Downcanyon Ann Zwinger,2015-11-01 Every writer comes to the Colorado River in the Grand Canyon with a unique point of view Ann Zwinger s is that of a naturalist an observer at the river s brim Teamed with scientists and other volunteer naturalists Zwinger was part of an ongoing study of change along the Colorado In all seasons and all weathers in almost every kind of craft that goes down the waves she returned to the Grand Canyon again and again to explore look and listen From the thrill of running the rapids to the wonder in a grain of sand her words take the reader down 280 miles of the ever flowing energetic whooping and hollering galloping river Zwinger s book begins with a bald eagle count at Nankoweap Creek in January and ends with a subzero snowy walk out of the canyon at winter solstice Between are the delights of spring in side canyons the benediction of rain on a summer beach and the chill that comes off limestone walls in November Her eye for detail catches the enchantment of small things played against the immensity of the river the gatling gun love song of tree frogs the fragile beauty of an evening primrose ravens always in close attendance like lugubrious sharp eyed nineteenth century undertakers and a golden eagle chasing a trout with wings akimbo like a cleaning lady after a cockroach As she travels downstream Zwinger follows others in history who have risked and occasionally lost their lives on the Colorado

Hiking in narrow canyons she finds cliff dwellings and broken pottery of prehistoric Indians Rounding a bend or running a rapid she remembers the triumphs and tragedies of early explorers and pioneers She describes the changes that have come with putting a big dam on a big river and how the dam has affected the riverine flora and fauna as well as the rapids and their future Science in the hands of a poet this captivating book is for armchair travelers who may never see the grandiose Colorado and for those who have run it wisely and well Like the author readers will find themselves bewitched by the color and flow of the river and enticed by what s around the next bend With her they will find its rhythms still in the mind long after the splash and spray and pound are gone Blue Horses Rush In Luci Tapahonso,2016-11-15 Wrapped in blankets and looking at the stars a young Navajo girl listened long ago to stories that would guide her for the rest of her life Such summer evenings were filled with quiet voices dogs barking far away the fire crackling and often we could hear the faint drums and songs of a ceremony somewhere in the distance writes Luci Tapahonso in this compelling collection Blue Horses Rush In takes its title from a poem about the birth of her granddaughter Chamisa whose heart pounded quickly and we recognized the sound of horses running the thundering of hooves on the desert floor Through such personal insights this collection follows the cycle of a woman s life and underlines what it means to be Navajo in the late twentieth century The book marks a major accomplishment in American literature for its successful blending of Navajo cultural values and forms with the English language while at the same time retaining the Navajo character Here Luci Tapahonso walks slowly through an ancient Hohokam village recalling stories passed down from generation to generation Later in the book she may tell a funny story about a friend then within a few pages describe family rituals like roasting green chiles or baking bread in an outside oven Throughout Tapahonso shares with readers her belief in the power of pollen and prayer feathers and sacred songs Many of these stories were originally told in Navajo taking no longer than ten minutes in the telling Yet in recreating them it is necessary to describe the land the sky the light and other details of time and place writes Tapahonso In this way I attempt to create and convey the setting for the oral text In writing I revisit the place or places concerned and try to bring the reader to them thereby enabling myself and other Navajos to sojourn mentally and emotionally in our home Din tah

Angela Hutchinson Hammer Betty E. Hammer Joy,2015-10-19 In 1905 with her marriage dissolved and desperate to find a way to feed her children Angela Hutchinson Hammer bought a handpress some ink and a few fonts of type and began printing a little tabloid called the Wickenburg Miner In her na vet Angela never dreamed this purchase would place her squarely in the forefront of power struggles during Arizona s early days of statehood A true daughter of the West Angela born in a tiny mining hamlet in Nevada came to the Territory of Arizona at the age of twelve Betty Hammer Joy weaves together the lively story of her grandmother s life by drawing upon Angela s own prodigious writing and correspondence newspaper archives and the recollections of family members Her book recounts the stories Angela told of growing up in mining camps teaching in territorial schools courtship marriage and a twenty eight year career in publishing and printing During this time

Angela managed to raise three sons run for public office before women in the nation had the right to vote serve as Immigration Commissioner in Pinal County homestead and mature into an activist for populist agendas and water conservation As questionable deals took place both within and outside the halls of government the crusading Angela encountered many duplicitous characters who believed that women belonged at home darning socks not running a newspaper Although Angela s independent papers brought personal hardship and little if any financial reward after her death in 1952 the newspaper industry paid tribute to this courageous woman by selecting her as the first woman to enter the Arizona Newspaper Hall of Fame In 1983 she was honored posthumously with another award for women who contributed to Arizona s progress induction into the Arizona Women s Hall of Fame
