Rural Roads And Poverty Alleviation John Howe, Peter Richards, J D G F Howe, 2019-06-04 This book analyses the use of rural road networks and the causes and effects of road programmes in the areas of personal travel education health and poverty alleviation It discusses the criteria which are being used for rural road selection and their impact in Egypt India Botswana and Thailand Rural Roads and Poverty Alleviation J. Howe, 1998 The Impact of Rural Roads on Poverty Alleviation J. Howe, 1997 The Impact of Rural Roads on Poverty Alleviation John Howe, 1981 Working paper comprising a literature survey on the impact of rural area road construction on poverty alleviation in developing countries examines theoretical principles and reviews studies and empirical evidence on the impact of road investments and road transport on economic and social development rural income income distribution and access to education health services and other social services Bibliography Rural Roads and Poverty Alleviation, 1982 Basic Needs and Employment P.J. Richards, M.A. El-Hawary, T.Y. El-Reedy, 1982 Choosing Rural Road Investments to Help Reduce Poverty Dominique Van de Walle, 2000 A change in the transport sector's current approach to selecting rural road investments is warranted A proposed approach builds on some of the poverty focused hybrid methods found in recent rural road appraisals recognizing that an important share of the benefits to the poor from rural roads cannot be measured in monetary terms Design and Appraisal of Rural Transport Infrastructure Jerry Lebo, Dieter Schelling, 2001-01-01 Printed on Demand Limited stock is held for this title If you would like to order 30 copies or more please contact books.worldbank.org Contact books.worldbank.org if currently unavailable This paper is part of a four volume series of publications on rural transport promoted by the World Bank's Rural Transport Thematic Group under the aegis of its knowledge management activities The four volumes are Options for Managing and Financing Rural Transport Infrastructure Improving Rural Mobility Developing Rural Transport Policies and Strategies and this paper on Design and Appraisal of Rural Transport Infrastructure Rural Road Maintenance Chris Donnges, Geoff A. Edmonds, Bjorn Johannessen, 2007 Provides an analysis of rural road maintenance in the Asian region Impact of Rural Roads on Poverty Alleviation in Developing Countries John Howe, 1998 Growth, Inequality, and Poverty in Rural China Shenggen Fan, Linxiu Zhang, Xiaobo Zhang, 2002-01-01 Growth inequality and poverty Public capital e investment Conceptual framework and model Data estimation and results Choosing Rural Road Investments to Help Reduce Poverty Dominique P. van de Walle, 2016 A change in the transport sector's current approach to selecting rural road investments is warranted A proposed approach builds on some of the poverty focused hybrid methods found in recent rural road appraisals recognizing that an important share of the benefits to the poor from rural roads cannot be measured in monetary terms Van de Walle examines how rural road investment projects should be selected and appraised when the objective is poverty reduction After critically reviewing past and current practices van de Walle develops an operational approach grounded in a public economics framework in which concerns of equity and efficiency are inseparable information is incomplete in important ways and resources are limited She addresses a key problem that an important share of the benefits to the poor from rural roads cannot be measured in monetary terms The selection formula she proposes aims to identify places where poverty and economic potential are high and access is low She illustrates the method using data for and project experience in Vietnam Among the advantages of proceeding as outlined in her proposal This approach holds the hope of building capacity and is participatory it extracts local information that may not be readily available to the central government and it appears to be feasible because it relies on local authorities participating in the appraisal of subprojects This paper a product of Public Economics Development Research Group is part of a larger effort in the group to study the impact of transport and other physical infrastructure on poverty Copies of the paper are available free from the World Bank 1818 H Street NW Washington DC 20433 The author may be contacted at dvandewalle@worldbank.org

Income Distribution and Employment Programme John Howe,1981 Road Development, Economic Growth, and Poverty Reduction in China Shenggen Fan,Connie Chan-Kang,2005-01-01 Since 1985 the Chinese government has given high priority to building roads particularly high quality roads that connect industrial centers This report evaluates the contribution roads have made to poverty reduction and economic growth in China over the last two decades It disaggregates road infrastructure into different classes to account for differences in their quality and then estimates the impact of road investments on overall economic growth agricultural growth urban growth urban poverty reduction and rural poverty reduction The report makes the case for a greater focus on low quality and rural roads in future infrastructure investment strategies in China It does so by showing how investing in low quality and rural roads will generate larger marginal returns raise more people out of poverty per yuan invested and reduce regional development disparity more sharply than investing in high quality roads The study s findings will have considerable implications for China s infrastructure policy Rural Roads and Poverty Alleviation J. Howe,P. Richards,1993 When Do Rural Roads Benefit the Poor and How? Hemamala Hettige,2006 Chasing the Chinese Dream William N. Brown,2021-06-01 This open access book explores the historical cultural and philosophical contexts that have made anti poverty the core of Chinese society since Liberation in 1949 and why poverty alleviation measures evolved from the simplistic aid of the 1950s to Xi Jinping s precision poverty alleviation and its goal of eliminating absolute poverty by 2020 The book also addresses the implications of China s experience for other developing nations tackling not only poverty but such issues as pandemics rampant urbanization and desertification exacerbated by global warming The first of three parts draws upon interviews of rural and urban Chinese from diverse backgrounds and local and national leaders These interviews conducted in even the remotest areas of the country offer candid insights into the challenges that have forced China to continually evolve its programs to resolve even the most intractable cases of poverty The second part explores the historic cultural and philosophical roots of old China s meritocratic government and how its ancient Chinese ethics have led to modern Chinese socialism s stance that poverty amidst plenty is immoral Dr Huang Chengwei one of China's foremost anti poverty experts explains the challenges faced at each stage as China's anti poverty measures evolved over 70 years to emphasize enablement over aid and to foster bottom up initiative and entrepreneurialism culminating in Xi Jinping's precision poverty alleviation The book also addresses why national economic development alone cannot reduce poverty poverty alleviation programs must be people centered with measurable and accountable practices that reach even to household level which China has done with its First Secretary program The third part explores the potential for adopting China's practices in other nations including the potential for replicating China's successes in developing countries through such measures as the Belt and Road Initiative This book also addresses prevalent misperceptions about China's growing global presence and why other developing nations must address historic systemic causes of poverty and inequity before they can undertake sustainable poverty alleviation measures of their own

Sustainability of a Government Targeted Credit Program Shahidur R. Khandker,Zahed H. Khan,M. A. Baqui Khalily,1995-01-01 World Bank Technical Paper No 304 Reviews the status and availability in developing countries of photovoltaic PV technology and looks at the prospects for using this technology in light of current energy use and costs of other energy sources The report provides the necessary background information and highlights the questions raised and the calculations that must be made whenever PV applications are being considered in the developing world Rural Poverty in Developing Countries Mr.Mahmood Hasan Khan,2000-04-01 In most developing countries poverty is more widespread and severe in rural than in urban areas The author reviews some important aspects of rural poverty and draws key implications for public policy He presents a policy framework for reducing poverty taking into account the functional differences and overlap between the rural poor Several policy options are delineated and explained including stable management of the macroeconomic environment transfer of assets investment in and access to the physical and social infrastructure access to credit and jobs and provision of safety nets Finally some guideposts are identified for assessing strategies to reduce rural poverty Public Expenditure,Growth,And Poverty Shenggen Fan,2008-08-20
