NATIONAL BESTSELLER One of contemporary literature's most revered essayists revives her raw records from a 1970s road trip across the American southwest her acute observations of the country's culture and history feel particularly resonant today Harper's Bazaar Joan Didion the bestselling award winning author of The Year of Magical Thinking and Let Me Tell You What I Mean has always kept notebooks of overheard dialogue interviews drafts of essays copies of articles Here are two extended excerpts from notebooks she kept in the 1970s read together they form a piercing view of the American political and cultural landscape Notes on the South traces a road trip that she and her husband John Gregory Dunne took through Louisiana Mississippi and Alabama Her acute observations about the small towns they pass through her interviews with local figures and their preoccupation with race class and heritage suggest a South largely unchanged today California Notes began as an assignment from Rolling Stone on the Patty Hearst trial Though Didion never wrote the piece the time she spent watching the trial in San Francisco triggered thoughts about the West and her own upbringing in Sacramento Here we not only see Didion's signature irony and imagination in play we're also granted an illuminating glimpse into her mind and process

The Pathfinder Nicholas Lore, The Culture and Politics of Contemporary Street Gang Memoirs Josephine Metcalf, 2012-07-02 The publication of Sanyika Shakur's Monster: The Autobiography of an L.A. Gang Member in 1993 generated a huge amount of excitement in literary circles New York Times book critic Michiko Kakutani deemed it a shocking and galvanic book and set off a new publishing trend of gang memoirs in the 1990s The memoirs showcased tales of violent confrontation and territorial belonging but also offered many of the first journalistic and autobiographical accounts of the much mythologized gang subculture In The Culture and Politics of Contemporary Street Gang Memoirs Josephine Metcalf focuses on three of these memoirs Shakur's Monster Luis J Rodriguez's Always Running: La Vida Loca, Gang Days in L.A. and Stanley Tookie Williams's Blue Rage, Black Redemption as key representatives of the gang autobiography Metcalf examines the conflict among violence thrilling sensationalism and the authorial desire to instruct and warn competing within these works The narrative arcs of the memoirs themselves rest on the process of conversion from brutal young gang bangers to nonviolent enlightened citizens Metcalf analyzes the emergence production marketing and reception of gang memoirs Through interviews with Rodriguez Shakur and Barbara Cottman Becnel Williams's editor Metcalf reveals both the writing and publishing processes This book analyzes key narrative conventions specifically how diction dialogue and narrative arcs shape the works The book also explores how these memoirs are consumed This interdisciplinary study fusing literary criticism sociology ethnography reader response study and editorial theory brings scholarly attention to a popular much discussed but understudied modern expression
