Rural Development In Ireland A Challenge For The 1990s:

Rural Development in Ireland Michael Murray, John Greer, 1993 Combining revised presentations to the 1992 Annual Conference of the Irish Planning Institution and commissioned papers 16 studies report on sectarian social and policy issues related to rural development in both Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland The topics include agriculture forestry tourism housing health care schools government and community participation in making policy and ongoing programs No index Acidic paper Distributed in the US by Ashgate Annotation copyright by Book News Inc Portland OR Innovations in Rural Areas, 2003 New Turns in the History of Education in Ireland Deirdre Raftery, 2023-06-27 The chapters in this book offer a range of impressive new studies on the history of education in Ireland based on detailed research and drawing on important sources This book also serves to show the healthy state of the history of education in Ireland In particular the book also seeks to understand how both teachers and pupils in Ireland experienced education and how they received education policies and education change The lived reality of education is woven through the chapters in this book while the impact of policy on education practice is illuminated many times and with great clarity This book is a very important contribution not only to the history of education but also more widely to social history women s history church history and political history It was originally published as a special issue of the journal History of Education Two Paths, One Purpose : Voluntary Action in Ireland, North and South Nicholas Acheson, 2004 Economic and Social Cohesion in Europe Achille Hannequart, 1992-10 Examines ways in which Structural Funding could be reformed to avert potential crises of uneven development within the EC Negotiated Governance and Public Policy in Ireland George Taylor, 2005-08-06 Over the past ten years the Irish polity has experienced profound change The pessimism that had engulfed Irish society during the 1980s has given way to a new found confidence one that befits its status as an emerging confident and cosmopolitan European state This book provides a theoretical examination of this startling turnaround in Ireland and details the developments that have taken place in key areas of public policy over the last decade civil service reform the welfare state environmental policy and rural development Housing Contemporary Ireland Michelle Norris, Declan Redmond, 2007-03-11 This book the first comprehensive accessible review of housing in Ireland for many years introduces key housing developments and also reports on the findings of the latest research on the transformation of the sector in the past decade Topics include the impact of the house price boom on wealth and affordability the urban renewal schemes and private rented housing the management of social housing the accommodation of Travellers and homeless people rural housing policy and politics During the past decade Ireland s economic growth has attracted international attention This book analyses the consequences of that growth on housing and serves as a primer to other countries on the complexities of delivering sustainable housing solutions in the face of economic success As such this book will be of interest to students practitioners and policy makers involved in the housing field worldwide and to anyone who wishes to learn more about the causes and effects of Ireland's recent housing boom Anthropology of Policy Cris Shore, Susan Wright, 2003-12-16 Arguing that policy has become an increasingly central concept and instrument in the organisation of contemporary societies and that it now impinges on all areas of life so that it is virtually impossible to ignore or escape its influence this book argues that the study of policy leads straight into issues at the heart of anthropology

Regional Development in the 1990s Ron Martin, Peter Townroe, 2013-10-18 This book documents the changing nature and challenge of regional development in Britain and Ireland in the final decade of this century In the first half of this book region by region profiles review the experience of the eighties and reflect on the present climate assessing problems and opportunities The second half provides 25 commentaries on changes influencing the development of regions from questions of industry technology and employment to the impact of national policy and 1992 and the prospects and capacity for regional policy and development Combat Poverty Agency Pre-Budget Submission 1990: Poverty - an issue for the 1990s ,

Understanding Contemporary Ireland Brendan Bartley, Rob Kitchin, 2007 This book provides a detailed student friendly overview of Ireland in the twenty first century and the remarkable economic and social transformations that have occurred since the late 1980s The Celtic Tiger phenomenon has made Ireland the focus of much attention in recent years Other countries have openly declared that they want to follow the Irish economic and social model Yet there is no book that gives a comprehensive spatially informed analysis of the Irish experience This book fills that gap Divided into four parts planning and development the economy the political landscape and population and social issues the chapters provide an explanation of a particular aspect of Ireland and Irish life accompanied by illustrative material In particular the authors reveal how the transformations that have occurred are uneven and unequal in their effects across the country and highlight the challenges now facing Irish society and policy makers Written by experts in the field it is a key text for those wishing to understand the contemporary Irish economic and social landscape

Poverty Today: Index to Issues 01-27 (December 1987-April 1995) , Poverty Today Issue 09 (March 1990) ,

Doing Development Differently David Johnson, Stephen Arthur Royle, Susan Hodgett, 2007 There is longstanding public academic and governmental recognition that regionalism is important in defining a nation and there is an awareness that socio economically healthy regions are vital to the national well being of the broader state Yet all countries possess regional socioeconomic disparities of greater or lesser degrees This collection of 17 articles by scholars and practitioners from Ireland Nova Scotia New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island documents interventions that address regional disparity by challenging established patterns and seeking to build community capacity Participatory democracy the values of localism small group dynamics co operativism grass roots activism and decision making that flows bottom up are slowly informing public policy initiatives on both sides of the Atlantic

An Enlarged Europe Louis Albrechts, Sally Hardy, Mark Hart, Anastasios Katos, 2013-12-19 The political and economic geography of Europe is changing the European Community is expanding its boundaries towards EFTA and is resuming a closer association with Central and Eastern

European regions engaged in radical restructuring As EC integration accelerates there is the prospect of intensified inter regional competition This book divided into five parts examines in detail the changes and the challenge for policy makers The introduction draws out the central themes of the book addressing EC regional performance and future indicators the enlargement and changing map of Europe and the implications for the EC of Eastern European changes The second part deals with EC issues particularly focusing on the economic and spatial impact of European integration Part 3 addresses Eastern European issues and Part 4 covers the Peripheral Regions The final part is devoted to a policy debate concluding with a policy agenda for the forthcoming decade
