Rural Landscapes And Communities Essays Presented To Desmond Mccourt:

Rural Landscapes and Communities Desmond McCourt, 1986 Negotiating the North Sarah Semple, Alexandra Sanmark, Frode Iversen, Natascha Mehler, 2020-06-11 This book brings together the cumulative results of a three year project focused on the assemblies and administrative systems of Scandinavia Britain and the North Atlantic islands in the 1st and 2nd millennia AD In this volume we integrate a wide range of historical cartographic archaeological field based and onomastic data pertaining to early medieval and medieval administrative practices geographies and places of assembly in Norway Sweden Denmark Iceland the Faroe Islands Scotland and eastern England This transnational perspective has enabled a new understanding of the development of power structures in early medieval northern Europe and the maturation of these systems in later centuries under royal control In a series of richly illustrated chapters we explore the emergence and development of mechanisms for consensus We begin with a historiographical exploration of assembly research that sets the intellectual agenda for the chapters that follow We then examine the emergence and development of the thing in Scandinavia and its export to the lands colonised by the Norse We consider more broadly how assembly practices may have developed at a local level yet played a significant role in the consolidation and at times regulation of elite power structures Presenting a fresh perspective on the agency and power of the thing and cognate types of local and regional assembly this interdisciplinary volume provides an invaluable in depth insight into the people places laws and consensual structures that shaped the early medieval and medieval kingdoms of northern Europe

The Ordnance Survey and Modern Irish Literature C  il  n Parsons, 2016-04-14 The Ordnance Survey and Modern Irish Literature offers a fresh new look at the origins of literary modernism in Ireland tracing a history of Irish writing through James Clarence Mangan J M Synge W B Yeats James Joyce and Samuel Beckett Beginning with the archives of the Ordnance Survey which mapped Ireland between 1824 and 1846 the book argues that one of the sources of Irish modernism lies in the attempt by the Survey to produce a comprehensive archive of a land emerging rapidly into modernity The Ordnance Survey instituted a practice of depicting the country as modern fragmented alienated and troubled both diagnosing and representing a landscape burdened with the paradoxes of colonial modernity Subsequent literature returns in varying ways both imitative and combative to the complex representational challenge that the Survey confronts and seeks to surmount From a colonial mapping project to an engine of nationalist imagining and finally a framework by which to evade the claims of the postcolonial nation the Ordnance Survey was a central imaginative source of what makes Irish modernist writing both formally innovative and politically challenging Drawing on literary theory studies of space the history of cartography postcolonial theory archive theory and the field Irish Studies The Ordnance Survey and Modern Irish Literature paints a picture of Irish writing deeply engaged in the representation of a multi layered landscape

A New History of Ireland: Ireland under the Union, II, 1870-1921 Daibhi O. Croinin, William Edward Vaughan, 2005 A New History of Ireland, Volume II Theodore William Moody, Art

Cosgrove, Francis X. Martin, Francis John Byrne, 2008-11-06 A wide range of national and international scholars in every field of study have produced studies of the archaeology art culture geography geology history language law literature music and related topics to produce a comprehensive and authoritative account of Irish history A New History of Ireland, Volume II

Art Cosgrove, 2008-11-06 A New History of Ireland is the largest scholarly project in modern Irish history In 9 volumes it provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the Middle Ages down to the present day Volume II opens with a character study of medieval Ireland and a panoramic view of the country c 1169 followed by nineteen chapters of narrative history with a survey of Land and People c 1300 There are further chapters on Gaelic and colonial society economy and trade literature in Irish French and English architecture and sculpture manuscripts and illuminations and coinage A New History of Ireland, Volume VI

W. E. Vaughan, 2010-04-01 A New History of Ireland is the largest scholarly project in modern Irish history In 9 volumes it provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the Middle Ages down to the present day Volume VI opens with a character study of the period followed by ten chapters of narrative history and a study of Ireland in 1914 It includes further chapters on the economy literature the Irish language music arts education administration and the public service and emigration An Archaeology of the English Atlantic World, 1600 – 1700

Charles E. Orser, Jr., 2018-07-05 An Archaeology of the British Atlantic World 1600 1700 is the first book to apply the methods of modern world archaeology to the study of the seventeenth century English colonial world Charles E Orser Jr explores a range of material evidence of daily life collected from archaeological excavations throughout the Atlantic region including England Ireland western Africa Native North America and the eastern United States He considers the archaeological record together with primary texts by contemporary writers Giving particular attention to housing fortifications delftware and stoneware Orser offers new interpretations for each type of artefact His study demonstrates how the archaeological record expands our understanding of the Atlantic world at a critical moment of its expansion as well as to the development of the modern Western world The Cambridge History of Ireland: Volume 1, 600-1550

Brendan Smith, Thomas Bartlett, 2018-04-26 The thousand years explored in this book witnessed developments in the history of Ireland that resonate to this day Interspersing narrative with detailed analysis of key themes the first volume in the Cambridge History of Ireland presents the latest thinking on key aspects of the medieval Irish experience The contributors are leading experts in their fields and present their original interpretations in a fresh and accessible manner New perspectives are offered on the politics artistic culture religious beliefs and practices social organisation and economic activity that prevailed on the island in these centuries At each turn the question is asked to what extent were these developments unique to Ireland The openness of Ireland to outside influences and its capacity to influence the world beyond its shores are recurring themes Underpinning the book is a comparative outward looking approach that sees Ireland as an integral but exceptional component of medieval Christian Europe The Death of the Irish Language Reg Hindley, 2012-10-12 Using a blend of statistical analysis with field survey among native Irish speakers Reg Hindley explores the reasons for the decline of the Irish language and investigates the relationships between geographical environment and language retention He puts Irish into a broader European context as a European minority language and assesses its present position and prospects Common Ground William J. Smyth, Kevin Whelan, Thomas Jones Hughes, 1988 Cattle in Ancient and Modern Ireland Fergus Kelly, James H. McAdam, Michael O'Connell, 2016-04-26 Cattle have been the mainstay of Irish farming since the Neolithic began in Ireland almost 6000 years ago Cattle and especially cows have been important in the life experiences of most Irish people directly and or through legends such as the T in B Cuailnge The Cattle raid of Cooley In this book diverse aspects of cattle in Ireland from the circumstances of their first introduction to recent and ongoing developments in the management of grasslands still the main food source for cattle in Ireland are explored in thirteen essays written by experts New information is presented and several aspects relating to cattle husbandry and the interactions of cattle and people that have hitherto received little or no attention are discussed The Kingdom of the Ryans Malcolm Campbell, 1997 This work is an important contribution to the new historiography on Irish emigration which has changed our understanding of the Irish emigrant experience adding another dimension to the Irish diaspora following the devastating series of famines in Ireland House Life Donna Birdwell-Pheasant, Denise Lawrence-Züniga, 2020-06-04 This book which fills a gap on the materiality of lived relations examines households within the context of their immediate physical surroundings of home and shows how human interactions are reflected in built forms Houses are dynamic participants in family life in many ways They often pre date the origins and outlast the life spans of their inhabitants but they can exert a powerful influence on the organization of behaviors and the values of family members as well as on the forms and flows of family life across the generations Constituting wealth investment security and inheritance they are an objective in and of themselves in many domestic strategies Drawing on developments within anthropology archaeology architecture and social history the authors demonstrate through detailed case studies how household or family relations can usefully be mined to re situate social theory in both space and time Space boundaries family cycles historic changes migration patterns ethnicity memory and gender are all interrogated for the light they shed on how people interact with the physical world around them and what this means culturally and symbolically Europe is an especially rich focus for this kind of analysis because it is distinguished by its long well documented history and a recent period of intense change Maps and Map-making in Local History Jacinta Prunty, 2004 This book introduces the local history practitioner to the world of maps the special character and appeal of maps as an historical source why they are invaluable in local history research and questions that must be asked of them The historical background to map creation in Ireland is outlined with details on the major classes of cartographic and associated material and the repositories wherein they may be found The Plantation series travel and county maps maps as part of published reports and journals military mapping estate and property mapping and maritime maps historic Ordnance Survey and Valuation Office maps and more recent OS mapping including the 1 50 000 Discovery series are discussed A section on essential map reading skills including matters of scale representation and accuracy will help equip the researcher to explore this coded world Step by step guidance for starting out to locate maps relevant to one s study area is provided Case studies of working with maps in local history are offered as practical examples of what can be done and guidelines for map making are also included
