Rural Enterprise In Kenya Development And Spatial Organization Of The Nonfarm Sector:

Transforming the Rural Nonfarm Economy Steven Haggblade, Peter B. R. Hazell, Thomas Reardon, 2007-11-16

Contrary to conventional wisdom that equates rural economies with agriculture rural residents in developing countries often rely heavily on activities other than farming for their income Indeed nonfarm work accounts for between one third and one half of rural incomes in the developing world In recent years accelerating globalization increasing competition from large businesses expanding urban markets for rural goods and services and greater availability of information and communication technology have combined to expose rural nonfarm businesses to new opportunities as well as new risks By examining these rapid changes in the rural nonfarm economy international experts explore how the rural nonfarm economy can contribute to overall economic growth in developing countries and how the poor can participate in this rapidly evolving segment of the economy The authors review an array of recent studies of the rural nonfarm economy in order to summarize existing empirical evidence explore policy implications and identify future research priorities They examine the varied scale structure and composition of the rural nonfarm economy as well as its relationship with agricultural and urban enterprises And they address key questions about the role of public intervention in the rural nonfarm economy and how the rural poor can participate in and navigate the rapid transition underway in rural areas The contributors offer new insights to specialists in rural development and to others interested in overall economic development

Policy Gudrun Kochendörfer-Lucius, Boris Pleskovic, 2009-01-01 The Berlin Workshop Series 2009 presents selected papers from meetings held from September 30 October 2 2007 at the 10th Annual Forum co hosted by InWEnt and the World Bank in preparation for the Bank's World Development Report At the 2007 meetings key researchers and policy makers from Europe the United States and developing countries met to identify and brainstorm on agriculture the development challenges and successes that are later examined in depth in the World Development Report 2009 This volume presents papers from the Berlin Workshop sessions on issues relating to Understanding spatial trends perspectives and models new economic geography and the dynamics of technological change implications for LDCs perspectives rural urban transformation leading lagging and interlinking places spatial disparity and labor mobility country realities and policy options learning from Europe's efforts at integration and convergence and spatial policy for growth and equity

Farm-nonfarm Linkages in Rural Sub-saharan Africa Steven Haggblade, P. B. R. Hazell, James G. Brown, 1988 The links between agricultural growth and the rural nonfarm economy known to be strong in Asia are weaker in Africa but still important to the rural poor Crucial for strengthening these links are policies and investments that 1 promote smallholders 2 improve rural infrastructure 3 encourage commerce and services 4 foster the development of rural towns and 5 explicitly recognize women as key actors in rural development

Rural Enterprise in Kenya Donald B. Freeman, Glen B. Norcliffe, 1985-01-01 Small African

Towns Poul Ove Pedersen, 2019-07-23 First published in 1997 this study sees the small enterprise as performing specific tasks within the larger societal system of production and distribution and as being shaped and adapted to the specific social and economic locally specific environment of which it is a part Research was focused on fieldwork in Kenya Tanzania Uganda Zimbabwe and Bangladesh examining rural small towns serving rural hinterlands Areas explored include the building sector in Zimbabwean district service centres the building sector in small Tanzanian towns small enterprises and the public sector in Kenya and Bangladesh and the structure of small scale grain marketing in a small Ugandan town Place, Migration and Development in the Third World Lawrence A. Brown, 2002-09-11 Providing a fresh examination of the nature of Third World development the author focuses on the characteristics of particular places and regions and their influences on behaviour This is an important study of the relationship between population movements and regional and national changes

Beyond the Basilica Chad F. Emmett, 2012-04-26 Nazareth the largest Arab city in Israel is a surprising example of ethnic harmony in a region dominated by conflict A recent trend toward integration of its historical Greek Orthodox Roman Catholic and Muslim quarters however has disrupted the harmony In Beyond the Basilica Christians and Muslims in Nazareth Chad F. Emmett provides penetrating analysis of the complex relationship between the structure of Nazareth's quarters and the relations between its ethnic communities Emmett describes both the positive and negative effects of Nazareth's residential patterns He shows that the addition of new and ethnically mixed quarters has promoted mixed schools joint holiday celebrations a common political culture and social networks that cross ethnic boundaries But he also finds that tensions exist among Christian groups and between Muslims and Christians in regard to intersectorian marriages religious conversion attempts to establish a joint Christian cemetery and the emergence of a local Islamic party Extensive interviews with leaders of religious groups political parties and residents reveal the way in which members of each ethnic community perceive one another A survey of 300 families gives a wealth of details about the make up of Nazareth's population including residential histories religion level of religious conviction friendship and shopping patterns and much more Fourteen maps trace changes in the distribution of religious groups and political affiliation in Nazareth from the mid nineteenth century to the present Beyond the Basilica will interest cultural geographers historians demographers political scientists and anyone who would like to learn more about an ethnically divided community in the residents cooperate more than they fight Small Town Africa Jonathan Baker, 1990 Rural Enterprises in Malawi Nina Tellegen, 1997 This work examines the development of small scale enterprises based around non agricultural activities in Malawi during a period of rapid population growth Based on a study carried out in 1993-94 in Malawi it provides an overview of the number of people involved in rural enterprises Youth and Employment in Sub-Saharan Africa Hiroyuki Hino, Gustav Ranis, 2014-06-05 It is widely acknowledged that youth unemployment is one of the most critical challenges facing countries in Sub Saharan Africa This volume brings together an eminent group of international scholars to analyse the extent and complex nature of this joblessness and offer a set of evidence based policy choices that could contribute to solving the problem in the short and long run Part I reviews the existing literature on youth unemployment and underemployment in Sub Saharan Africa from microeconomic and macroeconomic perspectives while Part II goes on to present detailed country studies of Ethiopia Ghana Kenya and South Africa These studies offer a deep understanding of the situation on the ground and consider country specific solutions Throughout the book it is argued that the standard ILO definition of unemployment is too narrow to correctly portray employment situations in Sub Saharan Africa Several alternative measures of unemployment are presented which show that joblessness is far more pervasive than commonly assumed in the literature This volume will be of interest to academics and policy makers involved in African development

The Politics of Planting Shaul Ephraim Cohen,1993-06 On the open landscape of Israel and the West Bank where pine and cypress forests grow alongside olive groves tree planting has become symbolic of conflicting claims to the land Palestinians cultivate olive groves as a vital agricultural resource while the Israeli government has made restoration of mixed growth forests a national priority Although both sides plant for a variety of purposes both have used tree planting to assert their presence on and claim to disputed land Shaul Ephraim Cohen has conducted an unprecedented study of planting in the region and the control of land it signifies In The Politics of Planting he provides historical background and examines both the politics behind Israel s afforestation policy its consequences Focusing on the open land surrounding Jerusalem and four Palestinian villages outside the city this study offers a new perspective on the conflict over land use in a region where planting has become a political tool For the valuable data it presents collected from field work previously unpublished documents and interviews and the insight it provides into this political struggle this will be an important book for anyone studying the Israeli Palestinian conflict

Alternative Development Strategies in SubSaharan Africa Frances Stewart,Sanjaya Lall,Samuel M. Wangwe,1992-06-18 The World Bank and the IMF dominate policy making in Africa today This book considers the consistency between their adjustment policies and long run development needs with an analysis of country experience An alternative development strategy is proposed

The Interface Between Farm and Non-farm Activities Among the Mumias Sugar Cane Growers Francis N. Wegulo,H. W. Obulinji,1999 City of Farmers Donald B. Freeman,1991 Urban agriculture is of increasing economic significance in many African cities and is critical to the survival of very poor families and especially women and landless or unemployed rural migrants

Regional Development Dialogue ,1995 An international journal focusing on third world development problems

The Journal of Developing Areas ,1994 Environment & Planning ,1987 Rural Area Development Planning Avrom Bendavid-Val,1991 Deforestation in the Postwar Philippines David M. Kummer,1992-06 The only quantitative deforestation study to focus on one country this case analysis of the Philippines since 1946 yields more concrete data than previous cross national studies David Kummer s close examination of the interactions among political economic and cultural factors and their environmental consequences sheds light on similar situations in other countries
