Natural Resources, Tourism and Community Livelihoods in Southern Africa Moren T. Stone,Monkgogi Lenao,Naomi Moswete,2019-11-19 This book examines the connections between natural resources tourism and community livelihood practices in Southern Africa highlighting the successes and constraints experienced over the last 50 years Questioning how natural resources tourism and community livelihoods relations can positively contribute towards development efforts this book adopts an interdisciplinary approach to understand socio ecological systems that characterize the dynamics for sustainable development It explores the history of conservation and natural resource management in Southern Africa and traces the development and growth of nature based tourism Boasting a wide range of tourism landscapes including national parks wetlands forests and oceans the book draws on case studies from a variety of Southern African countries including Botswana Namibia and South Africa and considers the political challenges for implementing policies and practices Furthermore it analyses broader issues such as the impact of climate change human wildlife co existence and resulting conflicts poor access to funding and poverty in local communities The book argues that the links between conservation and livelihoods can be best understood by considering the different approaches to reconciling the demands of conservation and livelihoods that have evolved over the past decades Containing contributions from natural and social sciences the book provides guidance for practitioners and policymakers to continue to shape policies and practices that are in line with the key tenets of sustainable development It will also be of great interest to students and scholars researching Southern Africa sustainable tourism and conservation      Rights Resources and Rural Development Christo Fabricius,2013-01-11 Community based natural resource management CBNRM is an approach that offers multiple related benefits securing rural livelihoods ensuring careful conservation and management of biodiversity and other resources and empowering communities to manage these resources sustainably Recently however the CBNRM concept has attracted criticism for failing in its promise of delivering significant local improvements and conserving biodiversity in some contexts This book identifies the flaws in its application which often have been swept under the carpet by those involved in the initiatives The authors analyse them and propose remedies for specific circumstances based on the lessons learned from CBNRM experience in southern Africa over more than a decade The result is essential reading for all researchers observers and practitioners who have focused on CBNRM in sustainable development programmes as a means to overcome poverty and conserve ecosystems in various parts of the globe It is a vital tool in improving their methods and performance In addition academics students and policy makers in natural resource management resource economics resource governance and rural development will find it a very valuable and instructive resource      Rural Planning in Developing Countries David

Dent,Olivier Dubois,Barry Dalal-Clayton,2013-06-17 This book provides an international perspective on rural planning focused on developing countries It examines conventional development planning and innovative local planning approaches drawing together lessons from recent experience of rural planning and land use The authors examine past and current practice and ways that land use planning and management of natural resources can underpin sustainable local livelihoods They draw on case studies from Africa Asia and Latin America to present findings relevant throughout the developing world

Community Management of Natural Resources in Africa Dilys Roe,Fred Nelson,Chris Sandbrook,2009 Provides a pan African synthesis of community based natural resource management CBNRM drawing on multiple authors and a wide range of documented experiences from Southern Eastern Western and Central Africa This title discusses the degree to which CBNRM has met poverty alleviation economic development and nature conservation objectives      Livelihoods at the Margins James Staples,2016-07-01 Sex workers street hawkers drug sellers cleaners they are people living on the margins of urban life who are ubiquitous but widely misunderstood and notably absent from mainstream economic analyses In

Livelihood on the Margins anthropologists and practitioners engaged in hands on development work use fine grained ethnographic research to cut through the conventional narratives that romanticize victimize or demonize these populations They go beyond the trendy sustainable livelihoods approach to development to examine the relationship between the agency people can actually wield over their own lives and the broader socio political constraints that persistently push them to the margins Making these multi level connections across a wide range of world regions and situations this volume shows how the micro concerns of ordinary people might usefully guide the macro concerns of governments NGOs and global institutions who are engineering large scale social and economic development programs Livelihood at the Margins is an engaging and eye opening read for undergraduate and graduate students studying development in anthropology sociology geography economics and other disciplines as well as a useful tool for developments studies researchers and practitioners Land, Labour and Entrustment Pamela Kea,2010-05-01 Diverse contractual arrangements and forms of exchange established between smallholder farmers their households and community work groups are important to our understanding of processes of agrarian transformation in Sub Saharan Africa However little has been written in this area Challenging portrayals of West African female farmers as a homogenous group the present study provides an ethnographic account of the contractual relations established between female hosts and migrants in the exchange of land and labour for agrarian production in a Gambian community Further it demonstrates the way in which despite the liberalization of the economy local cultural practices such as that of entrustment continue to be of significance in affecting the nature and particular character of agrarian transformation and postcolonial capitalist development Competing Norms Mamadou Diawara,Ute Rösenthaller,2016-10-13 Meist wird der Staat in Afrika wie auch anderswo als Träger von Ordnung Fortschritt und Disziplin gesehen da er aber die Autorität verfügt Gesetze zu erlassen und deren Einhaltung zum Wohl der Gesellschaft zu sanktionieren Dieser Band untersucht die Bedeutung der staatlichen Gesetzgebung für die Bevölkerungen im subsaharischen Afrika und setzt diese in Beziehung zu bereits existierenden lokalen Normen mit denen die neuen Gesetze konkurrieren müssen

Reconfiguring Slavery Benedetta Rossi,2016-02-26 A fascinating collection that advances a renewed conceptual framework for understanding slavery in West Africa today instead of retracing the end of West African slavery this work highlights the preliminary contours of its recent reconfigurations Food Sovereignty, Agroecology and Biocultural Diversity Michel. P. Pimbert,2017-11-01 Contestations over knowledge and who controls its production are a key focus of social movements and other actors that promote food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity This book critically examines the kinds of knowledge and ways of knowing needed for food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity Food sovereignty is understood here as a transformative process that seeks to recreate the democratic realm and regenerate a diversity of autonomous food systems based on agroecology biocultural diversity equity social justice and ecological sustainability It is shown that alternatives to the current model of development require radically different knowledges and epistemologies from those on offer today in mainstream institutions including universities policy think tanks and donor organizations To achieve food sovereignty agroecology and biocultural diversity there is a need to re imagine and construct knowledge for diversity decentralisation dynamic adaptation and democracy The authors critically explore the changes in organizations research paradigms and professional practice that could help transform and co create knowledge for a new modernity based on plural definitions of wellbeing Particular attention is given to institutional pedagogical and methodological innovations that can enhance cognitive justice by giving hitherto excluded citizens more power and agency in the construction of knowledge The book thus contributes to the democratization of knowledge and power in the domain of food environment and society Chapters 1 and 8 of this book are freely available as downloadable Open Access PDFs at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4 0 license

Translocality, 2010-01-25 This volume discusses globalising processes from the perspective of the humanities and social sciences It focuses on the global south notably the Middle East Asia and Africa Densely researched case studies examine a variety of approaches for their potential to understand connecting processes on different scales The studies seek to overcome the main traps of the globalisation paradigm such as its occidental bias its notion of linear expansion its simplifying dichotomy between local and global and an often found lack of historical depth They elaborate the asymmetries mobilities opportunities and barriers involved in globalising processes Their new perspective on these processes is captured by the concept of translocality which aims at integrating a variety of theoretical and methodological approaches from different disciplines

Ageing with Smartphones in Uganda Charlotte Hawkins, 2023-09-28 Ageing with Smartphones in Uganda is based on a 16 month ethnography about experiences of ageing in a neighbourhood in central Kampala Uganda It examines the impact of smartphones and mobile phones on older people s health and everyday lives as part of the global ASSA project Taking a convivial approach which celebrates multiple ways of knowing about social life Charlotte Hawkins draws from these expressions about cooperative morality and modernity to consider the everyday mitigation of profound social change Dotcom is understood to encompass everything from the influence of ICTs to urban migration and lifestyles in the city to shifts in ways of knowing and relating At the same time dotcom tools such as mobile phones and smartphones facilitate elder care through for example regular mobile money remittances This book explores how dotcom relates to older people s health their care norms their social standing their values of respect and relatedness and their intergenerational relationships both political and personal It also re frames the youth centrality of research on the city and work new media and technology politics and service provision in Uganda Through ethnographic consideration of everyday life and self formation in this context the monograph seeks to contribute to an ever incomplete understanding of how we relate to each other and to the world around us

The Perils of Belonging Peter Geschiere, 2009-08-01 Despite being told that we now live in a cosmopolitan world more and more people have begun to assert their identities in ways that are deeply rooted in the local

These claims of autochthony meaning born from the soil seek to establish an irrefutable primordial right to belong and are often employed in politically charged attempts to exclude outsiders In The Perils of Belonging Peter Geschiere traces the concept of autochthony back to the classical period and incisively explores the idea in two very different contexts Cameroon and the Netherlands In both countries the momentous economic and political changes following the end of the cold war fostered anxiety over migration For Cameroonians the question of who belongs where rises to the fore in political struggles between different tribes while the Dutch invoke autochthony in fierce debates over the integration of immigrants This fascinating comparative perspective allows Geschiere to examine the emotional appeal of autochthony as well as its dubious historical basis and to shed light on a range of important issues such as multiculturalism national citizenship and migration

Eastern and Southern Africa Debby Potts, T.A.S. Bowyer-Bower, 2016-02-04 A unique and comprehensive introduction to contemporary development issues in East and Southern Africa and represents a significant departure from the often descriptive approach adopted by existing regional and development texts on African regions Each contribution is carefully chosen to highlight the theoretical basis to development issues and the practical problems of implementing development plans in this vital subregion Overall this produces comprehensive and balanced coverage of historical economic political and social issues The twin issues of globalisation and modernisation give the book a clear focus The Nature of Politics Annette A. LaRocco, 2024-04-16 This case study of Botswana focuses on the state building qualities of biodiversity conservation in southern Africa Drawing on extensive fieldwork Annette A LaRocco argues that discourses and practices related to biodiversity conservation are essential to state building in the postcolonial era These discourses and practices invoke the ways the state exerts authority over people places and resources enacts and remakes territorial control crafts notions of ideal citizenship and identity and structures economic relationships at the local national and global levels The book's key innovation is its conceptualization of the conservation estate a term most often used as an apolitical descriptor denoting land set aside for the purpose of conservation LaRocco argues that this description is inadequate and proposes a novel and much needed alternative definition that is tied to its political elements The components of conservation control over land policing of human behavior and structuring of the authority that allows or disallows certain subjectivities render conservation a political phenomenon that can be analyzed separately from considerations of nature or wildlife In doing so it addresses a gap in the scholarship of rural African politics which focuses overwhelmingly on productive agrarian dynamics and often fails to recognize that land nonuse can be as politically significant and wide reaching as land use Botswana is an ideal empirical case study upon which to base these theoretical claims With 39 percent of its land set aside for conservation Botswana is home to large populations of wildlife particularly charismatic megafauna such as the largest herd of elephants on the continent Utilizing more than two hundred interviews participant observation and document analysis this book examines a series of conservation policies and their reception by people living on the conservation estate These phenomena include securitized

antipoaching enforcement a national hunting ban 2014 19 restrictions on using wildlife products forced evictions from conservation areas limitations on mobility and freedom of movement the political economy of Botswana's wildlife tourism industry and the conservation of globally important charismatic megafauna species      Thinking Blue / Writing Red Stephen Tumino, 2024-08-08 Thinking Blue Writing Red interrogates contemporary culture across a range of texts from the pandemic Covid and Trump Speak to high theory Melville's narratives and popular culture Beyoncé's Formation and Super Bowl performance Twin Peaks metamodern cli-fi films Inspired by Derrida's idea of the secret Tumino examines the significance of social movements Black Lives Matter Occupy alter globalization and naïve art Darger Ryden to argue that these texts speak of the secrets that capitalism cannot speak Contending that the cultural surfaces narrate only the nonsecret that to see the social logic of the culture one must dig into what Bruno Latour questions as the deep dark below Thinking Blue Writing Red reads these texts to tease out the underlying narratives of the culture of capital This book will be of interest to students in several disciplines including philosophy literary and cultural studies film studies women's studies critical race studies history LGBTQ studies and environmental studies      The Sacred Language of the Abakuá Lydia Cabrera, 2020-12-28 In 1988 Lydia Cabrera 1899 1991 published La lengua sagrada de los igos an Abaku phrasebook that is to this day the largest work available on any African diaspora community in the Americas In the early 1800s in Cuba enslaved Africans from the Cross River region of southeastern Nigeria and southwestern Cameroon created Abaku societies for protection and mutual aid Abaku rites reenact mythic legends of the institution's history in Africa using dance chants drumming symbolic writing herbs domestic animals and masked performers to represent African ancestors Criminalized and scorned in the colonial era Abaku members were at the same time contributing to the creation of a unique Cuban culture including rumba music now considered a national treasure Translated for the first time into English Cabrera's lexicon documents phrases vital to the creation of a specific African derived identity in Cuba and presents the first insider's view of this African heritage This text presents thoroughly researched commentaries that link hundreds of entries to the context of mythic rites skilled ritual performance and the influence of Abaku in Cuban society and popular music Generously illustrated with photographs and drawings the volume includes a new introduction to Cabrera's writing as well as appendices that situate this important work in Cuba's history With the help of living Abaku specialists in Cuba and the US Ivor L Miller and P Gonz lez G mes C sseres have translated Cabrera's Spanish into English for the first time while keeping her meanings and cultivated style intact opening this seminal work to new audiences and propelling its legacy in African diaspora studies
