation The New Republic Herbert David Croly,1978 Overland ,1984 Rivers Michael Farris Smith,2013-09-10 For fans of Cormac McCarthy and Annie Proulx a wonderfully cinematic story The Washington Post set in the post Katrina South after violent storms have decimated the region It had been raining for weeks Maybe months He had forgotten the last day that it hadn't rained when the storms gave way to the pale blue of the Gulf sky when the birds flew and the clouds were white and sunshine glistened across the drenched land The Gulf Coast has been brought to its knees Years of catastrophic hurricanes have so punished and depleted the region that the government has drawn a new boundary ninety miles north of the coastline Life below the Line offers no services no electricity and no resources and those who stay behind live by their own rules including Cohen whose wife and unborn child were killed during an evacuation attempt He buried them on family land and never left But after he is ambushed and his home is ransacked Cohen is forced to flee On the road north he is captured by Aggie a fanatical snake handling preacher who has a colony of captives and dangerous visions of repopulating the barren region Now Cohen is faced with a decision continue to the Line alone or try to shepherd the madman's prisoners across the unforgiving land with the biggest hurricane yet bearing down and Cohen harboring a secret that poses the greatest threat of all Eerily prophetic in its depiction of a Southern landscape ravaged by extreme weather Rivers is a masterful tale of survival and redemption in a world where the next devastating storm is never far behind This is the kind of book that lifts you up with its mesmerizing language then pulls you under like a riptide The Atlanta Journal Constitution
