Running Towards Us New Writing From South Africa:

Critics and Writers Speak Igor Maver, 2006-01-01 This book of new critical essays and interviews with writers interrogates the current usage of the term and the category of the post colonial as a theoretical concept discourse and state of mind By looking at contemporary writing in English throughout the world it critically revises the current practice of post colonial studies and calls attention to its significant weaknesses

To Change Reels Isabel Balseiro, Ntongela Masilela, 2003 With the end of apartheid South African cinema is at a turning point in its history This collection offers an exploration of a film industry that has excluded its country's black majority in both representation and production and which now must overcome collusion between racist ideology and film form Until recently filmmakers could work only within a culture that reluctantly took black South Africans into account Therefore to explore what South African cinema has been and could become the authors do not limit their discussion to film production but approach cinema as a manifestation of cultural history How has the purpose of cinema been viewed at different times in South Africa by different governments and social groups What is the relation between film and a sense of nationhood in South Africa Such questions lead to a consideration not only of films made by South Africans in South Africa but also of an unfolding film culture within a series of stages that have yet to give rise to a national cinema

The Mistress's Dog David Medalie, 2010-05-01 The Mistress's Dog is an engaging collection of twelve short stories by David Medalie including two award winners Recognition and The Mistress's Dog and a Foreword and afterword by Michael Titlestad Deft subtle and nuanced Medalie's stories show an accomplished and mature writer at his best Their focus is the lived experience of people ostensibly uneventful lives into which the unexpected erupts These stories find significance in the reversals ironies and coincidences of existence They bring the characters and the reader to the brink of recognition The Mistress's Dog was short listed in 2011 for the University of Johannesburg Literary Award and was awarded the Thomas Pringle Award by the English Academy of Southern Africa in 2008 It was also short listed in 2011 for the Caine Prize for African Writing and was selected as one of the best twenty short stories of the post apartheid period and was published in 2014 along with the other nineteen stories in a collection entitled Twenty in 20

Feminist New Testament Studies K. Wicker, M. Dube, A. Spencer-Miller, 2016-09-27 This volume is an engaging and provocative introduction to Feminist Biblical Studies The authors draw upon their own social cultural and religious backgrounds and experiences in reading the New Testament as feminists in the context of globalization They provide intentional interpretations of biblical texts that cast gender race class and power relationships as issues inherent in both the content and context of scripture and its interpretation The essays call into question feminist social engagement that does not extend beyond academic halls churches and Christians suggesting directions for future research and teaching in Feminist Biblical Studies

Cinema in a Democratic South Africa Lucia Saks, 2010-07-19 Lucia Saks uses South African cinema as a lens through which to view cultural changes resulting from the end of apartheid in 1994 She examines how media transformed the meaning of race and nation during this period and argues that as apartheid was disbanded and new racial constructs allowed South Africa quickly sought a new mode of representation as a way to distance itself from the violence and racism of the half century prior as well as to demonstrate stability amid social disruption This rapid search for a new way to identify and portray itself is what Saks refers to as the race for representation She contextualizes this race in terms of South African history the media apartheid sexuality the economy community early South African cinema and finally speculates about the future of counter cinema in present day South Africa
