Rural Livelihoods Crises And Responses:

Rural Livelihoods Henry Bernstein, Ben Crow, Hazel Johnson, 1992 This book is concerned with the question of how people in developing countries survive and how their lives have been affected by the great changes since the Second World War Throughout large parts of the developing world rural livelihoods are in crisis Even in those parts of the third world where there has been growth of food output that growth has rarely been translated into a commensurate expansion of livelihoods Frequently both economic stagnation and economic growth are translated into suffering for those who live in the countryside Many people are aware that there is a crisis of livelihoods in sub Saharan Africa but the understanding of that crisis rarely transcends simple conceptions of food or environmental crisis or the inadequacy of states the ubiquity of crisis is rarely comprehended This book addresses the pressing question of rural poverty It examines the diverse human implications of rural change the various crises of rural livelihoods which arise from change and the survival strategies of individuals and households It describes the great processes of agrarian transformation which have fundamentally altered rural livelihoods in developing countries and identifies some of the dilemmas for public action which arise from agrarian transformation and the crises of rural livelihoods The contributors draw upon a range of disciplinary approaches to the subject including anthropology sociology economics political economy agricultural science and development studies

Rural Livelihoods, Resources, and Coping with Crisis in Indonesia M. J. Titus, Paul P. M. Burgers, 2008 Most literature on the economic crisis in Indonesia has focused on the negative macro economic impacts during the crisis years of 1997 99 The case studies presented in this book take a different perspective With a longitudinal research perspective this comparative study analyses a wide variety of responses to the crisis among communities and households The case studies in this book cover the coping and adapting mechanisms of rural households under a variety of resource use practices and resource use regulations in different areas of Indonesia

Moving in Circles Jimu, Ignasio Malizani, 2016-02-22 Moving in Circles draws on Walter Rodney s treatise on underdevelopment Underdevelopment is to be associated with various factors contributing to the uncertainties that lack of progress begets regardless of its genesis Some of the indicators of this condition are pervasive poverty liquidation of productive assets and precarious livelihoods Uncertainty stands out as a cost as it is also a catalyst for low investment in agriculture low returns non agricultural activities inconsistent approach to planning and rule of law and more generally socio economic backwardness Development should in a broad sense entail meeting human needs actualization of local and domestic potential and liberation from uncertainty In the long term for development talk to be meaningful there is a need for progressive transformation of underlying structures improvement in productive capacity and general adherence to principles of good governance openness and transparency accountability and meaningful popular engagement
