Rubian Thinkers Ebays On Socioeconomic Thought In The 18th And 19th:

Capital Accumulation and Income Distribution Donald J. Harris, 1978 In Capital Accumulation and Income Distribution economist Donald J Harris offers a profound analysis of the forces shaping economic growth capital accumulation and income inequality within capitalist economies Blending insights from Marxian and Keynesian economics this pioneering work delves into the intricate relationships between investment labor and wealth distribution highlighting the structural contradictions inherent in capitalist systems Harris examines the driving factors behind capital accumulation and their implications for economic development while providing a critical view of how profits wages and rents are distributed across social classes Through a synthesis of classical economic theories he explores the long term dynamics of inequality and the cyclical patterns of capitalist economies Ideal for scholars students and anyone interested in political economy Capital Accumulation and Income Distribution offers a groundbreaking perspective on the economic challenges and imbalances that continue to shape our world today The Antitrust Paradox Robert Bork, 2021-02-22 The most important book on antitrust ever written It shows how antitrust suits adversely affect the consumer by encouraging a costly form of protection for inefficient and uncompetitive small businesses Ethics for the Information Age Michael Jay Quinn, 2005 Ethics for the Information Age offers students a timely balanced and impartial treatment of computer ethics By including an introduction to ethical theories and material on the history of computing the text addresses all the topics of the Social and Professional Issues in the 2001 Model Curricula for Computing developed by the ACM and IEEE Computer Society By introducing ethical theories early and using them throughout the book to evaluate moral problems related to information technology the book helps students develop the ability to reach conclusions and defend them in front of an audience Every issue is studied from the point of view of multiple ethical theories in order to provide a balanced analysis of relevant issues Earlier chapters focus on issues concerned with the individual computer user including email spam intellectual property open source movement and free speech and Web censorship Later chapters focus on issues with greater impact on society as a whole such as privacy computer and network security and computer error The final chapter discusses professionalism and the Software Engineering Code of Ethics It invites students to contemplate the ethical dimensions of decisions computer professionals must frequently make The Politics of Consumption Alan Bradshaw, Norah Campbell, Stephen Dunne, 2013-05 This age of austerity comes on the back of a lengthened period of apparently rampant consumer excess that was a party for which we are all now having to pay A spectacular period of unsustainably funded over indulgence it seems has now given rise to a sobering period of barely fundable mere subsistence Consumption narrated along such lines is a sin which has to be paid for Beyond the deceptive theology of consumption however lies actual politics In May 2012 we hosted a conference at Dublin's Royal Society of the Antiquaries of Ireland in order to analyse and debate the politics of consumption This special issue is the outcome of the discussions which took place during that event It features conceptual and empirical investigations into the politics of consumption a head to head debate on the idea of consumer citizenship a series of notes on the relationship between art politics and consumption and reviews of two recent books Taken together these diverse pieces underline the need for a politically oriented analysis of consumption not only for the sake of informing academic debates but also for the sake of informing contemporary consumption practices Consumption we argue is political to approach it otherwise is to dogmatically seek refuge in a world of fantasy Issue editors Alan Bradshaw Norah Campbell and Stephen Dunne Contributors Ben Fine Kate Soper Peter Armstrong Matthias Zick Varul Eleftheria Lekakis Isleide Fontenelle Adam Arvidsson Detlev Zwick Olga Kravets Stevphen Shukaitis David Mabb Antigoni Memou Femke Kaulingfreks Ruud Kaulingfreks Andreas Chatzidakis Georgios Patsiaouras Gavin Brown and Angus Cameron Haunting Experiences Diane Goldstein, Sylvia Grider, Jeannie Banks Thomas, 2007-09-15 Ghosts and other supernatural phenomena are widely represented throughout modern culture They can be found in any number of entertainment commercial and other contexts but popular media or commodified representations of ghosts can be quite different from the beliefs people hold about them based on tradition or direct experience Personal belief and cultural tradition on the one hand and popular and commercial representation on the other nevertheless continually feed each other They frequently share space in how people think about the supernatural In Haunting Experiences three well known folklorists seek to broaden the discussion of ghost lore by examining it from a variety of angles in various modern contexts Diane E Goldstein Sylvia Ann Grider and Jeannie Banks Thomas take ghosts seriously as they draw on contemporary scholarship that emphasizes both the basis of belief in experience rather than mere fantasy and the usefulness of ghost stories They look closely at the narrative role of such lore in matters such as socialization and gender And they unravel the complex mix of mass media commodification and popular culture that today puts old spirits into new We the Media Dan Gillmor, 2006-01-24 Looks at the emerging phenomenon of online journalism including contexts Weblogs Internet chat groups and email and how anyone can produce news Data-Intensive Text Processing with MapReduce Jimmy Lin, Chris Dyer, 2022-05-31 Our world is being revolutionized by data driven methods access to large amounts of data has generated new insights and opened exciting new opportunities in commerce science and computing applications Processing the enormous quantities of data necessary for these advances requires large clusters making distributed computing paradigms more crucial than ever MapReduce is a programming model for expressing distributed computations on massive datasets and an execution framework for large scale data processing on clusters of commodity servers The programming model provides an easy to understand abstraction for designing scalable algorithms while the execution framework transparently handles many system level details ranging from scheduling to synchronization to fault tolerance This book focuses on MapReduce algorithm design with an emphasis on text processing algorithms common in natural language processing information retrieval and machine learning We introduce the notion of MapReduce design patterns which represent general reusable solutions to commonly occurring problems across a variety of problem domains make toward zero has the potential to destroy an economy based on markets wages and private ownership Almost unnoticed in the niches and hollows of the market system swaths of economic life are beginning to move to a different rhythm Vast numbers of people are changing how they behave and live in ways contrary to the current system of state backed corporate capitalism And as the terrain changes new paths open In this bold and prophetic book Mason shows how from the ashes of the crisis we have the chance to create a more just and sustainable economy Although the dangers ahead are profound he argues that there is cause for hope This is the first time in human history in which equipped with an understanding of what is happening around us we can predict and shape the future Absorbing and provocative Publishers Weekly An original engaging and bracingly articulated vision of real alternatives It is sure to spark many vigorous debates and they are precisely the ones we should be having Naomi Klein New York Times bestselling author of Doppelganger The Second Machine Age: Work, Progress, and Prosperity in a Time of Brilliant Technologies Erik Brynjolfsson, Andrew McAfee, 2014-01-20 The big stories The skills of the new machines technology races ahead Moore's law and the second half of the chessboard The digitization of just about everything Innovation declining or recombining Artificial and human intelligence in the second machine age Computing bounty Beyond GDP The spread The biggest winners stars and superstars Implications of the bounty and the spread Learning to race with machines recommendations for individuals Policy recommendations Long term recommendations Technology and the future which is very different from technology is the future Capital? Armin Beverungen, Anna-Maria Murtola, Gregory Schwartz, 2013-08 The communism of capital What could this awkward turn of phrase mean and what might it signify with regards to the state of the world today Does it merely describe a reality in which communist demands are twisted to become productive of capital a capitalist realism supplemented by a disarmed communist ideology Or does the death of the capitalist utopia mean that capital cannot contain the antagonism expressed by Occupy and other movements anymore and therefore must confront communism upfront Is there hope to be gleaned from a production in common which prefigures a certain communism we can discern at the horizon Or is the communism of capital merely a figure to be destroyed as we seek the communism of communists The 12 contributions to this latest issue of ephemera explore the valances of the paradoxical and seemingly incoherent expression that is the communism of capital Collectively they stake out new territory for the theorisation and organization of political struggle in a context in which capital has become increasingly aware that its age old nemesis might today be lurking at its very heart The Art of Woo G. Richard Shell, Mario Moussa, 2007-10-18 You may need The Art of War to defeat your enemies but if you prefer to win them over read The Art of Woo G Richard Shell and Mario Moussa know what it takes to drive new ideas through complex organizations They have advised thousands of executives from companies such as Google Microsoft and General Electric to organizations like the World Bank and even the FBI s hostage rescue training program In The Art of Woo they present their systematic four step process for winning over even the toughest bosses and most skeptical colleagues Beginning with two powerful self assessments to help readers find their Woo IQ they show how relationship based persuasion works to open hearts and minds Ranging across history from Charles Lindbergh to Sam Walton the authors examine how savvy negotiators use persuasion not confrontation to achieve goals U S News World Report
