A Russian Journal John Steinbeck, 1999-12-01 Steinbeck and Capa s account of their journey through Cold War Russia is a classic piece of reportage and travel writing Featuring newly reset high resolution black and white photography by Robert Capa A Penguin Classic Just after the Iron Curtain fell on Eastern Europe Pulitzer Prize winning author John Steinbeck and acclaimed war photographer Robert Capa ventured into the Soviet Union to report for the New York Herald Tribune This rare opportunity took the famous travelers not only to Moscow and Stalingrad now Volgograd but through the countryside of the Ukraine and the Caucasus Hailed by the New York Times as superb when it first appeared in 1948 A Russian Journal is the distillation of their journey and remains a remarkable memoir and unique historical document What they saw and movingly recorded in words and on film was what Steinbeck called the great other side there the private life of the Russian people Unlike other Western reporting about Russia at the time A Russian Journal is free of ideological obsessions Rather Steinbeck and Capa recorded the grim realities of factory workers government clerks and peasants as they emerged from the rubble of World War II represented here in Capa s stirring photographs alongside Steinbeck s masterful prose Through it all we are given intimate glimpses of two artists at the height of their powers answering their need to document human struggle This edition features an introduction by Steinbeck scholar Susan Shillinglaw Penguin Classics is the leading publisher of classic literature in the English speaking world representing a global bookshelf of the best works throughout history and across genres and disciplines Readers trust the series to provide authoritative texts enhanced by introductions and notes by distinguished scholars and contemporary authors as well as up to date translations by award winning translators

Spirit is a Bone, 2015 The series of portraits in this book which include Pussy Riot member Yekaterina Samutsevic and many other Moscow citizens were created by a machine a facial recognition system recently developed in Moscow for public security and border control surveillance The result is more akin to a digital life mask than a photograph a three dimensional facsimile of the face that can be easily rotated and closely scrutinised What is significant about this camera is that it is designed to make portraits without the co operation of the subject four lenses operating in tandem to generate a full frontal image of the face ostensibly looking directly into the camera even if the subject himself is unaware of being photographed 00The system was designed for facial recognition purposes in crowded areas such as subway stations railroad stations stadiums concert halls or other public areas but also for photographing people who would normally resist being photographed Indeed any subject encountering this type of camera is rendered passive because no matter which direction he or she looks the face is always rendered looking forward and stripped bare of shadows make up disguises or even poise

Self-Portrait with Russian Piano Wolf Wondratschek, 2020-09-08 A legendary literary figure who initiated a one man Beat Generation in his native Germany Wolf Wondratschek is eccentric monomaniacal romantic his texts are imbued with a wonderful reckless nonchalance Now he tells a story of a man looking back on his life in an honest Portrait of the Artist as an Old Man Vienna is an uncanny magical and sometimes brutally alienating city The past lives on in the cafes where lost souls come to kill time and hash over the bygone glories of the twentieth century or maybe just a recent love affair Here in one of these cafes an anonymous narrator meets a strange character like someone out of a novel a decrepit old Russian named Suvorin A Soviet pianist of international renown Suvorin committed career suicide when he developed a violent distaste for the sound of applause This eccentric gentleman sometimes charming sometimes sulky sometimes disconcertingly frank knows the end of his life is approaching and allows himself to be convinced to tell his life story Over a series of coffee dates punctuated by confessions anecdotes and rages and by the narrator s schemes to keep his quarry talking a strained friendship develops between the two men and it soon becomes difficult to tell who is more dependent on whom Rhapsodic and melancholic with shades of Vladimir Nabokov W G Sebald Hans Keilson and Thomas Bernhard Wolf Wondratschek s Self Portrait with Russian Piano is a literary sonata circling the eternal question of whether beauty music and passion are worth the sacrifices some people are compelled to make for them A romantic in a madhouse To let Wondratschek s voice be drowned in the babble of today s literature would be a colossal mistake Patrick S skind

The Book of Veles JONAS. BENDIKSEN,2021-07-13 Photographs of contemporary Veles are intertwined with fragments from an archaeological discovery also called the Book of Veles a cryptic collection of 40 ancient wooden boards discovered in Russia in 1919 written in a proto Slavic language It was claimed to be a history of the Slavic people and the god Veles himself the pre Christian Slavic god of mischief chaos and deception

Portrait of a Russian Province Catherine Evtuhov,2011-11-13 Several stark premises have long prevailed in our approach to Russian history It was commonly assumed that Russia had always labored under a highly centralized and autocratic imperial state The responsibility for this lamentable state of affairs was ultimately assigned to the profoundly agrarian character of Russian society The countryside home to the overwhelming majority of the nation's population was considered a harsh world of cruel landowners and ignorant peasants and a strong hand was required for such a crude society A number of significant conclusions flowed from this understanding Deep and abiding social divisions obstructed the evolution of modernity as experienced naturally in other parts of Europe so there was no Renaissance or Reformation merely a derivative Enlightenment and only a distorted capitalism And since only despotism could contain these volatile social forces it followed that the 1917 Revolution was an inevitable explosion resulting from these intolerable contradictions and so too were the blood soaked realities of the Soviet regime that came after In short the sheer immensity of its provincial backwardness could explain almost everything negative about the course of Russian history This book undermines these preconceptions Through her close study of the province of Nizhnii Novgorod in the nineteenth century Catherine Evtuhov demonstrates how nearly everything we thought we knew about the dynamics of Russian society was wrong Instead of peasants ground down by poverty and ignorance we find skilled farmers talented artisans and craftsmen and enterprising tradespeople Instead of an exclusively centrally administered state we discover effective and participatory local government Instead of pervasive ignorance we are shown a lively cultural scene and an active middle class Instead of a defining Russian exceptionalism we find a world recognizable to any historian of nineteenth century Europe Drawing on a wide range of Russian social environmental economic cultural and intellectual history and synthesizing it with deep archival research of the Nizhnii Novgorod province Evtuhov overturns a simplistic view of the Russian past Rooted in but going well beyond provincial affairs her book challenges us with an entirely new perspective on Russia's historical trajectory Material World Peter Menzel, Charles C. Mann, 1994 A photo journey through the homes and lives of 30 families revealing culture and economic levels around the world Modern Russia Julius Wilhelm Albert von Eckardt, 1870 Portrait of Myself Margaret Bourke-White, 2016-08-09 This is the story of the internationally acclaimed American woman Margaret Bourke White who for over thirty years made photographic history as the first photographer to see the artistic and storytelling possibilities in American industry as the first to write social criticism with a lens and as the most distinguished and venturesome foreign correspondent with a camera to report wars, politics and social and political revolution on three continents In this poignant autobiography Bourke White details her fight against Parkinson's disease and recounts tales of her struggles to master her art and craft of photographing Stalin, Gandhi and many other notables of being torpedoed off North Africa while reporting World War II of flying combat missions of photographing the dread murder camps of Nazi Germany of touring Tobacco Road to produce the book You Have Seen Their Faces with Erskine Caldwell whom she later married of adventures and wonderful picture taking in the mines of South Africa in the frozen North in war-torn Korea Illustrated throughout with over 70 of Margaret Bourke White's fine photographs this is the great life story of a great American greatly yet modestly told

Picturing Russia's Men Allison Leigh, 2020-09-17 Winner of the Heldt Prize for Best Book in Slavic East European and Eurasian Women's and Gender Studies 2021 There was a discontent among Russian men in the nineteenth century that sometimes did not stem from poverty, loss or the threat of war but instead arose from trying to negotiate the paradoxical prescriptions for masculinity which characterized the era Picturing Russia's Men takes a vital new approach to this topic within masculinity and art historical studies by investigating the dissatisfaction that developed from the breakdown in prevailing conceptions of manhood outside of the usual Western European and American contexts By exploring how Russian painters depicted gender norms as they were evolving over the course of the century each chapter shows how artworks provide unique insight into not only those qualities that were supposed to predominate but actually did in lived practice Drawing on a wide variety of source material including previously untranslated letters, journals and contemporary criticism the book explores the deep structures of masculinity to reveal the conflicting desires and aspirations of men in the period In so doing readers are introduced to Russian artists such as Karl Briullov, Pavel Fedotov, Alexander Ivanov, Ivan Kramskoi and Ilya Repin, all of whom produced masterpieces of realist art in dialogue with paintings made in Western European artistic centers The result is a more culturally discursive account of art making in the nineteenth century one that challenges some of the enduring myths of masculinity and provides a fresh interpretive history of what constitutes modernism in the history of art Modern Russia: comprising Russia under Alexander II, Russian communism, The Greek orthodox Church, The Baltic provinces of Russia Julius Wilhelm Albert von Eckardt, 1870
