Running Through Time:

Running Out of Time Margaret Peterson Haddix, 1995-10 When a diphtheria epidemic hits her 1840 village thirteen year old Jessie discovers it is actually a 1996 tourist site under unseen observation by heartless scientists and it's up to Jessie to escape the village and save the lives of the dying children Running Through the Ages, 2d ed. Edward S. Sears, 2015-06-22 Beginning with prehumans running down prey this book describes how ancient medieval and modern runners have come to run ever faster Writers of antiquity left few detailed accounts of running but in the early 1800s detailed accounts of running feats and matches appeared in newspapers journals and books Nineteenth century pioneers like George Seward Harry Hutchens Walter George and Bernie Wefers are here given long deserved recognition The six day Go as You Please races of the 1870s and 1880s featuring running's first great female performer Amy Howard are discussed Twentieth century luminaries Helen Stephens Jesse Owens Paavo Nurmi Emil Zatopek Bob Hayes Abebe Bikila and Joan Benoit Samuelson are included along with the Union Derby races of 1928 1929 New material for this revised and expanded second edition includes coverage of the 1970s running boom women marathon pioneers the impact of drugs on running and the feats of 21st century runners such as Usain Bolt Paula Radcliffe and Haile Gebrselassie Born to Run Christopher McDougall, 2010-12-09 A New York Times bestseller A sensation a rollicking tale well told The Times At the heart of Born to Run lies a mysterious tribe of Mexican Indians the Tarahumara who live quietly in canyons and are reputed to be the best distance runners in the world in 1993 one of them aged 57 came first in a prestigious 100 mile race wearing a toga and sandals A small group of the world's top ultra runners and the awe inspiring author make the treacherous journey into the canyons to try to learn the tribe's secrets and then take them on over a course 50 miles long With incredible energy and smart observation McDougall tells this story while asking what the secrets are to being an incredible runner Travelling to labs at Harvard Nike and elsewhere he comes across an incredible cast of characters including the woman who recently broke the world record for 100 miles and for her encore ran a 2 50 marathon in a bikini pausing to down a beer at the 20 mile mark A Road Running Southward Dan Chapman, 2022-05-26 Engaging hybrid part lyrical travelogue part investigative journalism and part jeremiad all shot through with droll humor The Atlanta Journal Constitution In 1867 John Muir set out on foot to explore the botanical wonders of the South keeping a detailed journal of his adventures as he traipsed from Kentucky southward to Florida One hundred and fifty years later on a similar whim veteran Atlanta reporter Dan Chapman distressed by sprawl driven environmental ills in a region he loves recreated Muir's journey to see for himself how nature has fared since Muir's time Channeling Muir he uses humor keen observation and a deep love of place to celebrate the South's natural riches But he laments that a treasured way of life for generations of Southerners is endangered as long simmering struggles intensify over misused and dwindling resources Chapman seeks to discover how Southerners might balance surging population growth with protecting the natural beauty Muir found so special Each chapter touches upon a local ecological problem at risk species in Mammoth Cave coal ash in Kingston Tennessee climate change in the Nantahala National Forest water wars in Georgia aquifer depletion in Florida that resonates across the South Chapman delves into the region's natural history moving between John Muir's vivid descriptions of a lush botanical paradise and the myriad environmental problems facing the South today Along the way he talks to locals with deep ties to the land scientists hunters politicians and even a Muir impersonator who describe the changes they've witnessed and what it will take to accommodate a fast growing population without destroying the natural beauty and a cherished connection to nature A Road Running Southward is part travelogue part environmental cri de coeur and paints a picture of a South under siege It is a passionate appeal a call to action to save one of the loveliest and most biodiverse regions of the world by understanding what we have to lose if we do nothing

Running Home Katie Arnold, 2020-09-08 In the tradition of Wild and H Is for Hawk an Outside magazine writer tells her story of fathers and daughters grief and renewal adventure and obsession and the power of running to change your life NAMED ONE OF THE BEST BOOKS OF THE YEAR BY REAL SIMPLE I'm running to forget and to remember For more than a decade Katie Arnold chased adventure around the world reporting on extreme athletes who performed outlandish feats walking high lines a thousand feet off the ground without a harness or running one hundred miles through the night She wrote her stories by living them until eventually life on the thin edge of risk began to seem normal After she married Katie and her husband vowed to raise their daughters to be adventurous too in the mountains and canyons of New Mexico But when her father died of cancer she was forced to confront her own mortality His death was cataclysmic unleashing a perfect storm of grief and anxiety She and her father an enigmatic photographer for National Geographic had always been kindred spirits He introduced her to the outdoors and took her camping and on bicycle trips and down rivers and taught her to find solace and courage in the natural world And it was he who encouraged her to run her first race when she was seven years old Now nearly paralyzed by fear and terrified she was dying too she turned to the thing that had always made her feel most alive running Over the course of three tumultuous years she ran alone through the wilderness logging longer and longer distances first a 50 kilometer ultramarathon then 50 miles then 100 kilometers She ran to heal her grief to outpace her worry that she wouldn't live to raise her own daughters She ran to find strength in her weakness She ran to remember and to forget She ran to live Ultrarunning tests the limits of human endurance over seemingly inhuman distances and as she clocked miles across mesas and mountains Katie learned to tolerate pain and discomfort and face her fears of uncertainty vulnerability and even death itself As she ran she found herself peeling back the layers of her relationship with her father discovering that much of what she thought she knew about him and her own past was wrong Running Home is a memoir about the stories we tell ourselves to make sense of our world the stories that hold us back and the ones that set us free Mesmerizing transcendent and deeply exhilarating it is a book for anyone who has been knocked over by life or feels the pull of something bigger and wilder within themselves A beautiful work of searching remembrance and searing honesty Katie

Arnold is as gifted on the page as she is on the trail Running Home will soon join such classics as Born to Run and Ultramarathon Man as quintessential reading of the genre Hampton Sides author of On Desperate Ground and Ghost Soldiers Running Cara Hoffman, 2017-02-21 From the critically acclaimed author of Be Safe I Love You comes a haunting novel of love friendship and survival set in the red light district of Athens in the 1980s that New York magazine calls a gauzy portrait of youthful longing sticky romance and regret Running follows the lives of three friends and lovers queer English poet Milo Rollack prep school dropout Jasper Lethe and seventeen year old Bridey Sullivan an American with a fascination for fire Barely out of childhood squatting in a crumbling hotel on the outskirts of Athens in the late 1980s the three slip in and out of homelessness heavy drinking and underground jobs While working as runners for the hotel convincing tourists to stay there for a commission and free board they are befriended by an IRA fugitive and become inextricably linked to an act of terrorism that will mark each of them for life Bridey the consummate survivor abandons Jasper and Milo planning to return when the dust has settled But no one has fared well in her absence And then a mysterious death drives her to seek an impossible absolution that will take her from the streets of the red light district to the remote island cliff houses of the southern Mediterranean Twenty five years later Milo now a successful writer and professor in Manhattan struggles to live ethically in a world he knows is corrupt coping with a secret that makes him a stranger to those closest to him Beautiful and atmospheric original and deeply sad Kirkus Reviews Running is a sweeping and fearless story of friendship and survival from Cara Hoffman an author who writes like a dream a disturbing emotionally charged dream The Wall Street Journal

Running Through the Wall Neal Jamison, 2014-04-30 WHAT S IT LIKE TO RUN FOR 30 50 OR 100 MILES This book is a great inspiration not only to current ultrarunners and to marathoners looking for the next challenge but also to runners of all abilities who will see that there is nothing you can t do if you have the desire What makes ultrarunners tick What goes through their minds at mile 93 How can you train for such a colossal undertaking These questions and many more are answered in this inspiring collection of 39 personal stories from ultramarathoners Ultramarathoning is the logical next step for those who burn with a desire to explore their limits and beyond It is impossible to run ultra distances without coming away with at least one fascinating story This book is full of them There are stories of fatigue blisters nausea and despair But the ultrarunner prevails to find hope love healing self discovery friendship selflessness and in the end for most triumph Learn what it feels like to run an ultra from the champions the newcomers and the veterans of the sport A few brief excerpts I left Edinburg witnessing my second sunrise on this run Most ultrarunners dread dawn the hours from 4 00 to 6 00 a m primarily because this is when fatigue sets in Keith Knipling It would be hours before we d see the first aid station and probably close to two days before we d have dry feet again Deb Pero I m 95 miles into a 100 miler it s over 100 degrees out my legs are shot I m a few scant minutes ahead of Ann and Gabriel and my pacer is stopped dead in the trail for fear of a skunk Tim Twietmeyer Ultrarunning is without question the most feared aspect of adventure racing Ian Adamson The urge to quit right

there was overwhelming but I was still in the race Perhaps a miracle would happen and I could get in under the four hours it would take to make the next cutoff I thanked the aid station captain and plunged into the darkness Will Brown It was time to put all the viable excuses aside and look inside Tracy Baldyga I think I quit about 20 times during the race mostly between the time the sun went down and the time that I finally walked away Reality sets in when it gets dark The trail gets lonely Jason Hodde During every race you are faced with a moment of truth a point in the race when you either quit or persevere to the end Every person who finishes an ultramarathon has accomplished a great feat simply because they finished Bethany Hunter

Running Through Fire Zosia Goldberg, Hilton Obenzinger, 2004 A fellow Jew within the Warsaw Ghetto offended by Zosia Goldberg's unaccented Polish spat at her in Yiddish May you die amongst the goyim Zosia took this curse as a message from God It sparked her escape from the Ghetto convincing her that only by posing as a Gentile could she survive And Zosia did not die amongst the goyim but nearly She was a debrouillarde she ran through fire without getting burned Her story features resistance at every turn narrow escapes and help from the most unlikely sources At times suffering bitter betrayals by fellow Jews she also encountered unexpected sympathies from some Nazis themselves Zosia's story is as much a chronicle of the Holocaust as it is everywoman's struggle against human folly and depravity Running Through Fire is a book filled with unspeakable horrors but it is told without a shred of self pity Zosia Goldberg never complains never bemoans her lot She battles and endures and in this raw unvarnished tale of human suffering she has given us a manual of hope from the introduction by Paul Auster After surviving WW II Zosia Goldberg came to the United States married then moved to Caracas Venezuela to operate a garment business She returned to America after her husband's death and currently resides in Florida She has one son Hilton Obenzinger Preface is a poet novelist and critic and a recipient of the American Book Award He teaches American literature and honors writing at Stanford University Paul Auster's Introduction work has been translated into 30 languages Following the Book of Illusions which was a national bestseller his newest novel Oracle Night will be published in December 2003 He is also the author of three screenplays including Smoke and the editor of the NPR National Story Project anthology He lives in Brooklyn New York

Run the World Becky Wade, 2016-07-05 From elite marathoner and Olympic hopeful Becky Wade comes the story of her year long exploration of diverse global running communities from England to Ethiopia 9 countries 72 host families and over 3 500 miles of running investigating unique cultural approaches to the sport and revealing the secrets to the success of runners all over the world Fresh off a successful collegiate running career with multiple NCAA All American honors and two Olympic Trials qualifying marks to her name Becky Wade was no stranger to international competition But after years spent safely sticking to the training methods she knew Becky was curious about how her counterparts in other countries approached the sport to which she'd dedicated over half of her life So in 2012 as a recipient of the Watson Fellowship she packed four pairs of running shoes cleared her schedule for the year and took off on a journey to infiltrate diverse running communities around the world What she encountered far exceeded her expectations and changed her outlook into the sport she loved Over the next twelve months visiting 9 countries with unique and storied running histories logging over 3 500 miles running over trails tracks sidewalks and dirt roads Becky explored the varied approaches of runners across the globe Whether riding shotgun around the streets of London with Olympic champion sprinter Usain Bolt climbing for an hour at daybreak to the top of Ethiopia s Mount Entoto just to start her daily run or getting lost jogging through the bustling streets of Tokyo Becky s unexpected adventures keen insights and landscape descriptions take the reader into the heartbeat of distance running around the world Upon her return to the United States she incorporated elements of the training styles she d sampled into her own program and her competitive career skyrocketed When she made her marathon debut in 2013 winning the race in a blazing 2 30 she became the third fastest woman marathoner under the age of 25 in U S history qualifying for the 2016 Olympic Trials and landing a professional sponsorship from Asics From the feel based approach to running that she learned from the Kenyans to the grueling uphill workouts she adopted from the Swiss to the injury recovery methods she learned from the Japanese Becky shares the secrets to success from runners and coaches around the world The story of one athlete s fascinating journey Run the World is also a call to change the way we approach the world s most natural and inclusive sport
