Rural Development And Planning In Zimbabwe:

Rural Development and Planning in Zimbabwe N. D. Mutizwa-Mangiza, A. H. J. Helmsing, 1991 This text contains 15 papers which aim to assess the progress of the different dimensions of rural development and planning in post independence Zimbabwe From these papers the text draws conclusions and makes policy recommendations for the future Farewell to Farms Deborah Fahy Bryceson, Vali Jamal, 2019-05-23 First published in 1997 this volume asks whether Africa's future is necessarily rooted in peasant agriculture The title of this book Farewell to Farms is deliberately intended to challenge the widely held view that Africa is the world's reserve for peasant farming African rural populations are themselves moving away from a reliance on agriculture Deagrarianisation takes the form of urban migration as well as the expansion of non agricultural activities in rural areas providing new income sources occupations and social identities for rural dwellers Using recent continent wide case study evidence the authors assess the impact of deagrarianisation on household welfare business performance and national development Their findings which reveal new economic trajectories and social patterns emerging from a period of accelerated change call into question assumptions about Africa's future place in the world division of labour

Regional Development Dialogue, 1996 An international journal focusing on third world development problems The Palgrave Encyclopedia of Urban and Regional Futures Robert C. Brears, 2023-01-13 While urban settlements are the drivers of the global economy and centres of learning culture and innovation and nations rely on competitive dynamic regions for their economic social and environmental objectives urban centres and regions face a myriad of challenges that impact the ways in which people live and work create wealth and interact and connect with places Rapid urbanisation is resulting in urban sprawl rising emissions urban poverty and high unemployment rates housing affordability issues lack of urban investment low urban financial and governance capacities rising inequality and urban crimes environmental degradation increasing vulnerability to natural disasters and so forth At the regional level low employment low wage growth scarce financial resources climate change waste and pollution and rising urban peri urban competition etc are impacting the ability of regions to meet socio economic development goals while protecting biodiversity The response to these challenges has typically been the application of inadequate or piecemeal solutions often as a result of fragmented decision making and competing priorities with numerous economic environmental and social consequences In response there is a growing movement towards viewing cities and regions as complex and sociotechnical in nature with people and communities interacting with one another and with objects such as roads buildings transport links etc within a range of urban and regional settings or contexts This comprehensive MRW will provide readers with expert interdisciplinary knowledge on how urban centres and regions in locations of varying climates lifestyles income levels and stages development are creating synergies and reducing trade offs in the development of resilient resource efficient environmentally friendly liveable socially equitable integrated and technology enabled centres and regions The Palgrave Handbook of Agricultural and Rural Development in Africa Evans S. Osabuohien, 2020-07-06 This handbook examines agricultural and rural development in Africa from theoretical empirical and policy stand points It discusses the challenges of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals SDGs and assesses how poverty and other development concerns can be addressed in rural communities through agricultural transformation Additionally the handbook extends the Post 2015 Development Agenda and it emphasizes the importance of the agricultural sector as it is closely related to the issues of food sustainability poverty reduction and employment creation The contributors suggest multiple evidence based policies to develop the rural areas through the transformation of the agricultural sector which can significantly benefit the African continent Exploring Effective

Municipal Planning and Implementation Munzhedzi, Pandelani Harry, Mathebula, Erasmus, Makamu, Ntsako Idris, 2024-07-31 Among municipalities in developing nations systemic issues such as corruption mismanagement and limited accountability plague local governance impeding development efforts and hindering effective service delivery This perpetual cycle of failure undermines the aspirations outlined in municipal plans erodes public trust and perpetuates socio economic disparities Despite recognizing these challenges tangible solutions remain elusive leaving communities trapped in a cycle of underdevelopment and frustration Exploring Effective Municipal Planning and Implementation offers a comprehensive exploration of these pressing issues and consolidates expertise and insights of academics and practitioners Through rigorous analysis and innovative approaches this book dissects the root causes of municipal failures and identifies practical mechanisms for improvement Delving into municipal planning budgeting and governance this book equips readers with the knowledge and tools needed to drive meaningful change in local governance practices This book focuses on transforming struggling municipalities into entities of effective governance and sustainable development Harness the collective wisdom of experts from around the globe with this book and discover the hope you have been seeking for your community to break free from cycle of municipal hardship Decentralisation and Community-based Planning

International Institute for Environment and Development, 2004 Development Practice in Eastern and Southern Africa Tshilidzi Madzivhandila, Sepo Hachigonta, Joseph Francis, Joseph Kamuzhanje, Oluwatoyin Dare Kolawole, Shirley DeWolf, 2022-03-29 This book is a rare collection of reflective and reflexive stories that reveal how seasoned academics agents of grassroots social change leaders and journalists transformed and shaped the development landscape in eastern and southern Africa Whereas practical experiences are crucial assets and resources for shaping the academic environment and development practice landscape most of the existing literature recommended as key learning materials in tertiary institutions is rarely in synch with the practical realities of development practice The shared individual lived experiences from academic endeavours and fieldwork provide hands on tools for students and emerging practitioners who might be involved in or are currently facilitating development work The thrust of the book therefore is to demystify the day to day experiences of development practitioners while contributing to learning pathways or strategies for achieving viable solutions to the myriad of challenges which grassroots communities face The relevance of the book as a crucial resource for students pursuing development oriented degree programmes in colleges and universities is obvious Without any doubt the compilation will be handy in the implementation of diverse development oriented transformation agenda at academic programming and policy levels

Villages in the Future Detlef Virchow, Joachim von Braun, 2012-02-02 Life in rural communities is bound to change with historically unprecedented speed in the coming decades How will this change be guided by local national and global policies in order to enhance the livelihoods of rural inhabitants and to overcome the growing division of rural and urban areas The contributions in this publication ranging from scientific papers to short reports from practitioners are grouped around 4 major themes political and institutional frameworks to foster rural development natural resources management broadening the technological base of rural economies and improved linkages between urban and rural areas The overall message is unanimous there is a promising future for the rural areas worldwide if adequate policies can be enforced and more efficient and fair institutions can be created

Barbier,2012-12-06 In the Summer of 1991 Bob Carling who was then Life Sciences Editor of Chapman Hall approached me over the possibility of producing an edited volume of works on economics and ecology As we discussed the matter further what became clear is that there is a growing literature on the frontiers of both disciplines that has involved economists borrowing from ecology and ecologists borrowing from economics We decided that this volume should try to provide a small cross section of that literature I was very much interested in editing this volume for several reasons First one of my principal interests in economics has been how the economic analysis of natural resource and environmental problems can benefit from the concepts and lessons learned from other disciplines in particular ecology I was grateful at having the opportunity to pull together a selection of readings that illustrate how the integration of the two disciplines can lead to fruitful analysis Second I was also aware that as Director of the London Environmental Economics Centre and as a Senior Researcher at the International Institute of Environment and Development I was fortunate to have worked with or to have known a number of economists and ecologists whose work would be ideal for this volume I was delighted that so many of my friends and colleagues were as enthusiastic about this project as I and agreed to participate

SDGs in Africa and the Middle East Region Ismaila Rimi Abubakar, Izael da Silva, Rudi Pretorius, Khaled Tarabieh, 2024-09-01 Africa is one of the most vulnerable regions and one where the implementation of the SDGs is particularly urgent Underinvestments in natural conservation are increasing the vulnerability of people across many African countries whose well being is endangered by deteriorating socio economic and environmental conditions This volume provides a contribution towards showcasing how natural resources may be more efficiently used and investments may be mobilised to augment the limited public sector funds available to achieve the SDGs This book is part of the 100 papers to accelerate the implementation of the UN Sustainable Development Goals initiative

Energy Abstracts for Policy Analysis, 1988 The University as a Partner in Regional and International Development: Ian McAllister, 2015-04-23 To be credible partners overseas universities must be credible partners for the well being of the peoples of their own regions Canadian universities have enjoyed long and productive histories of both regional and international cooperation Many were nurtured through early relationships with longer standing European and US institutions Especially since Canada became a serious aid donor in the early 1970s Canadian universities in their turn began to share experiences and resources overseas Initially this was with institutions in less prosperous nations then particularly since the fall of the Berlin Wall it was also with partners in the transition economies of Eastern Europe Most recently it has been with China and a resurgent India Often a university's regional and international linkages began with individual faculty or student commitments Some then evolved into projects frequently four or five year contractual arrangements supported by aid agencies A few such projects later expanded into more open ended network arrangements bridging disciplines sectors institutions and sometimes even continents The more complex some of these partnerships have become the more challenging have been the ethical academic and financial implications for the Canadian institutions themselves not to mention their counterparts Long term more visionary and more strategic approaches have become critical More entrepreneurial administrative structures and much heightened sensitivities to human rights cross cultural gender and inter disciplinary issues have been essential What it must ruthlessly be asked are the visions for post secondary education for 2020 not to mention 2050 that are empowering the more progressive of today's institutions How are they helping shape present regional and international development partnerships
