Kinseng, Arya Hadi Dharmawan, Juara Lubis, Annisa Utami Seminar, 2019-07-24 Most of Indonesian population live in rural areas and the majority of poor people also live in rural areas namely 13 47% in rural and 7 26 in urban In the past decades rural communities as well as the ecology have changed fundamentally Many factors contribute to this transformation development programs from the government as well as from private and NGOs the diffusion of information technology the development of transportation facilities the rise of education and health levels interaction with outsiders and so on A main driving factor for rural development has been agrarian liberalization This can be seen in the development of transnational plantations which trigger land grab and rise of land demand Development through liberalization also had a negative impact since the development of modern and industrialized agriculture affected the environment and the expansion of plantations caused changes in the agricultural systems of villages and the life orientation of local communities Interventions in villages by private companies intermediary institutions no doubt have brought structural transformations in rural local institutions livelihood systems population structures ecosystems and relation to the land Unfortunately the social economic cultural and ecological transformation of the rural community not always produces improvement of quality of life for the rural community At the same time information and data related to rural transformations are scarcely available at research institutions universities NGOs private enterprises Rural Socio Economic Transformation Agrarian Ecology Communication and Community Development Perspectives discusses many aspects of the social economic cultural and ecological transformation of rural life in Indonesia and is of interest to academics and policy makers interested or involved in these areas

Indonesia William C. Younce, 2001 Indonesia Issues Historical Background Bibliography Development of Small-scale Industries During the New Order Government in Indonesia Tulus Tahi Hamonangan Tambunan, 2024-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 As in many other LDCs in Indonesia small scale industries SSIs are important particularly with respect to the creation of employment opportunities SSIs are expected to absorb many millions of workers who have been displaced by current economic crisis This work seeks to explain the pattern of development of SSIs in Indonesia within a broader theoretical framework It also deals with a number of SSI development related aspects that in Indonesia so far have never or rarely been studied such as the formation of strategic alliance cluster development and application of theories of flexible specialization to the LDCs The book also tries to examine empirically the effects of the current economic crisis and to assess theoretically the likely impact of the full implementation of the agreed IMF reform package on SSI development in the country Main problems faced by small producers and the government policy environment are highlighted through several detailed examples

Environmental Change in South-East Asia Raymond Bryant, Michael Parnwell, 2005-08-03 Environmental Change in South East Asia brings together scholars journalists consultants and NGO activists to explore the interaction of people politics and ecology Ostensibly green activities plantation forestry eco tourism hydro electricity are revealed as guises used by elites to promote their own political and economic interests Highlighting fatal flaws in presently exclusive economic and ecological approaches the authors stress that neither the quest for sustainable development nor the process of environmental change itself can be understood without reference to political processes
